BRITAIN ORDERS 400 U. S. PLANES; COST 35 MILLION

Contracts Must Be Filled in 2 Years.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 9.—A $35,000,000 order for 400 military planes has been placed in the United States, the British air ministry announced tonight.

This was regarded as a move to supplement Britain's lagging production and catch up with Germany and Italy in the European air building race.

Two hundred planes were ordered from the Lockheed Aircraft corporation of Burbank, Cal., for general reconnaissance. An order for a similar number of advanced training planes was placed with North American Aviation, Inc., of Inglewood, Cal.

Urged by British Mission.

The purchases were recommended by a British mission, headed by A. H. Self, deputy undersecretary of state for air, which recently visited the United States to seek help in the British air armament race.

J. H. Kindelberger, president of North American Aviation, and Carl B. Squier, vice president of the Lockheed corporation, came to Britain with the returning members of the mission.

British air officials said the American planes contracted for were needed "in comparatively small quantities, but by certain dates" to speed up Britain's air program.

Must Fill Contract in Two Years.

The contracts are to be completed within two years. The inability of five or six other American firms to assure early delivery was a factor in placing the contracts.

The contract with Lockheed is the first military fleet sale by that corporation and the largest foreign order ever placed with an American aircraft company. The plane ordered is a recently developed bombing plane similar in design to the company's all-metal fourteen passenger transport. With twin 1,000 horsepower motors the plane has a top speed of 300 miles per hour with a crew of four.

Builds Only Military Planes.

The North American Aviation company constructs only military aircraft and the training plane contracted for is a low wing, two place ship similar to those used by the United States army. It has a single 400 horse power engine with a top speed of 171 miles per hour.

The plane will be equipped for training students in blind flying. One of the chief criticisms of the British air ministry has been the failure to develop this branch of flying technique.

The storm over fears that Britain was lagging behind Germany in airplane production and was obliged to purchase planes in the United States forced Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain to revamp his cabinet last month and name Sir Kingsley Wood to replace Viscount Swinton as air minister.

Criticize Swinton Program.

Members of parliament had criticized Swinton's program for "muddling and delays." The departure of the mission to purchase planes in the United States caused public alarm over the results of air production which did not conform with government assurances.

British manufacturers declared their plants could produce more planes, but they could not get orders because of red tape. The attack on government policy was led by Viscount Nuffield, Britain's largest motor manufacturer, who only a short time ago agreed to turn over one of his factories for the production of airplane motors. Nuffield had charged the government was putting up another factory at great expense while his was standing idle.

Building Behind Schedule.

The British air force program was scheduled to reach full strength in March this year, but the deficiency became apparent and the mission was dispatched to the United States. A reliable authority calculated early this year that Britain had 1,800 first line planes; France, 1,500; Germany, 1,500, and Italy, 1,400. Britain's goal is 3,360 first line planes by March, 1940.

France, too, is reported to be lagging in plane production and also has made suggestions of making purchases in the United States.

Quiz Kidnaper in Search for Slayer

FINDING OF BOY'S BODY SPURS NEW HUNT BY G-MEN

Two More Suspects Reported Seized.

Miami, Fla., June 9.—[Special.]—Federal agents tonight spurred their search for the kidnap-slayer of little Jimmy Cash, whose body was found early today in a dense palmetto thicket about a mile from his home.

G-men continued to question Franklin Pierce McCall, husky young truck driver who led officers to the body and who admitted writing the ransom notes and collecting the $10,000 paid by the boy's father. All except $5 of the ransom money was recovered.

McCall, 21 years old, whose late father was a minister and whose brother is a Nazarene pastor, has been in custody for a week. He was a friend of the Cash family and was a member of posses that conducted wide hunts for the boy, who was 5 years old, and his abductor.

G-Men Continue Hunt.

While J. Edgar Hoover, director of the federal bureau of investigation, would not say whether McCall had admitted the kidnaping or responsibility for the child's death, he made the succinct comment:

"We have the kidnaper or one of the kidnapers. The F. B. I. will continue the investigation."

Hoover turned aside questions as to whether others were held, but it became evident that federal agents were seeking some one other than McCall as the actual slayer.

There was a report that two more suspects were in custody and were being questioned in the federal bureau of investigation offices here, but no confirmation of this was forthcoming.

Grand Jury Called.

Despite the possibility that others besides McCall might be involved, State's Attorney George A. Worley went before Circuit Judge Arthur Gomez and had a call issued for a special grand jury to convene Monday morning.

The action of the state official led to the conclusion that if McCall was only an accomplice, as he is said to have insisted, then the principals must also be residents of nearby Princeton, home town of the boy's family and McCall, or at least residents of Florida, and must have confined their operations within the state.

As Worley took charge of the prosecution, Hoover indicated no federal laws apparently have been violated and the kidnaper should be tried in the state courts. Under Florida law the kidnaper would face a possible death sentence whether he is charged with murder or kidnaping for ransom.

Coroner's Jury Views Body.

A coroner's jury visited the Cash home in Princeton, where Jimmy was stolen the night of May 28, inspected the place where his body was found, and examined the body at an undertaker's establishment. The jury then adjourned until Saturday afternoon without reporting a verdict.

The break in the case came early yesterday when federal agents found the ransom money hidden in a stony orchard about 200 yards from where the body later was discovered. The orchard was less than a mile from the place where the victim's father, James Bailey Cash Sr., Princeton business man, tossed the money into the dark in a futile attempt to save his son's life.

After hours of questioning and being faced with discovery of the ransom money, McCall was reported to have broken down last night and confessed he wrote the three ransom notes and collected the money.

About midnight, without any show of emotion, he led Hoover, Sheriff D. C. Coleman, and a squad of federal agents to a clump of bushes where the tow headed boy's body was found.

Private Funeral Planned.

Dr. Thomas Otto, who also was in the party, expressed belief that the boy had been dead when left there. He said climate and humidity had caused rapid decomposition.

The boy's father decided not to look at the body. Friends of the family

New York, June 9.—[Special.]—Mrs. Lela E. Rogers, the mother of Ginger Rogers, movie actress, was in consternation tonight over headlines which said she was considering marriage to J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the G-men.

She said she didn't say the marriage was up to him, or if she did say anything like that she didn't mean it that way.

As she explained it, Hoover called her on the telephone from Florida early this morning. A reporter was interviewing her on her forthcoming play, "Funny Man," at the time and she declared that the reporter must have misunderstood.

Adding to the misunderstanding was what Mrs. Rogers referred to as an unfortunate quip. When the reporter asked her whether she had an engagement ring, she replied: "Congress has cut the bureau's appropriation, you know."

"It's awful to see it in print," Mrs. Rogers said today. "I hate to think what Mr. Hoover will think."

Hoover Dodges Question.

Miami, Fla., June 9.—[Special.]—"Neither yes nor no," was the comment of Chief G-man J. Edgar Hoover here tonight on New York press reports that Mrs. Lela E. Rogers may become his bride.

"I don't think my personal affairs are of interest to the public," said Hoover. "That's not saying yes nor no."

RARE PLANT BUDS, BLOOMS, FADES IN SINGLE NIGHT

Several hundred flower fanciers visited the Garfield park conservatory last night to view the blooming of "Queen of the Night," a rare tropical plant which blooms only after sundown.

The large tubular flowers live only one night. The four plants housed under glass have two sets of buds, one of which started to open about 10 o'clock, reached its full perfection by midnight, then gradually wilted away. The second set will open tonight.

The plants grow in Guatemala, Venezuela, Brazil and other tropical lands. To accommodate visitors, the conservatory will be open until midnight again tonight, August Koch, chief horticulturist, said.

Detain Army Officer After Wife Is Slain

Columbus, Ga., June 9.—[Special.]—Maj. John R. Brooke II., grandson of the noted civil war and Spanish-American war general, was held under guard tonight at Fort Benning while military police and federal agents investigated the slaying of his wife, Elizabeth.

The body of Mrs. Brooke, who was 42 years old, was found yesterday by her daughters, Barbara Ann, 12, and Caroline Elizabeth, 7, lying at the foot of the stairs in their eight room home on army quarters.

At first her death was reported as an accident, due apparently to a fall. Today Brig. Gen. Asa L. Singleton, post commandant, announced that Mrs. Brooke had been beaten to death.

Stains Found in Bathroom.

"Immediate examination by our military police," said Gen. Singleton, "indicated the death could not have been due to a fall. Signs of injury to her were found in the bathroom on the second floor. Blood also was found in the bathroom on the hallway floor leading to the head of the stairs, and down the steps."

An autopsy performed at the post hospital, Gen. Singleton said, revealed that Mrs. Brooke apparently had been killed by blows on both sides of her head.

Major at Maneuvers.

Maj. Brooke, tactical instructor at the army infantry school, was at maneuvers on the reservation when his wife's body was discovered at 12:15 p. m., Gen. Singleton said. The general said investigation showed that the major was home at 11:45 a. m.

Military police and federal agents estimated Mrs. Brooke had been dead two hours when the children found her body.

Mrs. Brooke was the former Elizabeth G. Gerhardt of Fond du Lac, Wis. A graduate of the Walter Reed hospital in Washington, she was an army nurse when she married the major. They have a son, John R. Brooke III.

The major's grandfather, Brig. Gen. John R. Brooke, who died in 1926, served with distinction in the civil and Spanish-American wars and was the first military governor of Cuba.

JOHN SWALLOWS FIRE AND STUFF, BUT, ALAS, IT IS MOSTLY STUFF

He had an 18 inch bayonet and two swords under his arm when they arrested him yesterday at Van Buren and La Salle streets. He said he was John Smith, a carnival showman who lives at 517 North Clark street.

When the police took him to the Central station he began to boast of his fire-eating capabilities, and protested strenuously when they took away his matches. Then he showed them the picture gallery he wears on his throat, arms, hands, back, and chest. There wasn't much they could do about those—they were tattooed on.

Bitter were his cries when they took away his bayonet and swords. He said he had swallowed them so often they would be lonesome in a cold station safe. Then they locked him up on a disorderly conduct charge for hearing today.

CABBAGE PLANTS SOON MAY STAY OUT ALL WINTER

Corporation Counsel Barnet Hodes today will ask the city council to repeal a lot of old ordinances, including the following:

Herds of cattle must not be driven across city bridges.

Persons must not march in step or beat time with a band while crossing a bridge.

"We haven't any more cabbage farms, and our bridges will hold all the cattle and bandsmen that can get on them," said Mr. Hodes. "Chicago is starting its second century. We don't want a code that looks like 1890."

Misses Foyle and Lode to Be Mrs. Lode and Foyle

The Foyles of Worth and the Lodes of Oak Lawn decided yesterday to consolidate their futures. Sidney Summerfield, chief clerk of the marriage license bureau, issued licenses for Bert Lode, 25 years old, a truck farmer, to marry Esther Foyle, 22, and for Esther's brother, Herbert, 25, to marry Bert's sister, Ida, 19. The double wedding will be performed June 25 at the Foyle home.

Plot to Kidnap Auto King for $500,000 Told

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 9.—A weird story of a bold plot to kidnap Viscount Nuffield, millionaire automobile manufacturer, for $500,000 ransom and throw him into the sea if the money were not paid was told today in an Oxford police court.

Viscount Nuffield.

The story of England's first modern abduction scheme was both ludicrous and hair raising. It pictured the husky would-be kidnaper gasping inside part of his disguise—a tightly laced corset. It also painted him as a possible torturer.

Maj. Arthur G. F. Ramsden, a former royal artilleryman, testified before four magistrates against John Bruce Thornton, 50 years old, the accused author of the plot.

Helps Trap Defendant.

Thornton, charged with inciting Ramsden to help him abduct Lord Nuffield, England's "Henry Ford," was arrested May 24 at the peer's automobile factory at Cowley, near Oxford.

Ramsden was taken into custody at the same time, but no charge was placed against him because it developed that he had assisted Scotland Yard and Nuffield, himself, in apprehending the accused kidnaper.

The court was told that at the time of Thornton's arrest he carried two revolvers, ammunition, a kidnap note and wore a corset "to pull him in about six inches," a red wig, false mustache, artificial eyebrows, and gold caps on his teeth.

H. J. Parham, the prosecutor, charged that the plan was to abduct Nuffield at the point of a pistol, take him to a yacht and sail with him into the North Sea where he was to be held until Thornton negotiated letters of credit for $500,000 he was going to force his captive to write.

Planned to Chain Nuffield.

Parham alleged the idea was for Ramsden to keep Lord Nuffield in chains aboard the yacht until Thornton negotiated the letters of credit on the continent and then turn the prisoner loose in a field with his eyes covered with adhesive tape.

"If the attempt to obtain $500,000 ransom failed, Nuffield was to be tossed into the sea," the prosecutor said.

Ramsden testified Thornton told him he would "make a display of surgical tools" and threaten to operate on Nuffield without an anesthetic and thus compel the automobile maker to arrange letters of credit.

Ramsden said Thornton broached the kidnap plot early in May when the former artilleryman complained he was in need of money.

Thornton denied the charges. The defendant was remanded without bail until a further hearing next Monday. Nuffield was not present at today's hearing.

JENKS FIRED AFTER SERVING FOR 18 MONTHS

His Foe Is Seated in Democratic Coup.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 9.—[Special.]—A spectacular coup by Democratic leaders in the house today resulted in the sudden unseating of a Republican congressman who had already served a year and a half of his two year term and his replacement by a Democrat who had been declared defeated in the 1936 election.

The principals in an affair which was termed without precedent in congressional history were Representative Arthur B. Jenks [R., N. H.], and Alphonse Roy, his Democratic opponent. After a series of recounts and check ups, Jenks was declared by New Hampshire officials in 1936 to have won over Roy by seventeen votes out of more than 100,000 ballots cast.

Republicans Walk Out.

By a vote of 214 to 122, the house, which has the supreme right to determine who shall be admitted to its membership, unseated Jenks and then by a vote of 226 to 109, put Roy in his place. Roy was immediately sworn in.

When the vote was announced all the Republican, Progressive, Farmer-Laborite, and some of the Democratic members marched out in a body as a gesture of protest.

Since congress will adjourn in a few days, Representative Roy will actually occupy the seat for an extremely brief period. But he will receive the two years' salary at $10,000 a year, a total of $20,000, which he would have received if he had served since January, 1937. He will also receive several thousand dollars for clerk hire during the remaining six months of his term.

$20,000 Caused Move.

It was this fund of more than $20,000, according to political observers, which caused today's bold move by the Democratic leadership. Roy will face Jenks in the congressional contest again this fall and the fund will be used as a campaign fund, not only for Roy, but for other Democratic candidates, it was reported.

Jenks will not be forced to return the salary which he has been receiving in the eighteen months he has held office.

Among the Democratic candidates in New Hampshire will be Senator Fred H. Brown, who is up for renomination in the primaries next September. Several weeks ago, it became known today, Senator Brown began quietly agitating in behalf of the attempt to seat Roy. The latter has a large following among the French population in Manchester, N. H., and the report was that the deal involved Roy's throwing his strength for Senator Brown if the latter should be successful in his attempt to get Roy seated.

Enlists Guffey's Support.

Senator Brown enlisted the support of Senator Joseph F. Guffey, Pennsylvania political boss, who persuaded the large Pennsylvania delegation in the house to vote to unseat Jenks. The administration signified its approval of the scheme and the leaders chose today for the attempt.

The house was stirred to an emotional frenzy as a result. Once before it had voted down an attempt to replace Representative Jenks with Roy. Today, however, the administration machine worked with smooth efficiency.

Two hundred and fourteen Democrats voted to unseat Jenks after three hours of fevered oratory. Only twenty-six Democrats joined with eighty-four Republicans, seven Progressives, and five Farmer-Laborites in behalf of Jenks.

New Era in U. S. Politics.

"This marks a new era in American politics," said Representative Charles L. Gifford [R., Mass.] after the vote was announced. "The house has yielded to the influence of pure politics in deciding who shall represent the people of a large and populous district. The fact that the move was not made until today, one year and seven months after the election, speaks for itself."

When the vote was announced Jenks walked out of the chamber. The entire membership rose and applauded him. The New Hampshire congressman was popular personally with his colleagues and known as a hard working and capable legislator.

"I'll be back next January," he told his friends. "The voters will decide for themselves on the honesty of this action today."

Roy was hustled down by his friends from the gallery and hastily sworn in.

When New Hampshire election officials decided that Jenks had been elected by seventeen votes Roy appealed to the house. The decision of the officials was based upon the fact that thirty-four Republican votes disappeared from a ballot box in Newton, N. H. Roy claimed that these votes should not have been counted for Jenks, and that he therefore was in reality elected by seventeen votes.

A house election committee, dominated by Democrats, recommended that Roy's claims should be approved, but last July, by a vote of 231 to 130, the house refused to approve the committee's recommendations. The committee was ordered to take the testimony of all the 458 voters in Newton to ascertain the truth of Jenks' claim that thirty-four votes for him had vanished from the ballot box.

There ensued in the hamlet of Newton last summer a hearing such as never occurred before in American history. Painstakingly, the house committee, composed of five Democrats and three Republicans, summoned the entire voting population of the town and questioned them, not on how they voted, but if they had voted.

Check on All Voters.

The result was that 436 persons testified they had voted. Nine persons who had died since the election were accounted for by eye-witnesses who testified the deceased persons had voted. Six sick and infirm voters were proved to have voted by affidavits taken by a subcommittee. Two absent voters were accounted for by the testimony of other witnesses. Five other voters out of the state were excused from testifying.

This made a total of 458 persons known to have voted whereas only 424 ballots were counted. Inasmuch as proof had already been submitted in the recount that the missing 34 ballots were cast for the Republican candidate, Jenks' claims seemed to have been wholly substantiated.

Nevertheless, in what the Republican minority on the committee termed "a shocking climax to a case without precedent in congressional history" the Democratic majority reported that "no evidence was offered at the investigation in Newton to change our opinion" that Roy was entitled to the seat.

Toward the close of the debate Representative Gerald J. Boileau, Wisconsin Progressive, took the floor.

"As one far removed from partisanship for either the Republican or the Democratic party," he told the house, "I think I am qualified to look at this case upon its merits. Let me tell you that the Progressive and Farmer-Labor groups in the house have studied this case purely upon the evidence and every one of us will vote to keep Jenks in his seat. We will so vote because the evidence shows clearly that he was elected."

WAGE-HOUR BILL HITS NEW SNAG; TALK FILIBUSTER

Deadlock May Block Vote This Session.

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 9.—[Special.]—The tentative conference agreement on the minimum wage and maximum hour bill blew up today after southern senators demanding geographical differentials held a caucus and threatened a filibuster. With the conferees again deadlocked, as they were a week ago, chances for final enactment of the legislation at this session became more doubtful than ever.

Without a formal vote on the question the conferees agreed to reopen the whole subject of minimum wages and then devoted the entire day to a vain discussion of compromises.

At the close of today's session of the conference, Chairman Mary T. Norton [D., N. J.] of the house group said that "We made progress and did nothing," an observation which was echoed by Chairman E. D. Thomas [D., Utah] of the senate group.

Doubt If They Can Agree.

Some of the conferees expressed the opinion that it would be impossible to reach an agreement and obtain adoption of the conference report in the senate in time for the adjournment of congress by the middle of next week. Senate Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley [D., Ky.] announced after a White House conference that congress would adjourn "Tuesday at the latest."

As the situation existed today, a majority of the senate and house conferees on the wage and hour bill confronted the necessity, in order to reach an agreement, of alienating the southern bloc and running into a senate filibuster or else antagonizing the powerful American Federation of Labor, which actively opposes any concession to the low wage paying south in the matter of sectional differentials. For a week a majority of the conferees has been teetering between the two opposing positions.

Nationwide Minimum Wage.

Yesterday the conferees agreed, 12 to 2, on a nation-wide minimum wage of 25 cents the first year, 30 cents the second and 40 cents after 7 years. After two years minimum wages would be established by industry boards, similar to the old NRA code authorities, between the 30 cent floor and 40 cent ceiling.

At the end of 7 years, the statutory 40 cent minimum would become effective except in industries where, as shown by a preponderance of the evidence, such a rate would substantially curtail employment opportunities. This factor alone could be considered, and the exceptions to the 40 cent minimum would have to apply to entire industries, without geographical differentials.

After today's caucus of the southern bloc, however, Senator Claude Pepper [D., Fla.] obtained an agreement to reconsider yesterday's agreement and presented an ultimatum to the conferees. The southerners, he said, would accept a nation-wide statutory minimum wage of 25 cents but not 30 cents, as provided in yesterday's conference agreement for the second year. They would accept a statutory deadline of 7 years for the imposition of the 40 cent minimum provided that other factors, in addition to the possible effect on employment, might be taken into consideration in the granting of exceptions. The factors specified included living costs, local economic conditions, freight differentials, etc. Like the senate bill, such considerations would permit geographical differentials.

The minimum wage and maximum hour legislation demanded by President Roosevelt in a message to congress on May 24, 1937, thus was seriously jeopardized by some of his most fervent supporters, including two senators who recently ran for the Democratic nomination on a program supporting the wage and hour bill.

Claim South Favors Bill.

One was Senator Pepper and the other was Senator Lister Hill [D., Ala.]. Senator Pepper's victory in the Florida primary against an acknowledged foe of the legislation was hailed by the administration as proof that the south favored the wage and hour bill.

Besides Pepper and Hill, the southern Democrats at today's caucus included Allen J. Ellender of Louisiana, Walter F. George of Georgia, James F. Byrnes of South Carolina, and Pat Harrison of Mississippi, and eleven others. If the conference should defy the threat of a filibuster the bill might be killed at this session.

Spy Plot Witness

[Associated Press Wirephoto.]
MRS. MARIA GRIEBL.

New York, June 9.—[Special.]—Mrs. Maria Griebl was jailed tonight as a material witness in the spy investigation after she had completed arrangements to rejoin her husband, Dr. Ignatz T. Griebl, former Nazi leader wanted as a spy, who fled to Germany. Her bail was set at $5,000.

Mrs. Griebl had sold all her husband's medical equipment, had shipped a trunkful of his personal effects to his mother's home in Wuerzburg and had purchased a ticket to sail on the liner Bremen next Wednesday. It was on that ship that Dr. Griebl escaped, without a passport, on May 10, six days before the grand jury began receiving evidence.

'MY OPINION ON POLITICS IS NO GOOD'—MORGAN

New York, June 9.—(AP)—J. P. Morgan, multimillionaire banker, said tonight his opinion on business and politics "isn't worth a damn."

His deprecatory remark was made in a cloakroom after he handed out 128 diplomas at commencement exercises of Cooper Union.

"What do you think of the chances to succeed these grads have as compared with other days?" he was asked.

"Now, you know I don't talk about those things," Morgan countered.

"Why is it that you refuse to express an opinion on business and politics?"

PRESIDENT LISTS KENTUCKY TALK TO HELP BARKLEY

Will Speak in Covington on July 8.

BY WALTER TROHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 9.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt will carry a political torch in Kentucky for Senate Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley, who is facing a stiff primary battle for the Democratic nomination for the senate with Gov. A. B. Chandler as his opponent.

The President assured Barkley at a White House conference that he will speak for him during the cross-country tour he will make in July en route to the west coast for a cruise off the west coast of South America.

Mr. Roosevelt will speak for Barkley at Covington, Ky., on the afternoon of July 8. The address will come a month before the state primaries on Aug. 6. In the speech for his old friend, the President is expected to make no pretense of keeping hands out of primary battle and to ask for the reëlection of his majority leader.

Expresses Preference.

The President has already clearly expressed his preference in the race. Earlier in the year when Barkley supporters held a banquet to launch his candidacy, and on the same day Chandler forces gave a luncheon to enter the governor into the race, the President sent White House Secretary Marvin H. McIntyre to attend the Barkley affair and ignored the Chandler function.

Still earlier, when it was reported Chandler was considering opposing Barkley, the President called the governor to the White House. There, according to authenticated reports, the President turned on the full power of his charm. Chandler was told he had done a great job and had a brilliant future, but should not be over anxious to advance because he was still a young man. With this the President asked Chandler to step aside for Barkley.

Chandler is reported to have replied that as a great admirer of the President he had studied Mr. Roosevelt's career very closely. And never in that study, he said, did he find that Mr. Roosevelt had stepped aside for any one, and looked about the executive office as though he had plans to occupy it some day before he walked out.

Will Speak in Ohio.

The speech at Covington will be preceded by a brief address at Marietta, O., on the morning of July 8 at the commemoration of the opening of the northwest territory. From Kentucky the President will dip into Tennessee, where Senator Berry is seeking re-nomination Aug. 4.

Mr. Roosevelt is said to have no plans to speak for Berry. However, it was acknowledged that he will speak for Senator Thomas in Oklahoma on his way to San Francisco to board a cruiser. Thomas is seeking renomination at the state's primary on June 12.

En route the President will spend a night at the home of his son, Elliott, in Fort Worth, Tex. He has been asked to participate in the dedication of an international bridge at Port Huron, Mich., during the tour but has not replied to the invitation.

The projected plans for an extensive visit to capitals of the countries on the west coast of South America have been curtailed, according to the White House. At present nothing more than a fishing cruise off the Cacos Island and the Galapagos Islands is contemplated. Mr. Roosevelt will return to the east coast by way of the Panama canal.

The President is scheduled to go to Nahant, Mass., to attend the wedding of his son John.

Wreckers' Torches Set Gas Storage Tank Afire

A fire in a partially wrecked gas storage tank attracted a crowd of spectators to the intersection of Willow and Kingsbury streets yesterday. Workmen wrecking the tank, which belonged to the People's Gas, Light and Coke company, ignited a residue of tar while using acetylene torches.

LINDBERGHS TAKE UP NEW HOME ON ROCKY ISLE

PENVENAN, France, June 9.—(AP)—Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh are settling down in their new home on remote Illiec Island off the coast of Brittany.

After quitting Long Barn, their Kentish home in England for two and one-half years, they crossed the English channel yesterday to the northwest coast of France. Residents said the colonel, his wife, and their two sons, Jon and Land, already were installed on the rocky isle. The island is only large enough to accommodate its castle, and is the former home of Mme. Adelina Patti, Anglo-Italian singer.

Col. Lindbergh purchased the island in April, the title passing from two French brothers, Norbert and Roger La Font, to a corporation headed by Mrs. Alexis Carrel, wife of the American scientist with whom Lindbergh developed the "mechanical heart." Mrs. Carrel is a French citizen. French law prohibits the sale of "strategic military or naval territory" to a foreigner.

Mamie Guardino, 12 years old, of 2335 Superior street, was bitten on the chest by a pony she was patting late yesterday at Western avenue and Superior street. The animal is owned by Charles Cake of 2636 Evergreen avenue. The child was given first aid by Dr. Marco S. Petrone, 2403 West Chicago avenue, and sent home. The pony was taken to the dog pound for observation.

SEARCH FOR COST FIGURES ON TVA HITS BLANK WALL

Maze of Bureaus Yields Answer: None Knows.

BY CAPT. M. M. CORPENING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Knoxville, Tenn., June 9.—[Special.]—Throughout this historic southern city are scattered in puzzling profusion hundreds of offices and agencies of the Tennessee Valley Authority. An observer in quest of information knows that it is to be obtained somewhere among this maze of bureaus and departments.

Specifically, he wants to know how much it is costing the TVA to produce the electrical current it proposes to sell to municipalities at prices that are revolutionarily low. In the early morning he starts his survey.

Up elevators he rides and up ancient stairs in old fashioned business blocks he plods. He talks to brisk executives who have been sent down from the north and to southerners who drawled leisurely that they don't know.

Learns Two Things.

He is received courteously by some and bounced in a hurry by others. And at the end of a long day he has learned two things: first, that there should be charts and guidebooks for strangers having business with the TVA, and second, that no one knows, nor is likely to know soon, how much it costs the TVA to generate its power.

The answers made by TVA executives are not encouraging to those who hope that the authority's quoted prices will stand up when all costs of production are thoroughly investigated.

Although dollars have been poured into the Tennessee river valley by the hundreds of millions and dams and power plants have been built, no charts allocating the costs have yet been produced by the authority. One official states that charts are being prepared, but he admits frankly that he doesn't know when they will be completed.

Difference of Opinion.

And there is much difference of opinion among these executives. One tells you that the cost of the dams should not be figured into the ultimate cost of the power.

"Dams are for flood control," he says. "Flood control funds should be used to pay for them."

Another says this might be done, but thinks it would be more logical to charge the dams off to transportation—navigation. He is enthusiastic on the subject of river commerce. As he talks, the listener can all but see the white winged fleets of the seven seas at anchor in the forks of the Tennessee, four miles above the city.

Finally the question of the dams is put to a blunt spoken native of the section. He allows as how you couldn't generate much hydro-electric power without a dam and a waterhead behind it. He says the dams' cost should figure in the cost of power.

Yardstick Issue Raised.

To this man, then, is submitted the growing contention that it is not honest to use an unproved yardstick of cost in dealing with the public. But to this he has nothing to say.

This unproved yardstick of power costs, which the government has used in its attacks on private utility concerns, was the basis of testimony last month before a congressional investigating committee by Dr. Arthur E. Morgan, deposed chairman of the TVA.

Dr. Morgan flatly accused his fellow directors of the TVA—David E. Lilienthal and Harcourt A. Morgan—of deceit in stating that low prices set on power already sold represent all the costs of the service given.

"In TVA yardstick communities," Dr. Morgan said, "the prevailing rates for domestic power suddenly have been cut in two. Success for a program of greatly reduced rates depends on the very rapid increase in use. Such very rapid increase depends to a considerable degree upon expense incurred in selling and load building. The cost of that load building is as much a real cost of power as the cost of poles and wires."

Leaving the TVA employés, the observer found tremendous interest among the public in steps being taken for the congressional investigation which will be proceeding during the summer. The name of Francis Biddle of Philadelphia, new chief counsel for the committee, is unknown here, but the hope is expressed generally that he will adhere to his announced purpose of investigating thoroughly, independent of politics or pressure.

Biddle's Salary $10,000.

Washington, D. C., June 9.—[Special.]—The joint congressional committee investigating the Tennessee Valley authority today fixed at $10,000 the salary its newly chosen chief counsel, Francis Biddle of Philadelphia, will receive for his six months' work. Biddle is expected to take over his duties in the next few days.

KENTUCKY MINE UNION PRESIDENT IS SHOT TO DEATH

Harlan, Ky., June 9.—(AP)—Lester Smithers, 30 years old, president of the United Mine Workers of America local at Yancey, Ky., was shot to death today at nearby Gulston, Ky.

Smithers, a witness for the government in the Harlan labor trial at London, Ky., was shot seven times in the chest and head. Two brothers, Verlin and Clyde Fee, were held in the Harlan jail in connection with the case. Verlin Fee was ordered held on a murder charge by a coroner's jury.

Deputy Jailer Tilmen Knuckles said Verlin Fee told him Smithers attacked him with a bottle.

said an early, private funeral was planned.

In tracing McCall's connection with the case, it was recalled that he had been a tenant in the Cash apartment house, which adjoins the Cash filling station and general store, and that he had played with "Skeegie," as Jimmy was known to the 600 residents of Princeton.

He joined the search on the night the boy was kidnaped, bringing along his big flashlight, which he later used to wave down the elder Cash's car as a signal for the ransom money to be thrown out on a lonely country road.

Note Arouses Suspicion.

It was McCall who called Cash's attention to the third ransom note which he apparently feared the boy's father had overlooked, Sherif Coleman said. Authorities became suspicious of him when he asserted that the note, which was crumpled into a ball when found, had been slipped beneath a door where only a flat message could have been placed.

The sherif arrested McCall three days after the abduction. After being questioned he was released, but G-men shadowed him. The following day he joined the volunteer posse searching the area where the body and the ransom were hidden.

That night he was rearrested and has since been held in F. B. I. offices atop a downtown skyscraper.

The fact that McCall did not own an automobile and that all developments in the case occurred within two miles of the Cash home strengthened the belief that he was primarily involved in the kidnaping.

Graduate of High School.

McCall was born in Jasper, Fla., in 1917. After being graduated from the Jasper High school in 1934 he went to Princeton to live with his parents. His father, Franklin Pierce McCall Sr., a Nazarene minister, died Feb. 28 in Jasper.

He married Claudine Hilliard at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., on Jan. 9, 1936. Since then he was employed by farmers in driving trucks, grading, packing, and selling tomatoes, and last summer he worked for the state highway department as a roadman at Dania, Fla.

During the last two tomato seasons he and his wife occupied an apartment in the Cash building, and last April moved to the home of Red Lambert, which is near the place where Cash paid the ransom money.

"I never dreamed of such a thing," she exclaimed. "The boy never has been in trouble before. His father was a preacher and as good a man as ever lived. I tried to do the best I could about my children."

PUMP PRIMING CONFEREES O. K. FUNDS FOR WPA

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 9.—[Special.]—House and senate conferees on the 3 billion 723 million dollar pump priming bill today agreed to retain in the measure the senate amendment carrying an appropriation of 1 billion 425 millions of dollars for the Works Progress administration. President Roosevelt yesterday declared that the appropriation would be necessary because of unemployment.

Three main points of controversy remained to be worked out before the bill can be reported back for approval. They are a $212,000,000 senate appropriation for farm parity payments, a house amendment requiring the WPA to allocate its funds to insure they will last for eight months [a provision which the senate struck out], and a senate amendment providing that any minimum wage law enacted will apply to WPA wages if it is higher than the prevailing wage.

4 INDICTED IN 3 MILLION THEFT.

Galesburg, Ill., June 9.—[Special.]—John Goodlow, 70 years old, and Blas Himenes, 22, were indicted on charges of larceny today in connection with the theft of journal bearings, bars, and other parts, valued at over $3,000,000 from Burlington and Santa Fe railway freight cars. Robert McCabe and Robert McCabe Jr., junkyard owners, were indicted, charged with conspiracy and receiving the stolen property.

AN 'H. L. HOPKINS' ONCE LISTED AS SOCIALIST VOTER

N. Y. Record Indicates He Is WPA Director.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 9.—[Special.]—Representative John J. O'Connor [D., N. Y.] in a recent attack on communism in a speech before the house, declared that "the head of one of our great departments is a registered Socialist."

Harry L. Hopkins, federal Works Progress administrator, was asked last Friday if at any time he had been registered in the Socialist party in New York or elsewhere. His answer was: "Definitly no."

What Voting Lists Show.

Today an examination of the city voting lists disclosed that a Harry L. Hopkins had registered and voted as a Socialist in New York City in 1915 and 1916.

While city officials could not definitly identify the Hopkins on their old lists as the Washington official, a comparison of background information strongly indicated that the two were identical.

In 1915 the Hopkins listed here registered in the Bronx as a Socialist. He said he was unmarried and lived alone; that he was 25 years old, had lived three years in the state, one in the county, one in the 35th election district, and had voted last at Grinnell, Ia., in 1911. He gave his occupation as that of social worker and listed his business address as the main office of the Charity Organization society. The records show that he registered and voted as a Socialist that year.

Graduated from Grinnell.

The WPA administrator is now 48 years old, which would make him 25 in 1915. He was born in Sioux City, Ia., and his family settled in Grinnell, Ia. He was graduated from Grinnell college in 1912, three years before the date of the Bronx enrollment.

In 1916, the city's records show, Harry L. Hopkins registered from Manhattan as a Socialist. The listing shows that he said he was then 26 years old, had lived four years in the state, four in the county, and seven months in the election district. While there is an obvious conflict between the statement in 1916—that he had lived four years in New York county—and his 1915 declaration, that he had lived one year in Bronx county, the discrepancy may be the result of a clerk's mistake.

HAGUE'S FORCES SEEK TO SUBPENA RECORDS OF C. I. O.

Injunction Hearing Halted by Surprise Move.

BY WILLIAM FULTON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Newark, N. J., June 9.—[Special.]—A blanket subpena for all state records of John L. Lewis' Committee for Industrial Organization, demanded by the forces of Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City, forced an early adjournment this afternoon of the federal court hearing on civil rights. The appearance of Mayor Hague on the witness stand was postponed until tomorrow.

The request for the innermost records of the C. I. O. threw the anti-Hague legal galaxy into an uproar. It was a surprise move in the action for an injunction sought by the C. I. O. and the American Civil Liberties union to restrain the Jersey City mayor from interfering with constitutional rights of free speech and assembly which they allege have been denied them.

Attorney Protests Subpena.

Morris L. Ernst, C. I. O. attorney, protested against the subpena, which asked all books, papers, records, minutes of meetings, accounts, names and addresses of members since the inception of the movement in New Jersey.

"Why, this means we would have to move our whole office into the courtroom," he shouted.

"The office is here in Newark, isn't it?" asked Judge William Clark.

"Yes," replied Ernst, "but this subpena is full of vague, weasel words."

The C. I. O. attorney asserted that he never would answer a subpena giving details and the identity of the C. I. O. membership.

Judge Clark adjourned court with the announcement that the subpena question would be threshed out later. The C. I. O. counsel told the court that Mayor Hague and William Carney, state director of the C. I. O., would be put on the stand tomorrow.

The demand for the subpena followed an effort to link Mayor Hague and William J. Egan, deputy attorney general, with the riot last Saturday night in Military park here in which Norman Thomas, Socialist leader, was showered with eggs.

Spaulding Frazer, dean of the Newark Law school and also of counsel for the C. I. O., had issued a new batch of subpenas and proposed to examine witnesses when Matthews objected.

"We want to show that, through the instrumentality of Egan, there was a meeting of persons Saturday for the purpose of fomenting an attack on Thomas," said Frazer.

STATE CLOSES CASE AGAINST BOOKIE BROKERS

The state closed its argument yesterday in its quo warranto action attacking the city's authority to pass the betting broker license ordinance. Assistant Attorney General Raymond Wallenstein said there is an abundance of precedent to show that the state law prohibiting gambling outside race track enclosures is constitutional.

This statement was an effort to answer the city's arguments before they are made. One of the city's chief points in its answer to the suit was that the ordinance was no more a violation of state law than the state law was a violation of the constitution.

Assistant Corporation Counsel Walter V. Schaefer opened his argument for the city late in the day. He will continue Monday before Circuit Judge Harry M. Fisher.

REOPEN HOTEL RAPE CASE AS KILLER RECANTS

Convict's Freedom Hopes Blasted by Nixon.

Faced with two confessions—both of which have been repudiated—in the slugging and rape of Miss Virginia Austin at the Washington hotel last Aug. 15, authorities indicated last night they would reopen the entire investigation of the case.

The first to confess the attack was Thomas McCall, 39 years old, an engraver, who was arrested a month later. Though he repudiated his confession in court, he was convicted of rape last Dec. 13 and was sent to Joliet penitentiary for five years.

Confession Basis of Hearing.

The next admission of the crime came from Robert Nixon, young southern Negro who has also confessed murdering four women and a child and raping several others. He told his story last Monday, and McCall's attorney immediately petitioned for a writ of habeas corpus, which was made returnable yesterday before Judge John C. Lewe in Criminal court.

But, while McCall listened white faced, Nixon repudiated his confession. He did not remember admitting the attack and was certain he had not committed it. He denied that he had drawn floor plans of the Washington hotel to illustrate the crime.

The diagrams were drawn for Chief of Detectives John L. Sullivan Monday evening. Nixon said then that they showed how he entered the rooms of Miss Austin, a New York doll designer, and Miss Alda Deery, 29 years old, an actress who was attacked at the hotel in September, 1936.

Killer Put Back on Stand.

After Nixon's repudiation of the drawings and confessions on the stand yesterday Chief Sullivan was called as a witness. So was Assistant State's Attorney John S. Boyle, who was present Monday when the Negro told his story. After their testimony, Nixon was put back on the stand.

He admitted that he had drawn the maps and had confessed, but continued to deny that he had actually committed the crimes. As a result Judge Lewe stated he would not be justified in releasing McCall, but did not deny the writ. He continued the hearing to June 23. First Assistant State's Attorney Wilbert Crowley was far from satisfied.

"I am convinced Nixon is guilty, despite his repudiation," Crowley declared after the hearing. "The diagrams are too exact and he knows too much about the attacks. He couldn't have gotten what he knows from newspaper illustrations, as he says."

Plans to Aid Pardon Plea.

After indicating that a new investigation of the Austin and Deery cases would be started, Crowley said that if no evidence is developed to change his mind before June 23 he will probably join McCall's attorney in a plea to Gov. Horner for a pardon.

It was recalled that McCall maintained his innocence throughout the trial and after the verdict was returned. He declared that his confession was wrung from him by torture; that police had strung him up by his wrists and had beaten him.

In his first statement he was forced to say that he had entered Miss Austin's room by way of a fire escape, he testified, adding that police later decided the story did not ring true and made him change it to say he entered with a pass key.

Miss Austin was unable to identify McCall at the trial because she saw the attacker only in a dim light. Her first story to the police was that a Negro had attacked her. Judge Lewe declared yesterday, however, that Nixon's repudiation made it impossible for him to upset a jury verdict.

"Nixon could not be convicted of the Austin crime on what testimony has been given here today," the judge said in continuing the hearing. "I would not be waranted even in giving McCall a new trial on the basis of this day's evidence. I can't guess men into or out of jail."

Crowley agreed that the hearing had not produced evidence in which McCall could be legally freed, but said that between now and June 23 the case would be reinvestigated thoroughly and that Nixon would be questioned again.

McCall, who has served five months of his five year sentence, was returned to Joliet to await the next hearing.

Hopes Are Dashed

Thomas McCall (right) whose hope of obtaining freedom from prison through rape confession of Robert Nixon, colored rapist-killer, were dashed yesterday. Nixon repudiated the confession he is said to have made in the attack for which McCall was sentenced. With him is Attorney Robert Romano.

PICTURE FOUND ON BATTLEFIELD COMES TO LIFE

On a battlefield in France in August, 1918, Ray W. Howard, now of 626 New York street, Aurora, picked up a mud stained photo of a pretty little girl. He mailed it to Irene Myers of Brighton, Ill., whose name was on the back of the picture. After the war he exchanged letters with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Myers, the girl's parents, and learned that the photo had been lost on the battlefield by her uncle, Frank W. Burk of East Aurora.

The Myers family urged that Howard visit them, but his war injuries and business prevented. They eventually gave him up as dead. Yesterday Miss Myers, now 22 years old and a school teacher, was attending the 72d annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic at Aurora as a delegate of the Ladies of the G. A. R. She determined to find Howard's grave and place flowers on it. Instead, she found he was alive and married and working for a department store. It was in the store that they finally met.

Co-Ed Gains After Getting Blood Flown from Chicago

Louisville, Ky., June 9.—(AP)—Dr. Harper E. Richey reported today that his patient, Margaret Hall, 22 years old, a University of Louisville student and a victim of streptococcus veridians infection, had improved after a transfusion of blood brought here last night by airplane from Chicago. The blood was found at the Cook County hospital after more than 200 volunteer donors had failed to yield the necessary type, the physician said.

Portsmouth, O., June 9.—(AP)—Three schoolgirls were drowned and four companions rescued late today when a boat capsized. The dead are Mae Webb, 9 years old; Evaline Frye, 13, and Gladys Rudd, 9.

LAWYER GALAXY OPENS FIGHT FOR TAMMANY CHIEF

New York, June 9.—[Special.]—A costly battery of lawyers swung into action in Supreme court today in defense of Jimmy Hines, Tammany leader charged with being the fixer in the $100,000,000 policy racket of the late Dutch Schultz.

Prof. I. Maurice Wormser of Fordham university, one of the nation's outstanding legal authorities, argued for the dismissal of the indictment against Hines. Lloyd Paul Stryker, who successfully defended District Attorney William F. X. Geoghan of Kings county in ouster proceedings before Gov. H. H. Lehman, appeared as the politician's new chief counsel. He sought a change of venue and a trial separate from that of J. Richard [Dixie] Davis and seven others accused of ruling Schultz' underworld empire.

Decision on all motions was reserved and both sides were given until June 17 to present briefs.

Jury Commends Fireman for Heroic Rescue Effort

A coroner's jury yesterday commended Fireman Leo Kelly of truck company 28 for his heroism in trying to rescue Mrs. Esther Kaplan, 55 years old, who was suffocated in a fire May 28 in an apartment building at 2817 Division street. Fireman Kelly found Mrs. Kaplan unconscious in her second floor apartment. He crawled through the burning flat and dragged her to the kitchen, where he collapsed. There he and Mrs. Kaplan were found by other firemen. Kelly lives at 2930 North Kildare avenue.

LYONS ASSAILS HORNER'S PLAN FOR TAX ON OIL

Opens Downstate Drive in Senate Race.

BY PERCY WOOD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Flora, Ill., June 9.—[Special.]—Opening his downstate campaign for the United States senatorship here in the heart of the booming oil fields, State Representative Richard J. Lyons, the Republican nominee, tore into Gov. Henry Horner tonight for allowing the legislature to consider taxing and regulating the production of oil.

"The Horner administration is like its parent, the Roosevelt administration in Washington," Lyons charged, "in that it appears to be opposed to anything which may mean work and jobs. Drills which are exploring your fine development here had no sooner released this black fluid from the earth than the Horner tax hawks were upon you to count each barrel and prepare a program to tax your business.

Cites Boom in Jobs.

"They gave no thought, these tax hawks, to the fact that since the boom began, for the first time in many years, Richland, Wayne, and Clay counties have had no relief problem. Work was plentiful, even the farmers benefitting from the new source of income.

"The only thing the Springfield taxers thought of was that here was an infant industry, something which had not yet been taxed. It is no concern of theirs that oil has eliminated the pressing problem of relief from three Illinois counties and that new wealth is entering the commerce and industry.

Assails Tax Program.

"Now, under the guise of providing for the unfortunates on relief throughout the rest of the state, they plan to heap taxes on your oil, ignoring the funds lying idle in the state treasury, funds collected for the very purpose of providing adequate relief for those in need."

The youthful senatorial candidate pounded these charges home in two addresses today, speaking in the afternoon at Olney and in Flora tonight.

Lyons and four of his five companions on the Republican state ticket left Springfield this morning, accompanied by a sound equipped trailer, to tour five southern Illinois congressional districts by Saturday. Tomorrow they speak at Marion and Granite City and Saturday at Jacksonville.

Lambur to Join Party.

With Lyons are State Senator Simon E. Lantz of Congerville and Stephen A. Day of Evanston, running mates for congressmen at large; Wiley B. Garvin of Mascoutah, candidate for state superintendent of public instruction, and William R. McCauley of Olney, candidate for state treasurer. George E. Lambur Jr. of Chicago, candidate for clerk of the Supreme court, is expected to join the party later.

The big trailer, which is decorated with the names of all the state candidates, was presented to Lyons in Springfield this morning by the Young Republicans of Illinois through their president, Harold E. Walsh Jr. of Bloomington.

Forty Guinea baboons, recent arrivals from West Africa, today will begin bounding over the crags of the monkey island in the Chicago Zoölogical park at Brookfield. Race for Planes

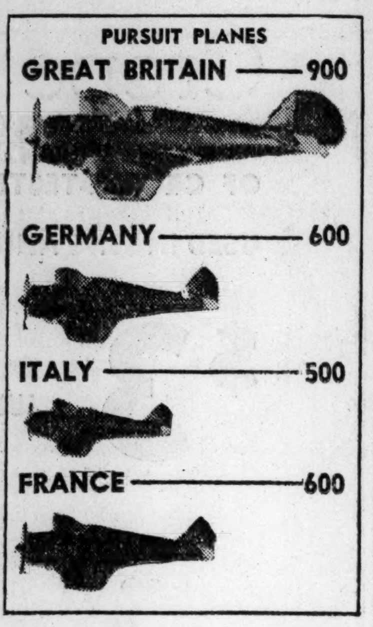
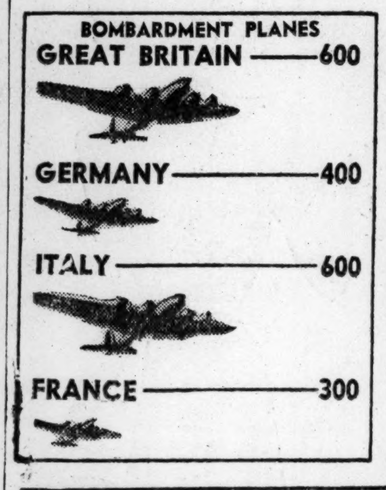
Announcement that Great Britain is buying 400 United States airplanes centers attention on comparative strength of air forces of Britain and France on one side and Italy and Germany on the other. The charts show the comparison in the first line planes of the bombing and pursuit types.





JAP BOMBS DRIVE THOUSANDS FROM 3 CHINESE CITIES

Raids Continue in Canton Area; Blast Railway.

SHANGHAI, June 10.—[Friday]—(AP)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, leader of war torn China, called upon friendly powers today "to fulfill their treaty obligations by giving China positive assistance."

Chiang made the plea in a formal statement issued last night at Hankow, provisional Chinese capital, as his people fled before the invading Japanese, evacuating their homes in three cities in one of the greatest mass exoduses in recent history.

While the generalissimo declared China still was confident of "ultimate victory," he asked all friendly nations to aid China by economic sanctions [penalties], arms embargoes, and trade boycotts against Japan, specifically recalling resolutions adopted by the league of nations in support of China.

U. S. Protests to Tokio.

As Chiang made his appeal the roads were black with slowly plodding refugees fleeing Chengchow, strategic Honan province railway junction, while civilians also fled from Hankow, on the Yangtze river, and Canton, big port of South China.

[In Washington, D. C., the state department announced that Ambassador Joseph Grew at Tokio had asked the Japanese government to take urgent measures to stop the bombing of noncombatant property in China. Grew was instructed to call Japan's attention to yesterday's attack by Japanese planes upon the American operated Lingnan university at Canton.]

An estimated 30,000,000 Chinese already are homeless as a result of the Japanese invasion. At Canton alone an estimated half million persons have fled to the interior to escape heavy Japanese bombing attacks which began on May 28.

Bomb Canton Rail Stations.

An undetermined number of Japanese craft circled over the city at 8 p. m. Thursday. Only one bomb was dropped and authorities believed the attackers' object was to keep the populace in suspense.

Earlier, Japanese attacked the Canton area for the thirteenth consecutive day, dropping explosives on the railway stations of Yingtak, on the Canton-Hankow line; Sheklung, on the Canton-Kowloon [Honkong] line, and Shiukwan.

Prepared to blast out what Chinese defenses remain in Chengchow, the Japanese hauled up field artillery as they maintained a steady plane bombing of the area.

Missionaries Stay in City.

Twenty-one foreigners, including several American missionaries, remained in Chengchow, from which the main Chinese defenses have been withdrawn. The city is the junction of the east-west Lunghai railway and the north-south Peking-Hankow line.

Strongly intrenched Chinese forces south of Chengchow were reported to have beaten off repeated Japanese attempts to cut the Peking-Hankow line.

Chinese reports also asserted that a two day Japanese effort to land sizable forces from warships on both banks of the Yangtze river 130 miles southwest of Nanking had failed despite heavy bombardment by enemy destroyers.

A Chinese communique said Chinese bombing planes had sunk a Japanese warship on the Yangtze at Kweichih, Anhwei province. The warship was said to have been one of a group bombarding Kweichih, one of the river ports barring passage of Japanese to Anking, Anhwei capital, next Japanese Yangtze objective.

KEWANEE STEEL STRIKERS BACK TO WORK TODAY

Kewanne, Ill., June 9.—(AP)—John L. Connor, United States department of labor conciliation, announced tonight striking employés of the Walworth company plant had agreed to a mass-meeting to return to work tomorrow. He said workers affiliated with the steel workers organizing committee of the C. I. O., who began picketing the plant May 21 in protest against a seven cents an hour reduction in wages, voted to hold an election in the plant Saturday. The election, he said, would determine whether or not they would accept a flat 10 per cent reduction instead of the wage cut proposed by the management. Employés of the Greensburg, Pa., plant accepted a 10 per cent cut ten days ago.

BRITAIN SEEKING SUBSTITUTE FOR GIBRALTAR BASE

Fears Rock Can't Be Held in Event of War.

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 9.—British imperial strategy has been so shaken by the Italian-German foothold in Spain that naval and military authorities are discussing with all seriousness the advisability of abandoning Gibraltar in event of war in the Mediterranean, reports in London today said.

These reports were further to the effect that the British were urgently trying to obtain from Portugal an alternative base to Gibraltar to be located at Faro on the south coast of Portugal.

Ship Sunk; Britons Killed.

The 1,212 ton Belfast steamer, Isadora, was disabled at Castellon, a Spanish port on the Mediterranean, today, indicating the coolness of Generalissimo Francisco Franco, rebel leader in Spain, and his allies in the face of threats of retaliation.

During the last five days Franco and his German and Italian allies have bombed seven British ships and killed five Englishmen.

Reports on the possibility of evacuating Gibraltar in case of a Mediterranean war said that British agents recently had sent to London comprehensive information on the existence of German and Italian batteries at Tarifa, Algeciras, San Roque, and La Linea. La Linea faces the rock of Gibraltar and the opinion was advanced that Gibraltar would be untenable in event of a conflict and that the British fleet could not be slipped past under cover of a smokescreen or darkness, making it necessary to replace Gibraltar with a similar base less attackable in Portugal. Presumably this matter was broached by the British naval delegation which recently visited Portugal.

Anxious About Germans.

Gen. Gonzalo Quiepo de Llano, the Spanish rebel commander at Seville, in a recent speech, said the Spanish might soon be back in Gibraltar. This assertion never has been denied satisfactorily, and questions have been asked about it in the house of commons.

Parliamentarians also have been asking anxious questions about the reported German batteries in Spanish Morocco and Algeciras.

Mona Lleslie, professional swimmer and dancer whose real name is Mrs. Grace Clement, yesterday won a default divorce from Gilbert Clement of Dallas, Tex., on the ground of misconduct. Miss Lleslie is 23 years old and lives at 900 Rush street. Under questioning by her attorney, Norman Becker, Miss Lleslie said that a month after their marriage Clement brought to their home another woman who lived with them until their separation. She was his first wife.

Romance Ends

Mrs. Lorna Lee Dinsmore, daughter of Edward G. McDougall, president of Libby, McNeil and Libby, meat packers, yesterday was granted an uncontested divorce from John C. Dinsmore Jr., 25 years old, of 5844 Stony Island avenue.

Mrs. Dinsmore, who is 21 years old, was granted custody of their son, Gary, 2. She waived alimony and support for the baby. Her bill alleged cruelty.

The Dinsmores were married June 19, 1935, while she was a student at the University High school and he was studying at the University of Chicago. Judge Charles A. Williams heard the case.

CZECHS RESUME TALKS WITH NAZI PARTY LEADERS

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, June 9.—(AP)—Direct negotiations between the Czechosolvak government and the clamorous Sudeten German [Nazi] party, which were halted two weeks ago amid heightening Berlin-Prague tension, were resumed today.

Precautions taken for maintaining order for the third and last of a series of municipal elections were as thorough as those for the balloting on May 22 and 29, which were relatively small affairs as compared with next Sunday's voting. No less than 8,170 communities will be involved in the June 12 count, against fewer than 3,000 before. In about 4,000 of these places candidates are unopposed and in many of the 1,800 predominantly German localities the election of Sudeten Germans is a foregone conclusion.

Drinks 6 Glasses of Beer, Then Robs Tavern Owner

A man entered a tavern at 3394 Milwaukee avenue yesterday, drank six glasses of beer, ate a sandwich, then took $140 and two diamond rings worth $275 from the owner, Miss Lucille Franczak.

LONE AIR RAIDER WRECKS SHIPS ON SPANISH COAST

Rebel Pilot Bombs Them; Then Strafes Crews.

MADRID, June 10 [Friday].—(AP)—The British freighter Stanray today reported she had been machine gunned off the Spanish government coast in another attack by the lone rebel plane which has bombed and wrecked French and British ships with a mounting toll of life.

The Stanray reached Valencia harbor just as rebels started a new bombardment of that city. Her officers said she had been machine gunned by the lone raider off the British operated port of Gandia, but had no casualties.

The whole government held coast was on the lookout for the raiding plane, which yesterday wrecked the British freighter Isadora off Castellon de la Plana and attacked the French freighter Brisbane outside Denia harbor, killing seven persons and wounding eight. Edward Jones, British nonintervention observer on the Brisbane, was among those killed.

French Investigate Attack.

A French destroyer steamed from Denia for Marseilles bearing the wounded French seamen, and another stood by in the port pending an investigation of the attack. The twenty-six survivors told the French consul that the lone raider bombed the ship twice and attempted to machine gun fleeing seamen.

Off Benicasim another merchant ship was said to have been attacked, with a loss of twelve killed and nineteen wounded. Identity of the ship was not given.

Another British tanker, the Maryad, previously attacked at Alicante, still was billowing clouds of smoke and began to list badly.

At Barcelona, captains of seven British ships protested to the British consul against rebel air attacks on British vessels and asked that the protest be forwarded to the foreign office.

Raids Definite Objective.

The purpose of the raider's bombardments on ships has seemed to be to strike a death blow to international commerce in government ports.

In each case he has been sure of his objective through daytime reconnaissance flights. He has swooped down at about midnight on his victims with three to six bombs, dropping them from stem to stern of each vessel.

Afterward he has flown about, machine gunning the men and craft with incendiary and armor piercing bullets.

On the war front, meanwhile, the rebels unleashed swarms of planes against Lucena del Cid and Adzaneta, sixteen and eighteen miles northwest of Castellon, in an attempt to blast government fighters from their positions. Four persans were killed and eighteen wounded when five rebel planes bombed Alicante yesterday afternoon.

CEASE BOMBING SPAIN'S CIVILIANS, POPE TO FRANCO

Protests Air Raids by Rebel Flyers.

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, June 9.—Again crossing swords with the dictators—this time with Generalissimo Francisco Franco, leader of insurgent Spain, and Premier Mussolini as well as Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler—Pope Pius XI. has protested to Burgos, seat of the Spanish rebel régime, against the bombing of civilian populations.

This news, which reached the French capital from Rome today, was prominently displayed by Catholic and conservative newspapers, such as Le Figaro and Le Temps, indicating a potentially important shift of opinion in French circles which hitherto have been strongly pro-Franco.

The pope's action added new complication to the international crisis over the question of bombing operations in and around Spain—including southern France and ships at sea.

Pope Defies Mussolini.

Reports from Rome on the position of the Italian government in this matter indicated that the pontiff is defying Il Duce, for it was declared that Fascist Italy is in no mood to accept meddling in Spain on humanitarian or any other ground.

The Fascist policy, these reports declare, is to finish the civil war in Spain as quickly as possible and use of the air arm to demoralize the populations of big cities is considered one of the best means of hastening the end of the war. If France or Great Britain are not prepared to accept these tactics, they must not count on friendly relations with Italy and any attempt to force Italy to change them will provoke extremely grave complications, some Italian sources maintain.

Virgini Gayda, Fascist editor in Rome and frequently regarded as Mussolini's mouthpiece, today said that Spanish rebel bombings of "so called open cities" were "a necessity."

Defends Spanish Bombings.

"The recent raids on Barcelona," Gayda said in his newspaper, Giornale D'Italia, "destroyed important Red [Spanish government] aerial reinforcements.

"New proof is offered the civilized world of the necessity of Spanish Nationalist [Insurgent] bombardments aimed at destroying the wings of war assembled by the Reds with foreign aid in so-called open cities."

Georges Bonnet, French foreign minister, began consultations with aids as to the course to adopt following a Spanish rebel raid on a hospital at Figueras yesterday and the reported sinking of the French ship Brisbane today.

Reports from London said the British government is sending the marquess of Londonderry to Berlin to attempt to persuade Hitler to "abstain from bombing of unfortified towns as well as ships in certain territorial waters."

Thirty French pursuit planes started patroling the French-Spanish frontier wtih orders to force down any Spanish planes attempting to fly over French territory. The patrols were ordered after an investigation of three flights of Spanish planes over France in the last two weeks in which bombs were dropped twice. Premier Edouard Daladier tonight assured the chamber of deputies French anti-aircraft batteries would fire on any planes flying into France from Spain.

BOMB TOSSED INTO BARBER SHOP.

A stench bomb was thrown through the window of a barber shop at 422½ East 63d street early yesterday. Robert Grounds, the owner, said he knew of no reason for the attack.

FIND CITY TRAFIC DETOURS TO SHUN WEST SIDE JAMS

Survey Again Shows Need for Elevated Highway.

BY HAL FOUST.

A survey just completed by the park district shows that the city's trafic streams are distorted from a normal course; that large volumes of travel regularly are on lengthy detours, due to the inadequacy of pavements directly west from the central business district.

From key stations on the boulevard system WPA observers observed the course of license numbers on trips within the city. For further information questionnaires were sent to the owners of the licenses. From 1,870 replies Otto K. Jelinek, park district trafic engineer, got a fair outline of Chicago's automobile travel pattern.

Avoid Western Entry to Loop.

From points on the northwest and on the southwest sides it was found that a large number of motorists head directly east to the lake front pavements for trips to the loop, driving extra miles to avoid the hazards and delays that would be encountered in using a western entrance into the central business district.

Even Austin and western suburbs are sending motorists to the superior pavements of the lake front in preference to shorter but less desirable routes within the city.

From the origins and destinations of the 1,870 trips that were traced it was found that a large portion of the trafic now attracted to the lake front would use an elevated highway or similar facility west from the loop or on other proposed routes to the northwest and southwest. West siders, instead of driving east to the lake front before going north or south, first would drive north or south to an elevated structure and then directly to the central business district.

57,000 Use Link Bridge Daily.

On the outer drive bridge it was found that the average daily trafic has dropped to 57,000 automobiles. At the last previous count, shortly after the completion of this bridge on Oct. 5, the volume was 80,000 a day, including many who were crossing merely to see the improvement.

Of this 57,000 daily average, including the week-end recreational drivers, only 16 per cent are en route to or from the loop. Much of this 16 per cent travels during the rush hours.

Approximately 47 per cent is crosstown trafic, the trips neither starting nor ending within two miles of Madison street. About 37 per cent originates or terminates outside the loop, but within two miles of Madison street. The distribution of this 37 per cent indicates how the central business district has broken the confines of the elevated railway loop to extend south to Roosevelt road and north to Chicago avenue.

Jam Lifted from Boulevard.

The trafic figures show how the opening of the outer drive bridge transformed Michigan avenue north of the river. On a typical day last summer the Michigan avenue span carried 65,000 automobiles, mainly through trafic, a jam that prohibited parking and inconvenienced pedestrians.

Today the boulevard is serving abutting property with limited parking, with lights adjusted for the convenience of pedestrians, and with 76 per cent of the trafic en route to or from points in an area bounded by the lake, Dearborn street, Chicago avenue, and Randolph street. The daily trafic volume is down to 37,000, and 27 per cent of the vehicles are taxicabs or buses.

The immediate outlook for any change in Chicago's trafic pattern will tend to exaggerate rather than to correct the distortion. As in most city building, the neighborhood of greatest affluence and influence—in the Chicago instance the north shore—is getting the major betterments. A $750,000 improvement of Lake Shore drive between Belmont avenue and Irving Park boulevard will be finished about July 15, and a $1,000,000 rearrangement at the south end of Lincoln park this year is to create a better connection with La Salle street.

West Side Gets Driblet.

On the west side, where congestion is so acute and the accident rate so high that much trafic detours to the lake front, there has been a bit of improvement recently from a $50,000 revamping of the trafic light system. And a one way trafic system from Grant park to the west city limits has been proposed to the city council by the park district administration for a bit more relief. But there is no immediate prospect for a major improvement such as can be attained only through the construction of an elevated highway system.

SWEITZER BOND CASE TESTIMONY ENDS ABRUPTLY

Testimony in the county's suit against the bonding company for Robert M. Sweitzer, former county clerk and county treasurer who died in April, was ended abruptly yesterday.

The motion of Egbert Robertson, counsel for the United States Casualty and Indemnity company, for a directed verdict was overruled by Judge Daniel P. Trude. The defense then rested without offering any evidence.

The jury was excused until Monday and arguments will be heard today on the judge's instructions. Jacob Shamburg, assistant state's attorney, is prosecuting the suit, which asks $269,126 from the bonding company as its liability on diversions Sweitzer made from county funds.

SCIENCE PLANE ENDS LONG HOP TO NEW GUINEA

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HOLLANDIA, New Guinea, June 10.—[Friday.]—Six American flyers, headed by Richard Archbold, New York scientist-explorer for the American Museum of Natural History, and five companions, arrived here at 1:11 p. m. [3:11 p. m. Chicago time] yesterday, after a 2,300 mile open ocean hop from Wake Island, thus completing their 8,000 mile flight from San Diego, Cal. The giant plane, Guba, known as the "flying laboratory," was brought down on the waters of Humboldt bay.

The giant plane left Wake Island at 12:30 a. m. Chicago time yesterday. Lewis A. Yancey of New York, veteran trans-Atlantic navigator, was in charge. At the controls was Russell Rogers. Gerald Brown was flight engineer and Stephen Barrinkais assistant flight engineer. They are all of New York. The radio operator is Ray Booth of Roseland, N. J.

From San Diego, starting last Thursday, the plane flew to Honolulu, about 2,300 miles. From there it flew to Wake Island, a 2,300 mile hop, the first time a plane had flown the distance without a stop. Pan-American Clipper ships fly the route, but stop at Midway Island.

The scientists will explore the jungle region around Lake Habbema, about 12,500 feet above sea level.

1,800 JAM RELIEF OFFICES AS CRA AID IS RESUMED

More than 1,800 persons applied for relief yesterday as the Chicago Relief administration resumed acceptance of new applications in its 19 district stations for the first time since May 14. Relief funds were exhausted four days later. The number of applicants yesterday was double the daily average.

Leo M. Lyons, relief commissioner, said that many of those who now apply for relief will be refused because of the 65 per cent budget on which the CRA is forced to operate because of lack of adequate funds. Since the June family budget is limited to food and only 15 per cent of other necessities, no supplemental aid will be given to relief applicants whose incomes from part-time employment equal the cost of the food budget.

Instead, American Family Flakes dissolve instantly into rich, creamy "DOUBLE SUDS" that float out grimiest dirt without hard rubbing. Make white clothes look whiter. Leave colored fabrics gay and brilliant.

This is why American Family Flakes have taught countless thousands of women that it is cheaper to buy good soap than new clothes.

Await O. K. of Advisory Group on Dr. Black.

No action will be taken to fill the vacant wardenship of Cook County hospital at the meeting of the county board today. This results from the delay in transmitting to the board the formal recommendation of its citizens' advisory committee that Dr. Benjamin W. Black of Oakland, Cal., be retained.

At the request of the advisory committee, which has been seeking a suitable candidate for the post for six months, Dr. Black came to Chicago two weeks ago and conferred with the committee, Clayton F. Smith, president of the board, and Commissioner Frank Bobrytzke, chairman of the County hospital committee.

Reach Tentative Understanding.

A tentative understanding of the conditions on which he would take the position was reached then, and President Smith asked the committee to make a formal recommendation on the matter to the board. D. F. Kelly, chairman of the committee, has drafted the recommendation, but transmission has been delayed, it is understood, because of the absence from the city of two of the advisory group.

Dr. Black is 50 years old. He was a member of the United States public health service from 1920 to 1928, during which period he organized a large number of veterans bureau hospitals, including Hines hospital at Maywood. During the latter part of his government service he was in charge of all government hospitals.

He went to Oakland in 1928 as health officer of Alameda county, in which Oakland is located, and as superintendent of the county's four public hospitals. Under his administration the Alameda county hospitals have achieved a high reputation among public institutions.

Expect Expense to Be Same.

Michael Zimmer, veteran warden of the County hospital, resigned last November, but remains in charge as acting warden until his successor is named. He is paid $12,000 yearly, furnished his living and a car and chauffeur. Dr. Black told President Smith that he preferred to work on a straight salary, which would be no higher than that now provided by the county budget. The total expense, however, probably would not be increased, President Smith said.

The board's finance committee voted yesterday to offer $25,000 for the Durand hospital and McCormick Institute buildings across the street from the County hospital. Trustees of the institutions, which have been closed for a number of years, had offered to sell them for $145,000. The commissioners rejected this offer, asserting that the age of the buildings would make their maintenance too expensive.

Justice Speaks

Justice Paul Farthing of the Illinois Supreme court (left) with Theodore Schmidt, president of the Northwestern Law Alumni association, as he addressed reunion in Furniture Mart.

Despite the current depression, college graduates who are able to combine their abilities with common sense will be successful in their chosen professions.

This optimistic note was sounded yesterday by Justice Paul Farthing of the Illinois Supreme court in an address at the annual class day exercises of the Northwestern university law school in Lincoln hall on the Chicago campus.

"I haven't much faith in all this talk of too many lawyers, too many doctors, too many everything," said Justice Farthing. "We older people are merely discouraged, too dumb and too stupid. We need you younger ones badly, we need your brains." The justice, who has served as chief justice of the state tribunal despite the fact that he is completely blind, urged the graduates to "be honest always, diligent, and faithful to your ideals."

The law school graduation will take place in Dyche stadium, Evanston, at 5:30 p. m. tomorrow. Senator Edward R. Burke of Nebraska will be the speaker.

TRUSTED WOMAN TELLER HELD FOR BANK SHORTAGE

After nine years as a trusted employé of the Western Springs State bank, Mrs. Hazel Cornwall, 29 years old, was in the county jail yesterday charged with the embezzlement of $4,300. Mrs. Cornwall resigned as teller of the bank May 27 and prepared to join her husband, Francis, in Oklahoma City, where he has started a business venture.

On the eve of her departure an audit was completed at the bank and the shortage was discovered. Mrs. Cornwall was arrested at her home, 42 South Ashland avenue, La Grange, by Police Chief Clarence Buehl of Western Springs, and was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Henry C. Pendl in Brookfield. He held her to the grand jury in $10,000 bond, which Mrs. Cornwall was unable to post.

CRABB SLAYING CASE WILL GO TO JURY TODAY

Final Arguments Center on Suicide Issue.

BY MARCIA WINN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Pekin, Ill., June 9.—[Special.]—James Warren Crabb II. sat unmoved today, his stolid, impassive face cupped in one hand, as he listened to five hours of oratory about himself.

He heard the state prosecutor excoriate him as one who ran into his stepmother's dressing room while his bride gasped her life out alone. He heard himself extolled by his defense as a "kid that is honest, a kid that believes in people."

Young Crabb, son of nearby Delavan's leading banker, was listening to the closing arguments in his manslaughter trial in Circuit court here. He is charged with fatally shooting his bride of five weeks, Betty Collison Crabb, in his father's home early last March 1.

The final arguments will be completed tomorrow and the case probably will go to the jury in the afternoon.

Three Other Crabbs Nearby.

Although James was the object of curious attention while both sides summed up their cases, even more curiosity was directed toward a bench nearby where three other Crabbs sat side by side.

First was Willis Crabb, James' silver haired father. Beside Willis sat his first wife and James' mother, silver haired Elizabeth Crabb, her face tense and drawn. Beside Elizabeth sat Willis' second wife, young Catherine Crabb, looking demure and not at all uncomfortable.

In his argument Special Prosecutor John E. Cassidy retraced the state's evidence, telling of Betty's last night alive and her death in her bedroom from a .45 caliber revolver which he said only her husband could have fired.

Cassidy attacked the defense theory of suicide, pointing out that James Crabb's first impulse, in the event of suicide, would have been to look for the gun and try to help his wife.

"But when the police came up, two minutes after the shot, everything was quiet, quiet as a tomb," the prosecutor declared, "when by every natural law, every moral law, this 6 foot 170 pound man, who was in the dressing room being comforted by Catherine Crabb, should have been bent over his wife imploring her to live, seeking to aid her.

"But there was no one there. No one. According to Ringo [Constable E. W. Ringo of Delavan], she was alone. Does that comport with suicide?

"Why did Catherine Crabb lead James away from his dying wife? Why didn't she stay. Why was it necessary for them to sit in the dressing room while the girl lay dying?"

"I submit," Cassidy continued, his voice low and ominous, "this girl did not commit suicide. I ask you by your verdict to say she did not and say by your verdict that no one in this county is above the law!"

Argues for Suicide Theory.

Attorney J. M. Powers, first of the defense counsel to speak, argued that Betty's death must have been suicide, but that if it wasn't, accidents do happen. The state, he contended, has proved nothing but a case of accident. It has proved no motive for manslaughter, he said.

Powers used a yardstick in an effort to demonstrate to the jury the angle at which Betty was shot. Judging from the bullet's course, he said, the shot could have been fired only by the girl.

After attacking the testimony of Constable Ringo—that he saw James come out of the bedroom where his bride lay dying [in his confession the defendant admitted going back to hide the gun]—on the ground that Ringo is half blind, Powers turned to the unsigned confession which the defendant made in the county jail here twelve days after his wife's death.

Denounces Confession.

"That story [the confession] is based on violation of the law," he roared, "on violation of the rights of this boy. Even so, the only thing he did say in it is that his wife grabbed the gun.

"What does it bring forth? That his wife grabbed the gun. He didn't intend to harm his wife. Now, do you think he did?"

Defense Attorney L. P. Dunkelberg also attacked James' confession, telling the jury that the statement is "slim evidence when you pick it apart."

He pointed out that of fifty-one questions in the confession twenty-five were answered with the single word "yes" and four were answered by "yes, sir." The substance of the confession, he declared, was put into James' mouth through the questions.

W. J. Reardon, chief of defense counsel, will close the defense arguments with his rebuttal.

HAPPINESS BY THE YARD

By CALEB

"YOU PEOPLE do a pretty good translation job," remarked a patron to one of our salespeople recently.

"How do you mean?" she replied, "I don't speak any language beside English."

"I know you don't," laughed her customer, "but just the same—you do translate things all day long. For instance, you've just sold me this little boat, plus a sail to go on it. Do you know how you did it? By translation.

"When I first looked at that boat, I was certain we couldn't afford to buy it. The minute you joined me you began your translation job. It wasn't long before I'd told you about my son's illness and the necessity for getting him to take a lot of outdoor exercise.

"Well, right there your translation began. You substituted for that price tag some computations about the number of hours of happiness this boat would bring Robert. You explained how he could handle it without too much exertion. You listed a dozen things—among them its advantages over any other form of incentive to keep him in the sun—and busy.

"You translated that price tag so completely that I forgot its existence. When the matter of adding a sail for the boat came up—the translation carried over. You've done us all a real service. This little boat is the best investment I've made this year—and I'm certain I wouldn't have made it if your job of translation hadn't been so well done."

Although we may not express it quite so clearly as this customer friend did, we habitually think of our merchandise in terms of service and happiness.

If we could add up all the hours of pleasure that come from the possession of things we sell — the total would stretch into impressive years. It's hard to convey to the uninitiated the enjoyment of furnishing a young man with his first pair of long trousers; selling a girl her first formal party gown, the first set of furs, a trousseau.

What fun it is to help a young couple pick out their first home furnishings! How we share in the pleasure of the new fishing rod, the shotgun, the saddle and riding habit!

All these are a part of our job of translation: merchandise into pleasure and service. We like it—and those who speak the same language will understand why we do.

TEXAS MUSIC CRITIC NAMED FESTIVAL JUDGE

E. Clyde Whitlock Lauds Chicagoland Event.

E. Clyde Whitlock, music critic of the Fort Worth, Tex., Star-Telegram, head of the violin department of the Fort Worth Conservatory of Music, and vice president of the Texas Music Teachers' association, will be a judge in the Chicagoland Music Festival choral competition this summer. The contest will be held in the Drake hotel on the day of the festival, Saturday, Aug. 20. Mr. Whitlock also has been directing choruses and choirs for twenty years.

E. Clyde Whitlock.

An ardent booster of the Chicagoland Music Festival, Mr. Whitlock has attended several of them, arranging his vacation period to take in this great spectacle. Concerning it he says:

"The Chicagoland Music Festival not only in the largest single annual musical event in the country but, by that very token, one of the most far-reaching and valuable.

"It is an incomparable spectacle, as seen from the audience, but it has educational and inspirational value as well, especially to the thousands of participating boys and girls who will be the music appreciators, supporters, and purveyors of the next generation. The benefits do not cease with the event itself, but are felt in many a city and village long before and after the visible celebration."

65 Slot Machine Operators Plead Guilty; Fined $2,500

Police Magistrate Henry J. Sandusky of Cicero yesterday fined sixty-three men and two women a total of $2,500 when they pleaded guilty to charges of disorderly conduct growing out of slot machine raids by State's Attorney Courtney in Forest Park, Elmwood Park, Chicago Heights, Calumet City, and Niles. Most of those fined were tavern owners.

CLUBMAN LOSES PLEA FOR PARDON IN DRIVING CASE

Harry W. Gahagan, clubman and real estate dealer who was sentenced to 20 days in the Bridewell and fined $200 two years ago for drunken driving, was denied a pardon by Gov. Horner in Springfield yesterday.

Gahagan applied for a pardon three weeks ago when the Supreme court affirmed his conviction. Before the pardon board he pleaded that he was not intoxicated when arrested, but that he was driving fast because he believed he was being followed by holdup men. The Bridewell commitment had been stayed by the courts pending action on this application.

Gahagan lives at 5555 Sheridan road.

COUPLE INJURED WHEN AUTO HITS REAR END OF BUS

A man and a woman were injured yesterday when their automobile crashed into the rear of a surface lines bus which was discharging passengers in Pulaski road at 57th street.

The victims were Edward Hadlock, 600 North Kenilworth avenue, Oak Park, driver of the car, and his companion, Mrs. Ida Riley, 3240 Polk street. Hadlock was charged with reckless driving.

Four policemen were injured when their car collided with a produce truck at Loomis and 13th streets early in the day while the squad was pursuing an automobile that had run several stop lights. Those hurt are Timothy O'Connell, William Higgins, William Glennon, and Edward Witry, all assigned to the detective bureau. The fugitive car escaped.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 365 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these 282 were killed in Chicago, where 7,719 were injured in the same period.

One Jailed, Another Fined for Driving While Drunk

Dewey Sanders, colored, 3020 Prairie avenue, was sent to jail for 15 days for driving while intoxicated by Judge John J. Gutknecht in Trafic court yesterday. David Cordgray, 342 Harrison street, Oak Park, was fined $100 on a similar charge.

Hospital Service corporation has approved 96.8 per cent of the 3,000 claims made by its 52,000 members on hospital bills, Perry Addleman, executive director of the Plan for Hospital Care, said yesterday at a luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis club.

WARNER WIDOW FIGHTS IN-LAWS' SUIT FOR RENT

Mrs. Marion Warner Rogers of Lake Forest, widow of Ezra J. Warner, one of the founders of Sprague, Warner & Co., wholesale grocers, appeared yesterday in Judge John J. Lupe's court to tell why she stopped paying her sister-in-law's rent.

Kenneth Hall, 48 years old, Mrs. Rogers' brother, is being sued for separate maintenance by Mrs. Carrie Hall, 45 years old, 1140 Pratt boulevard. She asked, through Attorney Benjamin Davis, that Hall be ordered to provide support and that Mrs. Rogers be ordered to pay her rent on the ground that Mrs. Rogers had agreed to do so when Hall conveyed his share of a lot in Lake Forest to his sister. Mrs. Rogers denied making such an agreement, but said she had paid Mrs. Hall's rent until May 1. Now her income has been cut in two, she told the court, and she is no longer able to pay the rent, although she is still giving Hall $10 a week.

Judge Lupe pointed out that he could not order Mrs. Rogers to pay rent unless she were made a party to the suit. Attorney Davis said he would amend his complaint. Hall was ordered to give his estranged wife $20 a week.

IDENTIFIES BODY OF HER SON.

Mrs. Anna Wieloch, 4845 South Throop street, yesterday identified the body of a boy taken from the Chicago river as that of her son, Eugene, 11 years old, who had been missing since Saturday.

Fire Chief William C. Watters of Oak Park was as happy as a new father yesterday. The reason was the arrival of the suburb's new $15,000 streamlined fire truck. Similar to Chicago's latest fire fighting equipment, the truck has an inclosed, heated cab for seven men. It will pump 12,050 gallons of water a minute and is capable of traveling 30 miles an hour. It will be housed at Euclid avenue and Lake street.

ASYLUM INMATE WINS $55,000 OF MATE'S ESTATE

'Other Woman' and Bank Fight Mrs. Nott's Claim.

A widow who is in a state hospital for the insane yesterday won two claims against her husband's estate. The claims totaled more than $55,000.

The awards were granted by Probate Judge John F. O'Connell after hearing Attorney David J. A. Hayes, conservator of the estate of Mrs. Maude Bryant Nott, once prominent Chicago club woman; Attorney Cushman Bissell, representing the Harris Trust and Savings bank, and Attorney John Bissell, representing Mrs. Gwendoline Lawson Proctor, a divorcée, 5524 Dorchester avenue. Harry Nott, an investment broker who died in March a year ago, left Mrs. Proctor all his $560,000 estate except his wife's dower third. The bank is administrator of Nott's estate.

Asks $35,000 Widow's Award.

Of the $55,000, Conservator Hayes asked $35,000 as the widow's award, which is usually allowed while an estate is in probate. The rest, $20,042, is claimed by the conservator as due under a contract Nott entered into with his wife in 1919 to pay her $150 a month separate maintenance, together with interest on the arrearage since she was committed to Manteno state hospital in 1927.

Attorney John Bissell objected to the $35,000 widow's award, asserting that the separate maintenance contract provides for all her possible wants, most of which are being provided by the state anyway.

In arguing for the arrearage on the contract, Conservator Hayes mentioned that Nott had made twelve wills, in eight of which he bequeathed large shares of his estate to nine different women, describing them as "dear friends." The latest of these was Mrs. Proctor.

In Three Different Asylums.

Nott first had his wife committed to an insane asylum in Kansas City in 1912, records show, but she was released in a few months. She was committed to Kankakee State hospital in 1918 and released the following year. She was committed to Manteno on petition of a doorman at the Harris bank, Nott's fiscal agent.

Attorney Hayes said in court yesterday that in 1926 Nott offered his wife $25,000 for a divorce so he could remarry. "That was only a year before he sent her away again," he added.

After Judge O'Connell asked Hayes why he was not basing the contract claim on the actual value of the estate, instead of on Nott's own valuation of his wealth at $100,000 when the separate maintenance contract was made, Hayes said he would bring suit to win a larger share for the widow. The judge also gave Mrs. Proctor's attorney permission to appeal the award on the contract claim.

SINGER ART JARRETT IS GRANTED DIVORCE FROM ELEANOR HOLM

Los Angeles, Cal., June 9.—(AP)—Arthur L. Jarrett, singing orchestra leader, today obtained a divorce from Eleanor Holm, former Olympia swimmer.

All the talk of a romance between Eleanor and Billy Rose, theatrical producer, caused Jarrett great mental anguish and embarrassment, he testified in so many words at the hearing. Judge Charles E. Haas granted him the decree.

Rose and Miss Holm have declared they would be married if Jarrett obtained a divorce and if Rose's wife, Fanny Brice, did likewise. The court asked Jarrett whether his wife embarassed him otherwise.

"Yes," he replied. "She was a member of the 1936 Olympic swimming team and she was dismissed from the team because of alleged drinking on the boat going to Europe."

DIVORCE ASKED BY LUISE RAINER, STAR OF FILMS

Hollywood, Cal., June 9.—[Special.]—Twice winner of the award of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences for meritorious performances, Luise Rainer, black haired Viennese motion picture star, filed suit for divorce against Clifford Odets, famous playwright, today. She charged cruelty.

The divorce came as something of a surprise to most of Hollywood, although there had been rumblings for the last several weeks that all was not well in the Rainer-Odets household. Odets is believed to be in the east and whether he will contest the action is not known.

"Miss Rainer deeply regrets that it has been necessary for her to take this step. She believes this is best for Mr. Odets and herself. She has the highest admiration for him, but differences make it impossible to continue their marital life."

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

By Bob Becker

Wild Flowers in Glory.

June 9, 1938.

IT'S still late spring as far as wild flowers and vegetation are concerned. When we hiked across the Tribune's Du Page county farm yesterday we saw many flowering weeds and species of wild flowers that tell the outdoor fan summer hasn't quite arrived, even though it won't be very long until the new season is with us.

When you record the advance of the seasons through the appearance of certain plants in the woods, this week must be marked down as the one which sees the largest number of wild flowers blossoming beneath the big shade trees.

Solomon Seal Abundant.

The true Solomon Seal, with its bell-shaped blossoms, is abundant. The bittersweet nightshade with small, dark purple flowers is evident in many places. Vines of the wild yam are climbing over the wild cherry saplings and any other sturdy plant they can lean on. The gray dogwood is in blossom. Its small clusters of flowers are slightly fragrant.

Most conspicuous of all are the green dragons . . . those tall, three foot cousins of the Jack-in-the-pulpit. Dr. George Fuller, professor emeritus of ecology, University of Chicago, said yesterday he had never seen a bigger showing.

Although we found the woods unusually attractive, the fields are even more beautiful. Practically every one is a large flower bed, thanks to the gay, white and yellow ox-eye daisies and the three kinds of clover in blossom. When we hiked to the pool where a pair of white swans are supposed to hatch out some cygnets we noticed that two conspicuous patches of daisies added a lot of spring color and life.

No motorist in Chicagoland or visitor to the farm can miss the daisies which seem to be unusually abundant this year. There are many acres of them in blossom.

Kept Out of Fields.

The weather man still seems determined to keep the men out of the fields this season. Just when it looks like the rain has stopped and the sun is going to dry the ground, along comes another downpour.

Early in the week the fields were not completely dry, but they had dried out enough so that the men could get into them with plows and planters. After a half day of work, another heavy rain forced them to take their machinery back to the barns.

So the men are doing odd jobs around the farm buildings. Some of them are repairing a road grader which will be used on the sand and gravel roads of the farm later in the summer. And near another group of barns we watched three of the men getting several hay racks ready for duty. As soon as the fields are a little drier it will be time to make the first cutting of alfalfa.

WELCOME HOME DINNER HELD FOR GEN. M'CLOSKEY

Brig. Gen. Manus McCloskey, who made military history at Chateau Thierry when to the French command to retreat he retorted, "Hell, no, we just got here," was honored with a dinner last night at the Adventurers' club. The dinner marked Gen. McCloskey's return to Chicago and was given by the Illinois branch of the 2d Division association, A. E. F.

Gen. McCloskey, who recently retired as commander of the artillery post at Fort Bragg, N. C., exchanged reminiscences at the dinner with Brig. Gen. Hiram Bearas of Peru, Ind., who acquired his nickname of "Hikem" in the Philippines in 1930 when his detachment searching for a lost company became lost and wandered forty days in the Philippine jungle. Both generals served as lieutenants in China during the Boxer rebellion.

Sally Rand, fan dancer, also attended the dinner to help the association drum up interest for its "20 years after" reunion at the Sherman hotel, July 14 to 18.

DENIES VIOLENCE USED BY CHICAGO A.F.L. MILK UNION

Ray Bryant, business representative since 1919 of the Milk Wagon Drivers' union, local 753, affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, testified yesterday before Master in Chancery Charles A. McDonald that so far as he knew members of his union had committed no acts of violence against independent dairies hiring nonunion drivers or against stores served by them.

The hearing was held in connection with an injunction sought by three cut-rate dairies and the Amalgamated Dairy Workers' union, local 819, affiliate of the Committee for Industrial Organization, to stop what they declare are strong arm methods used by the A. F. of L. local in restraint of trade. Bryant was a witness for Defense Attorney David A. Riskind.

On cross-examination by Attorney Arthur Seelig, for the plaintifs, Bryant said that both he and two other union officers held life-tenure of office and that his annual salary, unchanged since 1932, was $9,000.

SASKATCHEWAN LIBERALS WIN 36 OF 52 SEATS

REGINA, Saskatchewan, June 9.—(AP)—Premier W. J. Patterson's Liberal government was returned to power today for another five years in a provincial election in which Saskatchewan overwhelmingly rejected the Social Credit party's initial bid for office.

The Liberals won 36 of the province's 52 seats while only two of the 39 candidates backed by William Aberhart, Alberta's Social Credit premier, were successful. For the second successive term the Conservatives failed to gain legislative representation.

Besides the Liberals and Social Credit members, the other parties winning were the Coöperative Commonwealth federation with 10 seats; and the Union Progressives and Independents with one each. Elections will be held later to fill the remaining two seats.

ASSAILS PENDING LICENSE BILL AS BLANK CHECK TAX

Oscar G. Mayer, president of the Chicago Association of Commerce, yesterday labeled the legislation pending at Springfield to enable cities and towns to tax business enterprises for relief purposes as blank check taxation and destructive regulation. He urged that all Chicago business men go to Springfield next Tuesday to present a mass protest against its possible enactment. In a letter to the heads of thousands of Chicago business houses, Mayer declared:

"Once passed and its fund raising possibilities employed, it is unlikely that such a law ever would be repealed. If history means anything, its extension to permit diverting of funds for any purpose when the relief problem becomes less urgent is extremely probable."

Baby Strangled Fatally, Chiffonier Falls on Him

Three months ago Gordon Wilkinson, 3 years old, 4509 Magnolia avenue, found that by pulling out the drawers of a chiffonier and using them as steps he could climb to the top. Yesterday as he climbed, pulling with him his brother, Thomas Jr., 2 years old, the chiffonier toppled and fell on the two children, strangling Thomas to death. Gordon's cries brought his mother, Helen, to the scene in time to save him.

BAR HEARS PLEA TO HELP NATION; INSTALL LEADERS

The public needs the counsel and leadership of lawyers in solving the nation's problems, Charles M. Hay of St. Louis declared last night at the annual dinner of the Chicago Bar association in the headquarters at 29 South La Salle street. Mr. Hay is counsel for the Railroad Labor Executives' association.

"Some of the questions which challenge lawyers," Hay said, "are how to steer our course between the excesses of unrestrained individualism and the regimentations and undue restraints of government, and how to redefine the respective scope and functions of state and federal governments so as to preserve both as effective servants of the people."

Henry P. Chandler was installed as president of the bar association, succeeding Hayes McKinney. Others who took office are Tappan Gregory and William H. King, vice presidents; Albert E. Jenner Jr., secretary; Joseph E. Fitch, treasurer; Alfred Beck, librarian, and Grenville Beardsley, Frederick C. Hack, William M. Keeley, Albert J. Meserow, and Richard C. Stevenson, members of the board of managers.

CARPENTER WINS LEGAL CUSTODY OF TRAILER BABY

Albert Ytsma, a carpentry contractor, and his wife yesterday were awarded the custody of James Palmer Jr., 3 years old, the infant born in a trailer parked in a lonely cemetery. The Ytsmas, who have cared for the child for a year, live at 3455 West 111th street.

Judge Win G. Knoch of Naperville, sitting in the County court here instructed Attorney Albert C. Lucius to draw up a decree of adoption. He said his ruling was based on the plea of the child's father, an itinerant well driller, who is 72 years old. He asked that his son be left in the Ytsmas' care. The Ytsmas are about 45 years old.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Grant, 11309 South Spaulding avenue, opposed the baby's adoption and sought his legal custody. Grant, 28 years old, is the half brother of the child's mother.

THE ATROCITY PROPAGANDA.

Japan's denial that its bombers are deliberately seeking to destroy the civilian sections of Canton and kill as many as possible of the population will be treated with more incredulity, probably, than it may deserve. Canton is the entry port for much of the war material used by the Chinese armies. If a just cause were granted Japan in China, its air attacks upon an enemy base of supplies and means of communication might not be so bitterly execrated in neutral circles. The basis of the feeling in the matter is the belief that a powerful military nation has made an unprovoked and brutal attack upon a people inadequately prepared to defend themselves. With that opinion underneath, the view of military operations involving the destruction of civilian property and population is naturally bitter and unrelenting.

Furthermore, it should be realized that although there were air attacks on what the Germans called fortified towns, such as London, during the world war, the present conflicts in Spain and China have presented air bombing of civilian centers as a new atrocity of war without precedent. War is destruction, and whatever is new and unfamiliar is always much more horrible than what has come to be regarded almost, it might be said, as conventional. Attempts to find refinements in war in any age are not likely to result intelligently.

There has also been a great deal of exaggeration in the reports of bombing and its effects. There are several reasons for this. One is the natural instinct of journalism to make the most of a new terror in war, particularly when military nations, regarded as the enemies of mankind, are the guilty parties. Capt. M. M. Corpening, TRIBUNE correspondent who has been on the scene both in China and in Spain, did not find that the most highly colored stories had justification in fact. Corpening is a soldier and he is a flyer.

Then there are reasons of state, which would cause governments opposed to Italy, Germany, and Japan to make the most of the air raids for purposes of policy, which can be plainly perceived. These governments are probably more interested now than they were in 1914 in influencing neutral opinion, especially in the United States, and building it up so firmly on their side that they can depend upon it if they are forced into war. This country has had experience with this before and it would be unwise for it to expose its better judgment to the play of its emotions and not demand that its own future be guided by what it can determine for its own good.

Our state department, to the astonishment of few, has already fled from that sound position. Its representatives, including Mr. Hull, have expressed their horror and detestation, and naturally they mold the opinions of many of their fellow countrymen. In doing so they are hardly serving their own country. They should be the most dispassionate of Americans. The luxury of personal sentiments is not to be theirs. Private individuals may follow their bent, but the men responsible for government in the United States are responsible for the welfare of all its people.

There is a propaganda mill and our state department is supporting it. The reason for the propaganda is not far to seek. The British navy dominates European waters as much now as it ever did. Great Britain believes that it has solved the submarine menace. The new danger to Britain is the airplane. The British fleet can blockade and starve Europe now as it has been able to do for the past centuries. The imposition of starvation on a people is a conventional military practice. It arouses no protest. Nor does the bombardment of a town by naval guns. The only weapon which can be used against Great Britain is the airplane. If that weapon can be outlawed, or if a sure defense can be found against it, Great Britain is supreme now as in the past. It is easier to outlaw for the present than to trust to defenses.

If American feelings can be worked up by propaganda as they were twenty years ago, so that America will go to war against the users of aviation as in 1917 she went to war against the users of the submarine, Great Britain has, if forced again into war, started with an invaluable ally whose resources of men, money and supplies may mean victory. That is nothing an American can encourage or invite. Every proof that war is horrible is admonition that the United States should fight none but its own and those unavoidable.

LITTLE BUSINESS MEN ORGANIZE.

The growing apathy of small business men toward the New Deal has been in evidence for nearly six months. The administration has sought by public denunciation of large enterprises and praise of small ones to check the loss of confidence on the part of men of moderate means. Convincing evidence of official solicitude for small employers was said to have been afforded by the proceedings instituted against heads of some of the largest corporations. As a stage prop for a dramatic attack on monopolies by Assistant Attorney General Jackson and Secretary Harold Ickes last February a conference of little business men was called in Washington.

In addition to the other motive it was believed that the meeting would convince congress that, though big business was against the administration's policies, little business men were overwhelmingly for the New Deal. But the little business men at their conference refused to be dominated by the administration stooges who were on hand to "assist" in drafting a program. And what emerged was a body of principles, numbering ten, as antagonistic to the Roosevelt administration as came from any group which had taken a position.

The Washington meeting focused attention upon an organization that was already in process of formation. Under the leadership of De Witt Emery, who operates a small printing establishment at Akron, O., the National Small Business Men's association has been brought into being. Branches have been established in a number of leading cities. Local chapters are to select 2,000 delegates to meet in Pittsburgh in September. The purpose of the organization is to make the influence of small business felt in national affairs. It gives convincing evidence of being able to do just that. For that reason it is deserving of support.

THE ENEMIES OF HOSPITAL REFORM.

We have appealed to the churches and civic bodies of Cook county to lose no time in making their vast influence felt for the relief of the indigent sick through the radical reform of the County hospital administration and allied services.

The need for this reform is chronic but critical. The obstructions are official inertia and the self-interest of spoils politics. The authority which must be brought in line is the county board. While President Smith and Commissioner Bobrytzki have shown a commendable spirit and coöperated with citizens' committees which have been working so intelligently and long to produce a plan of action, there has developed the opposition familiar in such situations. Four million dollars a year are disposed of in the hospital services. A certain sort of unscrupulous politics is reluctant to lose such control as it is able to enjoy. Favors are useful in practical politics. The establishment of a high grade administration, fully empowered and independent of political dictation, is not to be welcomed by low grade politics.

But it must be won by the moral force of the community in spite of this opposition, its surreptitious devices and its false arguments. The hoped for appointment of Dr. Black has already disclosed these arguments. One is that the job should go to a citizen of Cook county. This would be strictly satisfactory if a man with the qualities and experience essential to the accomplishment of this difficult work were to be found in Cook county. The experts who know the field and have canvassed the situation have not found him. The only respectable concern is the relief of the sick through skilled and disinterested administration.

This objection is a fraud.

Another objection arises in connection with compensation. Dr. Black is paid $12,000 in Alameda where his position is secure and his powers ample. It is believed that he may be induced to come to the Cook county task if sufficient authority and independence were assured him, and this calls for action at Springfield to amend the existing inadequate law. He must also be offered a higher compensation, which would also be justified by the work he will be called upon to do. In comment on this aspect of the problem a sudden passion for economy has broken out among some of the commissioners, one of whom has declared that no man under heaven is worth more than ten or twelve thousand dollars a year. The fact is that an administrator such as Dr. Black has proved to be could and would save the county hundreds of thousands of dollars, probably half a million, annually and at the same time provide infinitly better service to the sick.

This objection is also a fraud. It has nothing to do with economy. It is an effort to prevent economy and efficiency with it.

We do not yet name these opponents of an urgently needed reform. We cite their pretended objections to show the citizens of Cook county that stupid and unscrupulous opposition is already in operation and must be put down and kept down if the care of the sick is to be put permanently on a civilized basis in Cook county. The good citizenship of Cook county must make its will prevail through prompt and organized action. The present setup wastes public money while producing human suffering and inhuman neglect of the helpless. Let the churches and civic agencies act now. They are certain of victory.

VICTIMS OF THE NEW DEAL.

The huge success of the meeting of bank depositors and insurance policy holders in Salt Lake City has resulted in proposals to hold similar meetings in other cities. Here is a welcome indication that the people of small and moderate means are waking up.

Too long they were deluded with the idea that the New Deal was an attack on the rich and only the rich. Too long the average man has let his envy of those better off than himself blind him to the plight in store for him under New Deal planning and economics.

Happily the truth is now becoming clear to almost every one possessed of normal intelligence. The New Deal is aimed at all self-sufficient persons, all persons able to make their own livings, which is to say the great majority of the American people. Millions have been thrown out of work, as the mounting figures of unemployment prove. The desire of all decent citizens to provide for the future has been thwarted by the government's reckless squandering of bank and insurance funds, including the social security deposits. It is true, as was said at the Salt Lake meeting, that the government will pay back a dollar for every dollar so borrowed, but the question remains, what will the repaid dollars buy when the government gets around to discharge its debts?

The rich have least to fear. The evil results of the New Deal will fall most heavily precisely upon the provident men and women of small means who must depend upon bank deposits, insurance funds, interest and dividends for their security in old age and adversity.

MASTERLY.

[Baltimore Evening Sun.]

To an interpellation regarding the government's plans for the Olympic games in Tokio Marquis Koichi Kido, minister of welfare, made answer:

> China has taken the attitude of prolonging hostilities toward Japan, but we are putting forth every effort to end this current conflict.

This is, we submit, masterly. The world has long been in need of a formula to announce to ma that the dog, after walking a mile through a rainstorm, is now sleeping in the middle of her best bedspread; and here is obviously the man who could write it.

Swing in Pencil.

A blue-eyed hatless fellow going up Michigan avenue yesterday with a folder under his arm containing drawings and lithographs was George von Physter, swing musician turned artist. His graphic portrayals of the life of swing, showing boarding house bedroom jam sessions, jobless musicians on a street corner, interiors of hot-spots, like the Nest, well known in earlier years on Chicago's south side, and a Kansas barrel house spot called "The Orange Blossom" will be out in book form next month with the swing magazine Down Beat as publishers, and pieces by some of the famous masters of swing accompanying the drawings. Von Physter is a string bass player, who before he studied art and went west to be a Hollywood designer played in Benny Meroff's band and others about the country. His drawings are so authentic that swing musicians have been buying the lithographs. The original of one hangs in the Three Deuces café on State street. He's an artist who knows where the beat is, as a swingmaster would say.

Local No. 10½.

Any Monday afternoon you will find a good many musicians of the town—and particularly those out of work—standing around on Randolph street between Dearborn and Clark. "Local No. 10½" it is called. The headquarters of the musicians' union, Local No. 10, is just around the corner on West Washington street. It's an out-of-door booking office and a shop-gossip center. That well-tailored gentleman with eyeglasses you might have seen last week was Tommy Dorsey; the round-faced, casually dressed younger one, Bob Crosby.

JUNE WISH.

This is our castle on a hilltop,
The pathway winding upward from the lea,
This the vista from the turret tower,

For making fairy tea—our wishing well—
Then dip and make a wish—oh, magic brew,
Protect our lovely castle from the storm

Notes on Bellmen.

You probably think bellmen only perform services and run errands in hotels. Those at one hotel alone—we learn from Bellman No. 9, H. W. Benjamin, at the Congress—have within the last few years had errands that took them to Elgin, Gary, and other nearby towns; one lad went on an errand to Detroit for a patron and another to New Orleans.

‡

Stiff—A non-tipping guest (not what you thought!).
"Q"-ter—A 25 cent tip.
Half-rock—A 50 cent tip.
Deemer—A 10 cent tip. (Also "a thin one," "coffee and . . .").
McGee—A cheap piece of luggage.
Hungry—Overambitious bellboy.
Dead work—Work with no tip received.
On the gun—Elevator relief.
Down the alley—Luggage being carried by a guest.
Shredded wheat—Old type straw luggage.
Keester—A bag or grip.
Screw—A key.

‡

"Business is so bad," said George Jessel, drinking a glass of beer at Gibby's before starting for the ball game, "that they've changed the name of Seventh avenue in New York to Route 77-B."

‡

The other day radio friends and associates of Gale Page, who knew her in Chicago as a radio songstress, gathered about the telephone and talked to her in Hollywood. She was called off the set where she is working in "Sister Act." Our own first recollection of Gale Page was when she wasn't Gale Page at all—but Sally Tritschler. We walked into the then Helen Logan's drawing room one day, where an extraordinarily pretty girl with brown eyes and very white teeth was singing "Lady, Play Your Mandolin." That dates it—it must have been 1929. And she was Mrs. Freddie Tritschler, Junior Leaguer, with no thought of radio or the movies in her pretty head. Now she is working on her third picture in four months.

Being a Uncle.

It doesn't seem any different to be a uncle. I think it is better not to be a Uncle, in some way, because they think you to be something. I think it would be nice not to be a Uncle, because then you would not half to here them call you Uncle while you are around them. One thing about being a Uncle, the kids are always looking for candy or something. If you give one something you have to give the other some to or there will be a fight.

The maine thing in being a uncle is having fun with the younger children, by playing joks on them, and making fun of them. This gets them so made that they do not want to have nothing to do with you, but then I like to give them candy and get them back to liking me again.

Considering the number of tag days of late, perhaps the theme song of them all should be "Tags for the Memory."

He could intone a simple "Ah!"
With such ornate rotundity
Of vocal nuance, it would seem

One of the surprises of the northwest side is a charming little city garden tucked away behind a modest home at 4906 Karlov avenue, a real garden with velvet greensward, hedges, flowers, and a little white pergola. The garden is no product of a landscape architect, but the creation of a postal employé and his wife, O. K. Ausburg, chief clerk of the railway mail service. Lombardy poplars form a back drop for the garden and hide the alley fence. There is a flagstone walk leading to the white pergola and the two white love seats. A hedge of climbing roses, pale columbine, lemon lilies, iris, peonies, and larkspur edge the curving greensward. Ageratum and verbena fringe the pool; the blaze rose and red clematis add a touch of color among the pale colored blooms. The owners have done it all themselves, even to a gentle illumination for moonless nights. A guest book filled with names testifies to the fame of their garden. . . . There's a moral in all this, but heaven forbid we go about pointing out morals, even if we recognize them.

MAKE EATING AN INTELLIGENT PASTIME.

WE, the people of the United States, spend more than 12 billion dollars each year for food, and yet it is probably a fair statement that more attention is paid to its appearance and palatability than to its nutritive value. We must realize that the physical prowess of the race, even its mentality, lies at the beck and call of our dietitians and cooks.

Along with the preparation of edibles must come their wise selection. We cannot continue merely to fill the stomach three times daily with just anything that is sufficiently tasty to be swallowed, for the diet must supply many substances, each of which is vital. Not only should these elements be present, but we have learned that they must be in balance. They also play a rôle in the processes of digestion, which means solution of everything we eat ere absorption can occur.

Not all that we swallow, however, is dissolved, and the alimentary tract rejects as useless fibers and refuse. No particle enters the blood from the intestine that is larger than 1-25 millionth of an inch in diameter. This indicates that starches, fats, and proteins which cannot be dissolved in water must be changed into a soluble form.

Another thing that we have learned is that the total used must be based on the needs of the body. The growing boy, busy at games and at school, may use 5,000 calories in each 24 hours—twice as much as his father who is leading a life of average activity.

We know positively that we cannot get along without certain minerals. First in importance is iron, required for the formation of the red coloring matter of the blood. Then come iodine, salt, copper, calcium, magnesium, potassium, and phosphorus. With many of these only infinitesimal bits are necessary. For example, according to Palmer, less than 1-250 thousandth of an ounce of copper daily is called for.

The protein ration for the normal adult may be met with one egg, a glass of milk, a serving of cheese, and four ounces of meat. These proportions, plus the ordinary sources from vegetables, will prove satisfying. The amount suggested, of course, is the minimum, and one can consume more if the nitrogen excreting apparatus is in good order. In the presence of certain kidney difficulties more than this may not create a happy situation.

We all understand the place of vitamins in the diet. One question, however, is puzzling. Can they be stored? As far as vitamin C is concerned we can save up to 50,000 to 60,000 units, enough to last for two months or so. But it takes only five ounces of strawberries, grapefruit juice, or orange juice to supply 1,000 units, and this quantity every morning, or its equivalent from cabbages, water cress, tomatoes, or potatoes in later meals, will keep us supplied.

But how much do we eat, as a rule? Most of us probably are taking twice as much food as the body requires. This is bound to take its toll from the vital organs. Not only must the digestive glands work overtime, but the blood and all the organs of excretion are obliged to put forth extra effort. True enough, we can hoard beneath the skin, in the liver, and in the muscles a certain amount of reserve, but there is a limit even to this piling up of fat, which so often becomes a burden instead of a source of strength. In this respect we may liken the system to a reservoir which is level full. If we enlarge the intake we must in like manner increase the outgo.

If we will only face the situation clearly we must admit that many of us eat for the fun of it, and the pleasures of the table are not to be dismissed lightly. But there must be a middle course which will lead to joy in eating and, at the same time, make for physical and mental fitness. The chances are that hardening of the arteries and many maladies of later years may be traced some day to out of balance food factors.

DELAY DOES NOT HELP.

Mrs. H. writes: Is it advisable to have a polyp about the size of a marble removed from the uterine canal? I am 47 years old and menstruation has not ceased definitly. I was under the impression that this should not be done until the menopause is over.

REPLY.

Polyps grow from the mucous membrane of the cervix, the result of irritation. They may cause bleeding and a discharge. At the hands of an expert, removal is a simple procedure without danger. Follow-up treatment will prevent recurrence. Nothing is to be gained by delay.

TAKE WATER; OMIT SALT.

W. M. writes: About twelve years ago I had a physical breakdown and my physician told me to eliminate salt from my foods, except that used in cooking. I have followed this practice and, at 70 years of age, am quite well, though constipated. I heard recently that drinking—before breakfast—a quart of water to which two teaspoonfuls of salt have been added is a good way to regulate the bowel. Do you think this would be harmful for me?

REPLY.

Take the water, but omit the salt.

IT'S NOT INHERITED.

A. B. writes: What causes Bell's palsy? Can the disorder be passed on to wife or children? Would you recommend static treatment?

REPLY.

Bell's palsy [facial paralysis] is neither inherited nor contagious. It cannot be passed on to any one. Exposure to cold is the most frequent cause. On the other hand, it may arise because of some tumor or growth pressing on the nerve. The incident may follow certain infections. Hot applications several times daily for two weeks are advised. Later mild electrical stimulation may be of value. The galvanic current is preferred.

THERE ARE OTHER FACTORS.

H. C. S. writes: We often are advised to have a thorough physical examination annually, especially as we approach middle age. Many of us wonder what is meant by "thorough." Is the examination required for life insurance sufficient? That takes in heart, lungs, blood pressure, and urinalysis.

REPLY.

The usual examination is that given by life insurance examiners. Additional points to be considered are: teeth, sinuses, throat, and the genito-urinary system.

BUYING A NOMINATION.

Gilbertsville, Ky., June 7.—And Mr. Roosevelt takes no part in state primaries? Maybe not, but his friends are using his name freely enough in the Kentucky primary just now.

Above the main entrance to the courthouse in Benton, Ky., is a sign bearing in huge letters these words: "Roosevelt wants Barkley Re-Elected U. S. Senator." Indignant taxpayers have protested, but to no avail, against the main public building in the county being decorated with a campaign poster.

Does any fool think that WPA funds and direct relief supplies are not being used to further Barkley's campaign against Chandler or that farmers are not reminded of the checks that they have received in payment for soil conservation? WPA workers are told by campaign managers that if Barkley is sent back to the senate he will get them a bonus, double pay, for every day they have worked since the New Deal started its quest for the more abundant life. Direct relief was scarce last year, but oranges are coming so thick and fast now old timers say Santa Claus is shaking the orange trees before election time instead of waiting for Christmas. Farmers are asked if they can recall a single instance in their lives, before the New Deal was inaugurated, when they were paid cash money for not working. Do they like cash money, they are asked. Well, then, they should express their appreciation by sending back to the senate the New Deal's right-hand man.

Thinking persons look on with loathing while they see the election being bought for Barkley with money from the United States treasury that he himself helped to appropriate.

GOOD-BY TO LAWSON SCHOOL.

Chicago, June 3.—And now, with my child's graduation, I must bid farewell to Lawson. For thirteen years I have been in contact with the Lawson school. I have brought my babies to kindergarten and have watched them go out one after another. There are some thoughts that cannot be expressed in mere words. My appreciation of Lawson's principal and faculty can be conveyed by no medium so poor. I want, therefore, to call attention to those of our citizens who are forever finding fault.

I have seen young women and young men come to begin their work in Lawson. I have watched these people for thirteen years. I have seen teachers grow mature and I have seen others grow gray. I have seen them when they were getting paid and I have seen them when they had to wait months for their pay, but I have never noticed that any teacher did less than what her conscience dictated. I have seen teachers and principal deal with children intelligently reared and I have seen them deal with incorrigibles. At all times and under all circumstances have they incurred naught but my greatest respect. I thank them all for a trust well kept. Their noble work and honest effort shall ever live in my everlasting gratitude.

Good-by, Lawson, and good-by, faculty. I wish you a pleasant vacation and a long and healthy life to carry on a work so well done.

FORBID RANSOM PAYMENTS?

Mount Prospect, Ill., June 2.—Now that kidnaping again is on the loose why not a rigid law forbidding any payment of money for ransom?

Such a law would naturally discourage kidnaping, for after all money is the primary reason for doing it.

TOURISTS IN RUSSIA.

Chicago, June 6.—What can have induced you to publish such an erroneous statement concerning travel in Russia as that in yesterday's Sunday TRIBUNE?

There are thousands of people in Chicago who have traveled in Russia in recent years and know how false that article is. There were 15,000 United States American tourists in Russia in 1936 and 20,000 in 1937. It should be easy to check up on the subject, and you should do so to maintain your reputation for veracity.

We, at ages upwards of 70 years, have made two tours in Russia of more than thirty days each, one in 1933, the other in 1937, traveling thousands of miles by railroad, river, steamboats, automobiles and Black Sea steamships, in comfort, safety and cleanliness, with plenty of good food. We have visited Leningrad, Moscow, Gorki, Kazan, Samara, Pokrovski, Saratov, numerous other cities, collective farms, tea plantations, fairs, markets, tractor stations, manufacturing plants, research institutes, schools, theaters, operas, orchestra halls, cinemas, parks, libraries, art galleries, museums, hospitals, sanatoriums, rest homes, workers' homes, clubhouses, factory kitchens, creches, kindergartens, outing homes and camps, bathing beaches, street parades, courts, and churches [some well filled and others not] and in no place did we notice the slightest discourtesy, harsh word, or violence toward ourselves or any one else.

We carried and controlled our own passports.

Food and service at hotels were good and ample. There was no need to carry stove, fuel, or cooking utensils. Boiled water was easier and quicker to get at any hotel or railway station in Russia than in the best hotels in Chicago or New York.

There is no justification for slurring Intourist guides. We have been round the world in the northern and in the southern hemisphere and we are of the opinion that no other country in the world has such a competent and courteous corps of guides as has U. S. S. R.

There must have been something radically wrong with your "Returned Tourist" to make him so misrepresent travel conditions in Russia.

Chicago, June 8.—Your article on the housing project disgusts me. Your reporter must have overslept on the day of his assignment and probably wrote an imaginative impression.

As an eye witness to conditions at the Jane Addams houses, I can say that the residents are clean, wholesome, and intelligent, and appreciative of the opportunities given them by the government. As a whole, they represent the "true American spirit." Here's to more and more housing projects, and, to more Americans as those living in the Jane Addams houses.

WAGE CLAIM.

Chicago, June 4.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—A friend worked as a waitress for two weeks in a tea room. The first week was for training and the second week for pay at $1 a day. After seven days work she quit and now the woman refuses to pay her. Says she hasn't anything coming.

1. Can my friend collect it? She cannot afford to hire a lawyer, so [2] who can she go to in order to get some one to collect it for her?

3. Does this employer have the right to deduct social security tax from their pay when none of the girls have a social security number?

M. R.

1. Yes, on the facts that you state, but it seems probable that there would be some contentions on the other side.

2. The 1937 wage payment law requires payment in full [1] in a case of discharge, within five days; [2] in case of quitting, on next pay day unless employé gave five days' notice, in which case payment in full at time of quitting. Does not apply to commissions or to wages in excess of $100. In case of wilful refusal to pay, wages continue for ten days and employer may be fined $25 to $200. The department of labor, 205 West Wacker drive, room 822, is handling wage collections for persons who are financially unable to prosecute them.

3. The impropriety would consist in his failing to turn the money over as a tax rather than in his holding it back.

PLUMBER BACK AT AN OLD JOB—WITHOUT TOOLS

He Puts Lost Finger Into Too Many Lawsuits.

Richard King was a master plumber. As such he helped install the plumbing when the criminal courts building and the jail adjoining it were built in 1929. Yesterday he went back to take a look at some of his handiwork.

King, who is 53 years old, fell in his home at 1238 North Maplewood avenue a year ago and injured his left hand. An infection developed and it became necessary to amputate part of the index finger. That gave King an idea.

Invents an Accident and Sues.

He went to an attorney with the story that he lost the finger in a street car accident. The story rang true and the attorney filed suit against the surface lines. King then convinced his counsel that he was broke and borrowed a small sum—to be repaid when the suit was won.

King used these tactics with several attorneys. Each time he gave a different name and related a different situation, but all of the stories involved street car accidents.

In one instance the surface lines settled a claim for $114. In that case King claimed that a negligent street car conductor shut the door on his finger at Division street and Western avenue on Aug. 3, 1937. But the number of claims for that finger eventually aroused suspicion. The surface lines protested to the state's attorney's office.

Won't Let Him Take His Tools.

So yesterday King was up before Judge Charles S. Dougherty in Municipal court on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. None of his erstwhile attorneys appeared against him, but the surface lines attorneys were there. Assistant State's Attorney James A. Brown told the story of King's career.

"Ninety days in the county jail," Judge Dougherty said. "And don't go home for your tools."

PHONE TIP TRAPS WPA WORKER IN ACT OF BURGLARY

George J. Schmidt.

"There's a burglar in an apartment at 807 South Euclid avenue," somebody whispered—and then hung up.

Detectives Lambert Barsema and Alex Inglis sped to the apartment, which is occupied by J. E. Lattan.

Entering simultaneously, one from the front and the other from the rear, the detectives seized George J. Schmidt, 2959 Warren boulevard. Schmidt identified himself as a WPA worker and went on to confess twelve other burglaries in the Oak Park area.

He told police that in each instance he gained entrance by using a knife and a screw driver.

Edgebrook Women Ask Guard Against Morons

Six women residents of the Edgebrook neighborhood on the far northwest side called yesterday on Clayton F. Smith, president of the county board, and Superintendent Charles G. Sauers of the forest preserves to complain of morons who they said accost women in the preserve which reaches into Edgebrook. Superintendent Sauers said two men recently were arrested and he promised to put more watchmen into the area not patroled by city police.

POLICE SCANDAL WITNESS BACKS UP 2 DETECTIVES

CRIMINAL COURT.

Kenneth Peters, central figure in the Town Hall police scandal case, testified yesterday as the first witness in the trial of two detectives, Earl Flannery and Frank McKune, who are charged with allowing two prisoners to escape.

Peters and another man, known only as Tip, who is a fugitive, were arrested by two uniformed policemen supposedly while trying to rob a handbook employé on Feb. 26. The prisoners were turned over to the detectives who released them.

Peters told Judge Rudolph Desort and a jury in Criminal court that the arrest was a mistake, and that everything was settled later in the evening in a conference with the detectives, the arresting officers and their squad leader. Peters was tried last month, convicted of assault, and fined $100.

DELAY HEARING TO FREE COP IN DOUBLE KILLING

Chief Justice Cornelius J. Harrington of the Criminal court yesterday continued by agreement until next Thursday a hearing on a petition for a writ of habeas corpus for the release of Policeman John F. Lewe. He was locked up at the detective bureau after the hearing.

Lewe shot and killed his wife, Phyllis, and her escort, Harry O. Johnson, 6018 Stony Island avenue, both 40 years old, at Wabash avenue and Randolph street Tuesday night. He said the couple had been lovers. His attorneys, George M. Crane and Harold Levy, contend that Lewe killed his wife accidentally, and shot Johnson when the latter tried to draw a revolver.

Funeral services for Mrs. Lewe will be held at 9 a. m. tomorrow in the chapel at 63d street and Harvard avenue. A sister last night took Johnson's body to Moberly, Mo., where the funeral will be held.

A BANDIT BOASTS OF HIS FREEDOM; CAUGHT NAPPING

Joseph Krug, an ex-convict sought for more than a dozen robberies in Ottawa, Ill., who had boasted that he would not be captured alive, was arrested without a struggle early yesterday in his room at 1423 West 73d street. Three squads of police, who went to the place on information from Ottawa, seized him while he was asleep. He was unarmed.

When questioned by State's Attorney Taylor E. Wilhelm of La Salle county, who accompanied the detectives, Krug admitted the robberies. He later was taken to Ottawa, where four companions are also under arrest.

Krug, who is 27 years old, was sentenced to one to ten years in Joliet prison for larceny on Jan. 22, 1932. He was paroled a year later and discharged from parole in November, 1936.

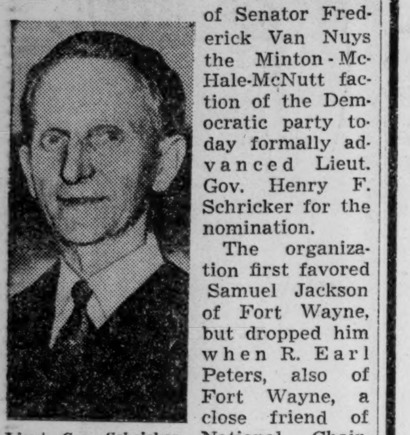
M'NUTT FACTION BACKS SCHRICKER FOR SENATE RACE

Moves to Block Van Nuys' Re-election.

Bass Lake, Ind., June 9.—[Special.]—In its effort to block the reëlection of Senator Frederick Van Nuys the Minton-McHale-McNutt faction of the Democratic party today formally advanced Lieut. Gov. Henry F. Schricker for the nomination.



Lieut. Gov. Schricker.

The organization first favored Samuel Jackson of Fort Wayne, but dropped him when R. Earl Peters, also of Fort Wayne, a close friend of National Chairman James A. Farley, threatened reprisals. Then Clarence Manion, University of Notre Dame law professor, was suggested, but he was vetoed by Gov. M. Clifford Townsend. Townsend himself was boomed for the senate, but he refused to quit the state house for the campaign.

Schricker Will Accept.

As principal speaker at a Young Democratic rally here in his home county, Schricker announced he would accept if he is nominated for senator at the state convention July 12 in Indianapolis. Because that convention will be statehouse controled, Van Nuys has decided to run as an independent.

Schricker's announcement, which he said "is not mine alone," followed efforts of some leaders of the Minton-McHale-McNutt machine to get Townsend to withdraw his opposition to Van Nuys.

Door Not Tightly Closed.

Observers were careful to point out tonight that the door is not yet absolutely closed to the nomination of Van Nuys by the Democratic convention. Never a part of the Minton-McHale-McNutt group, Van Nuys campaigned independently, but as a regular Democrat, in 1932 and led the ticket at the polls, exceeding the vote given President Roosevelt.

The statehouse machine seized upon Van Nuys' refusal to support the court packing bill as an excuse to read him out of the party. Townsend was assigned to do the proclaiming, and he did it on the White House steps after conferring with Roosevelt, thus implying he was speaking officially for the national administration.

But the President and Farley never have spoken openly against Van Nuys, and there is reason to believe that pressure is being put on the statehouse group to accept Van Nuys as the nominee.

EX-RABBI FOUND HANGED.

Pittsburgh, Pa., June 9.—(AP)—Max Levinson, 63, a retired rabbi, was found dead today by hanging by a bathrobe cord in a room at a hospital where he had been since December. He had pulpits in Escanaba and Crystal Falls, Mich.; in Centerville, Ia., and Oshkosh, Wis.

W.C.T.U. Demands a Look Into Taverns—from Outside

The good ladies of the Women's Christian Temperance union at Elgin want to know what goes on in taverns, but they don't want to go in to see. They therefore have given Mayor Myron M. Lehman a list of taverns that clutter their front windows with advertising matter so that passersby can't see in. This, incidentally, is a violation of the state law, and Mayor Lehman said he would certainly do something about it.

1,568 POLICEMEN PASS EXAMS FOR SERGEANTS' JOBS

154 Vacancies Expected to Be Filled Soon.

The city civil service commission yesterday posted the names of 1,568 patrolmen who have passed examinations for sergeancies in the police department. There are 154 vacancies in the sergeants' ranks and it is expected this number of promotions will be made within a few weeks from the first names on the eligible list. Sergeants are paid $2,900 a year.

Joseph P. Geary, president of the civil service commission, said 2,659 patrolmen took the sergeancy examinations in June, 1936, and April, 1937. The passing grade was 70 per cent. Slight adjustments will be made in the list because the number of hours served in the army is a factor in the final ranking.

Michael J. Curtin
Lawrence F. Vodvarka
Matthew J. Murphy
Joseph A. Hartnett
Thomas R. Casey
Herman R. Dorf

FOREIGN ROTARY OFFICIALS LEAVE FOR CONVENTION

One hundred and thirty-five Rotary officials from various parts of the world and their wives left Chicago yesterday afternoon on a North Western railway special train bound for the twenty-ninth annual convention of Rotary International, which will be held in San Francisco, Cal., June 19-24. Prior to the convention the group will meet for a week in Del Monte, Cal., to discuss policies. Members of the party included Baron de Bildt of Cairo, Egypt; Prince Basarab Brancoveanu of Bucharest, Rumania, and Count Witold Sagajllo of Warsaw, Poland. Representatives of more than fifty countries will attend the convention.

Woman Looking for Room Uses Gun; Robs Landlady

Mrs. Helen Anderson thought she had a prospective tenant yesterday when a well dressed woman about 40 years old asked to look at the rooms in her rooming house at 4754 North Ashland avenue. After their inspection tour, the woman drew a revolver and took $100 and jewelry valued at $155 from Mrs. Anderson.

Acid Burns Boy

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Wayne Weltback, 4 years old, of 4842 Winthrop avenue, was watching workmen clean a building at 1125 Ainslie street yesterday, admiring the way they applied something which took the dirt right off.

Just then a truck stopped near him and in unloading some of the powerful cleanser, hydrochloric acid, workmen accidently spilled a jar. It splashed on Wayne's feet and legs, clad in socks and sandals. The sandals were eaten by it, Wayne's flesh burned painfully.

Screaming, he started crawling home, according to his mother, Mrs. Beatrice Weltback, when a woman seeing his plight carried him to his home. He was taken to Children's Memorial hospital, where the burns were treated, and returned to his home.

SALES TAX FRAUD SENDS BROTHERS TO COUNTY JAIL

Municipal Judge Eugene J. Holland yesterday sentenced two brothers to sixty days each in the county jail and fined them $700 each for failure to pay $1,327 to the state in sales taxes.

The defendants are Gus Velis, 648 Blue Island avenue, and John Velis, 3362 Adams street. Assistant Attorney General Philip J. Simon said they operated a tavern at 525 South State street under the corporation name of Velis Bros. No. 1 until July, 1936, then dissolved the corporation.

From that date until June, 1937, when their failure to pay was discovered, they continued to operate the tavern as individual partners, Simon said.

On questioning by Judge Holland John said he was a citizen and Gus said he had recently taken out his second citizenship papers.

658 PASS EXAMS FOR 197 COUNTY WELFARE POSTS

Clayton F. Smith, president of the county board, yesterday announced the names of 658 persons who passed the resent civil service examinations for welfare bureau case workers. About 10,000 took the tests.

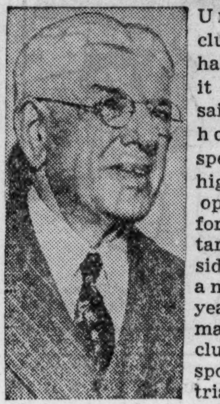
The county employs 244 case workers, of whom 47 already are under civil service. To fill the 197 remaining jobs, now held by temporary appointees, the top 197 on the civil serivce examination list will be appointed, bringing all case workers under civil service for the first time.

About half of the 197 temporary appointees will retain their jobs because they passed the examination, according to Joseph L. Moss, director of the county walfare bureau.

U. S. LIEN LIFTED; PERMITS SALE OF VOLIVA PROPERTY

The bureau of internal revenue agreed yesterday to lift a $50,000 federal income tax lien against the 2,100 parcels of property in Zion controled by Wilbur Glenn Voliva. As a result, the property can be sold to satisfy $1,000,000 in debts and taxes. Attorney Frank T. O'Brien, Voliva's counsel in bankruptcy, said the lien was removed on condition that the amount would be paid from proceeds of the sales. Voliva, overseer of the Christian Catholic church, has been attempting to liquidate his resources for five years.

GREAT AND NEAR GREAT FETE HIS FIFTY YEARS OF FAITHFUL SERVICE



John L. Enright.

John L. Enright, who for fifty years has served the great and the near great at the Union League club, yesterday had his day. And it was worth, he said, all the hours he has spent checking high silk hats, opening doors for visiting dignitaries, sitting beside sick beds, and in later years as assistant manager of the club, joshing despondent industrialists through a depression.

His golden anniversary of service brought two hundred members and friends to a luncheon in his honor, and a sheaf of letters, telegrams and gifts from prominent people throughout the United States.

Enright, a silver-haired, impeccably groomed man, 70 years old, has lived for 26 years in one apartment at 5445 Monroe street. He has been friend to Eugene Field, Presidents Grover Cleveland, Theodore Roosevelt, and William McKinley, and has served under 47 presidents of the Union League club.

ALMOST EVERY STORE OFFERING FOOD BARGAINS

Thrifty Can Find Declines to Offset Price Boosts.

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

It will pay thrifty housewives to canvass retail food shopping centers today and tomorrow. Sale prices prevail on an assortment of foods in almost every store. Many food have been marked up this week, but most advances are offset by reductions.

Few of the old standby foods have been placed on the bargain counters. Roll and package butter is off a penny a pound in some stores. Eggs are down 2 to 3 cents a dozen in many places.

Bananas are cheaper. Fresh tomato prices are off 1 to 4 cents a pound in city and suburban shopping centers. Most merchants are asking less for dried onions, cantaloupes, cherries, peaches, and bunch beets.

Flour Prices Bobbing Around.

Flour prices are bobbing around this week—up in some stores and down in others. A 24½ pound sack is offered at 4 to 6 cents higher in many stores where flour was on sale last week-end. It is off 2 to 10 cents a sack in stores that have flour on the bargain counters this week.

Sugar has been reduced 3 cents a 10 pound bag in some places and advanced an equal amount in other stores. Cabbage is also on the up and down list.

Many stores that had lard on sale last week-end have raised their prices 1½ cents a pound. Carrots are up 1 cent a bunch in most stores. Head lettuce is up 2 to 3 cents a head. Green peas are 2 to 3 cents a pound higher. Green beans are 2 cents a pound higher in most stores.

The quality of oranges is falling off, while the price is going higher, especially on the larger sizes. Asparagus prices are going up. Strawberries are higher, as much as 6 cents a quart in some cases.

Meat Changes Insignificant.

There are no significant changes in the retail price of meat this week-end. Most butchers are asking 2 to 3 cents a pound more for pot roast of beef and a penny a pound more for leg of lamb.

Two cents a pound have been added to the price of pork loin roast and cured ham in some shops and reduced an equal amount in other retail meat markets. A few butchers are charging 2 cents a pound more for sirloin steaks. Stewing chickens are cheaper in most places, some having reduced prices as much as 6 cents a pound.

Many stores are featuring canned peaches, apricots, baked beans, catsup, soups, and olives. Most stores have an assortment of soft drinks on their display counter. Canned pineapple is offered at reduced prices; some merchants claim that they are asking the lowest price in several years. Potatoes, bananas and yellow onions are among the featured items in some stores.

Live Stock Prices Irregular.

Live stock and wholesale meat prices continued irregular during the week at the stockyards, according to federal reports. The better grades of beef steers brought about 25 cents a hundred pounds more than last week, reaching a top price of $11 a hundred, the highest price paid for cattle fattened on corn from the 1937 crop. Wholesale cuts of beef went up 50 cents a hundred pounds.

Farmers were paid 20 to 30 cents a hundred more for hogs. The top price for the week was $9.10 a hundred, the highest since early in April. Wholesale cuts of pork, however, dropped 50 cents to $1 a hundred pounds.

Spring lambs went up early in the week to a top price of $11 a hundred. Then the price dropped. The average for the week was 25 to 50 cents a hundred less than last week. Wholesale cuts of dressed lamb went up $1 a hundred.

Fruits and Vegetables Drop.

Wholesale prices of most fresh fruits and vegetables declined during the week as supplies from nearby points increased. Included in those that are lower are head lettuce, green beans, cabbage, cantaloupes, cauliflower, celery, honeyball melons, peaches, fresh tomatoes, watermelons, and cherries.

The first carload of new crop apples from Illinois orchards arrived this week. They are the yellow transparent variety and are of good quality. Federal reporters say that the first Illinois apples usually reach the market here about June 15 to 20. More than 100 bushels of Illinois peaches were sold on the central market yesterday. They also are earlier than usual.

EXOTIC CURRY SAUCE ADDS NEW ZEST TO EGGS, FOWL, OR FISH

Every so often when cooking three squares a day gets to be like wearing last year's hat a woman likes to try a new and exotic recipe.

Oriental curry sauce certainly is exotic. It even contains coconut milk [made at home from cow's milk, but it needn't be told]. The curry sauce is good served with eggs, chicken or fish. Simply pour the sauce over sliced, hard cooked eggs or the boiled fowl or fish.

ORIENTAL CURRY SAUCE.

[For six servings]

¼ cup butter
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
2 tablespoons curry powder
¼ tablespoon salt
1 tablespoon flour
2 cups chicken stock [or 2 bouillon cubes dissolved in boiling water]
1 cup coconut milk
¼ teaspoon ground ginger
1 teaspoon currant jelly

For coconut milk, soak one-half cup freshly grated coconut in one cup of milk for one hour. Melt butter and cook onion in it for two minutes, but do not brown. Mix the flour, curry powder, ginger, and salt, and add to butter and onion, stirring well. Add a little of chicken stock and cook gently for about ten minutes. Add rest of stock and coconut milk. Cook until thickened [about twenty-five minutes], stirring constantly. Add currant jelly and serve hot over eggs, chicken or fish.

RED RASPBERRIES WILL GO AROUND IF USED IN A PIE

When a new fruit comes in on the market, the temptation to try the newcomer is overpowering, regardless of price. This is really no extravagance, if a small box of fruit is stretched to give the whole family a taste. If the luscious looking red raspberries now coming in tempt you, try them in this raspberry cream pie. It uses a pint box of the berries.

RASPBERRY CREAM PIE.

[1 9-inch pie.]

⅔ cup sugar
4 tablespoons cornstarch
½ teaspoon salt
2 cups milk, scalded
3 egg yolks, slightly beaten
3 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 baked pie shell
2 cups red raspberries, cleaned
½ cup heavy cream
1 tablespoon sugar

Add milk to dry ingredients which have been mixed together. Cook in double boiler, stirring constantly until mixture thickens [about 15 minutes]. Stir a small amount of the cooked mixture into the slightly beaten egg yolks. Then return to rest of cooked mixture gradually and cook 2 or 3 minutes longer, stirring constantly. Add butter and vanilla, cool slightly and fold in 1 cup of the cleaned berries. Turn into baked pie shell and chill. Just before serving spread with whipped cream to which the 1 tablespoon of sugar has been added. Sprinkle with remaining cup of berries.

5 Times More Suds!

In the hardest water, Dreft makes 5 times more rich, active suds than any soap or flakes you ever used. So naturally, Dreft is economical! Ounce for ounce, Dreft does more work in hard water than any fine fabric soap!

* * *

Do these sound like advantages no fine fabric soap or flakes ever offered you? Then try Dreft today! You'll find it washes things cleaner—because it not only removes dirt—but color-hiding soap scum as well!

BY MARY MEADE.

The best recipes are passed from cook to cook until nobody remembers the original source. Mrs. Soandso has a wonderful cake formula which was sent to her by her sister in Los Angeles, and when she bakes the cake for the bridge club all the members ask for the recipe and pass it on later to other friends and relatives. In some such way I came by this recipe for whipped cream sherbet.

I call it whipped cream sherbet because, although it's rich enough to be a true ice cream, it has that distinctive "sherbety" flavor. The other recipes in this column are seasonable and just as good as the first.

Whipped Cream Sherbet.
[Serves Six.]

Juice of two oranges
Juice of one lemon
1 8-ounce can crushed pineapple [1 cup]
1 cup sugar
½ pint cream, whipped

Pineapple-Rhubarb Sherbet.
[1½ Quarts in Freezer.]

5 cups cut rhubarb
2 cups crushed pineapple
1 cup sugar
1¾ cups evaporated milk

Cook rhubarb and pineapple until rhubarb is tender. Add sugar and stir until sugar is completely dissolved. Press through a coarse sieve. There should be one quart pulp and juice. Chill, add to milk, and freeze with a mixture of one part salt to eight parts ice.

Raspberry Sherbet.
[1½ Pints in Freezer.]

¾ cup sugar
¼ cup water
1 cup raspberry juice
¼ cup lemon juice
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 cup evaporated milk

Boil sugar and water to a thin sirup. Add fruit juices and salt. Chill milk and pour fruit juice mixture slowly into it. Freeze with a mixture of one part salt to eight parts ice.

Melon Sherbet.
[Serves Three or Four.]

½ cup sugar
1 cup water
1 cup melon pulp and juice
¼ cup lemon juice
½ cup sugar
⅓ cup water
¼ teaspoon salt
2 egg whites

Mix the first four ingredients and stir until the sugar is dissolved. [Put the melon through a sieve.] Freeze in refrigerator tray to a mush. Meanwhile prepare a meringue from the remaining ingredients. First boil the one-half cup sugar and one-third cup water to the thread stage, 230 to 238 degrees, and slightly cool the sirup. Beat egg whites and salt to a stiff foam and pour the sirup slowly over them, beating constantly. Beat until mixture is cool. Fold or stir into the fruit mixture and continue freezing. Stir once or twice during freezing. Honeydew, cantaloupe, or watermelon may be used in this sherbet.

Strawberry Sherbet.
[Serves Four.]

1 pint strawberries, sieved
⅓ cup sugar
2 tablespoons corn sirup
Juice of one lemon
1 cup cold water
1 egg white, beaten stiff
⅛ teaspoon salt

Combine strawberry pulp, sugar, corn sirup, and lemon juice, and freeze to a mush. Add water and egg white beaten stiff with salt. Finish freezing, beating the mixture vigorously several times during the process.

RHUBARB JUICE, CANNED NOW, IS FINE IN WINTER

How to Fix It So It'll Be Right.

Can rhubarb juice now and you can bring some of the freshness of spring into your next winter's menus. The juice makes delicious cocktails and is a grand beginning for breakfast.

Let It Drip Overnight.

Put through jelly bag, allowing juice to drip overnight. In morning pour off the clear juice, being careful not to disturb sediment; or clarify by pouring juice through three or four layers of cheesecloth.

Add ½ to 1 cup sugar for each gallon [or 2 to 4 tablespoons sugar for each quart of juice]. Fill sterilized jars with juice and seal partly. Place jars on rack in a large kettle. Fill kettle with water so that water covers jars to a depth of at least one inch.

Then Pasteurize It.

Pasteurize by keeping at a temperature between 160 and 170 degrees Fahrenheit for 20 to 30 minutes to destroy any yeast or moulds which might be present. Allow 20 minutes for pint jars and 30 minutes for quart jars.

Remove jars from water bath and completely seal them. Cool as rapidly as possible, avoiding a draft on the jars. This juice may be diluted before serving.

TOMATO SOUP AND MACARONI COMBINE NICELY

Canned tomato soup and a package of macaroni make a luncheon dish that is a last minute life saver on days when 12 o'clock comes all too soon.

MACARONI BAKED IN TOMATO SOUP.
[Serves 6.]

1 8-oz. package macaroni
1 can tomato soup, condensed
Water
1½ cups grated cheese
½ cup buttered bread crums

Boil macaroni in salted water until tender. Drain. Dilute tomato soup with ⅔ cup of water. Place macaroni in greased baking dish and cover with grated cheese. Pour diluted tomato soup over the dish and sprinkle with buttered crums. Bake in a moderately hot oven [375 degrees] for 25 minutes.

SPECIAL VINEGAR DRESSES UP FLAT SALAD DRESSING

In summer when one looks to crisp vegetable and fruit salads to bring garden freshness to the table, salad dressings must have definite character of their own.

For fruits, a dressing made from spiced vinegar or a bland commercial dressing enlivened with a little of the spiced vinegar, is the thing. And salad bowls of crisp greens take on new zip when made with a tomato juice dressing.

Both spiced vinegar and the tomato juice dressing can be made in quantity and stored in the refrigerator until used.

SPICED VINEGAR.

1 quart cider vinegar
1 tablespoon sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 bay leaf
¼ ounce each, whole cloves, blades of mace, whole allspice, whole pepper, celery seed and mustard seed.

Put all ingredients into a large jar with a tight fitting cover,. Let stand for two weeks and then strain out spices. Use for thinning commercially prepared dressings and for making home-prepared dressings.

TOMATO JUICE DRESSING.

1⅓ cups tomato juice
¾ cup vinegar
½ cup olive oil
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
3 tablespoons grated onion
¾ cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon paprika
1 teaspoon dry mustard

Put all ingredients in large jar and shake thoroughly. Seal jar as in canning fruit and store in refrigerator. Shake thoroughly before using.

AH! A FROZEN DESSERT THAT IS AS EASY TO MAKE AS MILK PUDDING

Nothing seems quite so good as a frozen dessert on a hot day. And it's no more trouble to make than an ordinary milk pudding.

MARSHMALLOW MINT FROZEN CREAM.
[Serves Six.]

25 marshmallows
1 cup milk
5 drops oil of peppermint
Green vegetable coloring.
2 cups heavy cream.

Cut marshmallows into quarters and cook with milk in top of double boiler until marshmallows are melted. Cool and freeze in tray of automatic refrigerator until mushy. Add peppermint and a drop or two of green coloring [be careful not to use too much; a delicate color is best] to the cream and whip until thick. Beat marshmallow mixture well and fold in whipped cream. Return to freezing tray and freeze until firm.

Better Go Easy on Applause for Very Young

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1938: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

"Dear Mrs. Bevans: I wonder if you could come to my rescue again, as you have done in the past. My nice, sunny, good-natured 2½ year old daughter is turning into just a plain spoiled brat. She's so contrary and says 'no' to everything I ask her to do.

"I have noticed the change since she started talking so plainly. She speaks well for her age and every one repeats or laughs at everything she says. We've tried so hard not to spoil her, but I really think she's getting too much attention."

Two and a half is certainly the delectable age. It is the age at which more small girls are spoiled than at any other. Little boys can, I think, be equally enchanting in their ways and looks, but they are more apt to be spared the spoiling process. But little girls, especially those who are bright and say "such old-fashioned things," usually come in for an adoration and an audience which aren't good for them. Attention gets centered on the child and she becomes self-conscious, and often behavior troubles start.

It's a temptation for a mother to encourage a small daughter to say and do the amusing little things she has learned for friends and relatives. But parents should watch for this.

Still more, though, should they prevent family and friends from doing it, and then applauding or laughing at the result. After all, a child isn't a mechanical doll to be played with. Interest in what a little child does is wholesome—undue interest in what the child herself is, is not. The subject of what constitutes wholesome neglect in unspoiling a child will be taken up next week. It would probably clear up most of Betsy's troubling ways.

The Housewife

When a reader wrote asking if there was a product to take a musty smell from a clothes closet I did not know about the item I'll describe today. The reader said it was impossible to give her closet a thorough airing, as it had no window, nor was it located near a window in the bedroom.

So, for closets such as this and after they have been made all spic and span by scrubbing and cleaning, try hanging a little green pine tree from one of the shelves. This tree is about four inches tall and half an inch thick and is impregnated with the fresh fragrance of pine. It will make a closet smell delicately of the north woods.

There's nothing of the disinfectant about this odor. Nor is it a moth preventive. It's just something nice to have around, and its cost is a mere trifle. You can slip it in your blanket chest, too, and among your bed linens.

Schuessler Is a Young Tenor of Great Talent

BY EDWARD BARRY.

When Roy A. Schuessler walked upon the stage of Kimball hall last night he was greeted by volley after volley of rapid fire applause. Since the young baritone had not yet emitted a single sound this ovation must have been merely a tribute to the sterling personal qualities which he doubtless possesses.

But these demonstrative friends of his among the audience had occasion again and again during the evening to applaud Mr. Schuessler's musical as well as moral virtues. In a program of Italian, German, and English-American music this personable young fellow who took first place among male singers in the 1938 contests of the Society of American Musicians, justified in a most satisfying manner the decision of the judges.

He has a richly textured voice which he handles with care and taste. Very seldom is there the slightest hint of forcing. In matters of phrasing and of tonal and dynamic variety he betrays a fine grasp of the essentials of musical style. In some of the songs the words were a little hard to understand, but this deficiency is not serious enough to justify him in altering voice production to improve diction.

Mr. Schuessler was not the only attraction on the program. An ensemble which also bore the stamp of the Society of American Musicians' approval played the Dvorak quintet. Members of the group were Elizabeth Van Pelt, pianist; Israel Baker and Charles Zila, violinists; Robert Alexa, violist, and Karl Fruh, cellist.

The performance was marked by passion and direction as well as by commendable accuracy. The five musicians played with a fine sense of unity and mutuality and succeeded in keeping the tumultuous music well within the boundaries of accepted style.

WOMAN'S AND MISS' PLAY TOGS.

This dirndl beach frock is one you can wear at home just as well. Its softly gathered lines cover a play suit or bathing costume, so that the public will be none the wiser until you doff the frock at the beach. For hours at home and shopping tours this graceful yet utilitarian frock is without equal. Its low square neck is comfortable and there is only a brief sleeve, which is cut in with the shoulderline. Gathers under the neckline binding repeat the theme of shirring at the waist. Buttons are used all the way down the front and there are two fairly good sized pockets for "gadgets."

The play suit is a dream, too. Its low back is topped by wide shoulder straps and the bodice is cut square across at the front. You can cut the dirndl frock low in the back, too, if you wish. The original of the play suit is in deep rose cotton, with the dirndl frock in a multi-colored stripe, one of the shades of which is the rose.

There's a hat pattern you will like, also. It's available for 10 cents extra and its number is 2759. It makes the fetching bonnet to match the dirndl.

Style No. 2099 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, and 20 years, and 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, and 40 inch bust measurement. Size 16 requires 2⅞ yards of 39 inch material, with ⅝ yard of 39 inch contrasting for dress. The play suit requires 1⅝ yards of 39 inch fabric.

Give Juergens High Place in American Art

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

One of the most distinguished exhibitions the All-Illinois Society of the Fine Arts has ever sponsored is that of paintings by the late Alfred Juergens in the Drake hotel West Mezzanine galleries. The exhibit will continue through June 30.

Mr. Juergens was given a memorial exhibition last summer in the Chicago Art institute. In all probability he will be ranked with our foremost American painters for the beauty and virility of his work. He won many honors during his life and is represented in many important museum and private collections here and abroad. Mr. Juergens studied in Munich and was one of that group of American painters which included Duveneck, Chase, and Currier.

Perhaps the name of Alfred Juergens is associated in most minds with paintings of water lilies and gardens. He was the water lily painter par excellence. In the current exhibit there are several stunning large canvases devoted to this theme. It is hard to say which is the more gloriously beautiful. In each there are the flowers, the lake, and the reflections. So exquisitely and yet so excitingly are the reflections expressed one would not miss a moment's eager scrutiny of each picture for fear of losing some fresh delight. This is painting with a capital P.

There are other large pictures in the show, some of landscapes and others of gardens, either in detail, as the clump of yellow rose bushes, or in full. Some of the most intriguing of the paintings are the little oils and the little water colors.

Mr. Juergens was fascinated by clouds, wind, trees, running water, and shadows. A hillside of flowering weeds turns into a paradise under his brush. A stretch of fields that vanishes in the smooth contours of rolling hills becomes a place of endless joy at his touch. This creating of deathless beauty seems a prerogative of the artist which he never slighted.

There are two interesting portrait studies at the end of the gallery and a self-portrait which is significant. The very lovely still life of peonies in a Chinese jar flanked by an iridescent shell has the glamor of a Pushman. The little still life of fish and lemons was done by Mr. Juergens as a gift to his mother—at the age of 10! A mature painter might well be proud of it.

Homes Opened for the Season at Lake Geneva

BY JUDITH CASS.

THE attractive little town of Lake Geneva, which long has been one of Chicago's favorite summer resorts, never is as deserted by its summer guests during the winter as are most similar resorts. Ice boating, skiing, and other winter sports are to be found there, and many summer families keep their homes open the year around.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Frederick Gartz Jr. have kept their Jerseyhurst estate open nearly all winter. Last week they reopened it completely for the summer. The Daniel Peterkins have been spending week-ends at their home for the last six weeks, and now the house is open for the summer and the Peterkins have gone north. Their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William O. Hunt, have taken the same little house they had last year.

The Henry Bartholomays, the Albert F. Madleners, Mr. and Mrs. William Nelson Pelouze, the Earle J. Zimmermans, Mrs. Philip T. Starck, and Mrs. Frank Porter and her sister, Miss Katherine Lefens, all are settled in their homes for the summer.

The Rawleigh Warners and their children will not go to their home, which is one of the oldest on the lake, until June 20. Miss Mary Warner, who is to be a bridesmaid for Miss Fidelia Richards at her marriage to William Winston Roper Jr. on June 18, is entertaining the bridal party at luncheon at home in Winnetka on the day of the wedding.

Her younger sister, Dorothy, who is being graduated next Thursday from the Northampton school, and her mother and father, who are going east for the graduation, will not be here for the wedding. After seeing Dorothy receive her diploma Mr. and Mrs. Warner will attend their 25th reunions at Yale and Smith. Dorothy, who will enter Sarah Lawrence in the fall, will be one of the 1939 debutantes.

Rawleighs Will Go North July 1.

Mr. and Mrs. James N. Rawleigh will not go to Lake Geneva until July 1. They have taken again the Wacker cottage on the grounds of the Chicago club. James Rawleigh Jr. is arriving today from Yale. Bill Rawleigh is a student at Lawrenceville.

Mr. and Mrs. Zimmerman, whose daughter, Miss Jane Zimmerman, is a debutante of the season, are occupying the big Wacker home, Fairlawn. Miss Zimmerman and her grandmother, Mrs. Charles H. Wacker, returned a week or two ago from a winter in Europe.

Mrs. Porter and Miss Lefens are expecting a visit this summer from Miss Marjorie Walsh of Brookline, Mass., who is engaged to Lefens Porter, Mrs. Porter's son. Hubbard Carpenter is spending week-ends in his Lake Geneva home, although Mrs. Carpenter still is in California.

Mrs. William Wrigley Still in California.

Mrs. William Wrigley is lingering on in Pasadena and has no plans yet for coming to her big Lake Geneva estate. Her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James R. Offield, are spending week-ends at the lodge, a smaller house on the grounds.

The Lake Geneva Country club and the Lake Geneva Yacht club both are open, and Holiday Home will open again next Friday with 80 girls from Chicago. The home is supported by Chicagoans who summer at the lake. About 500 children are cared for during the summer, with boys and girls alternating every two weeks.

Mrs. Albert F. Madlener Jr. is president of the home. On the board of directors are Mrs. Bartholomay, the senior Mrs. Madlener, Mrs. Augustus K. Maxwell, Mrs. Simeon B. Chapin, Mrs. Charles R. Crane, and Mrs. Edwin B. Frost.

At the Elgin club, where other Chicagoans stay, the E. S. Clark home has been made ready for Frank R. Meyer Jr. of River Forest. The E. E. Robbins family of Chicago has taken a house on the lake's east shore.

Mrs. Frank V. Skiff Guest in Chicago.

Ten parties in four days will keep Mrs. Frank Vernon Skiff of New York and Palm Beach busy during the four days she is visiting the William A. Yagers, but had she accepted all the

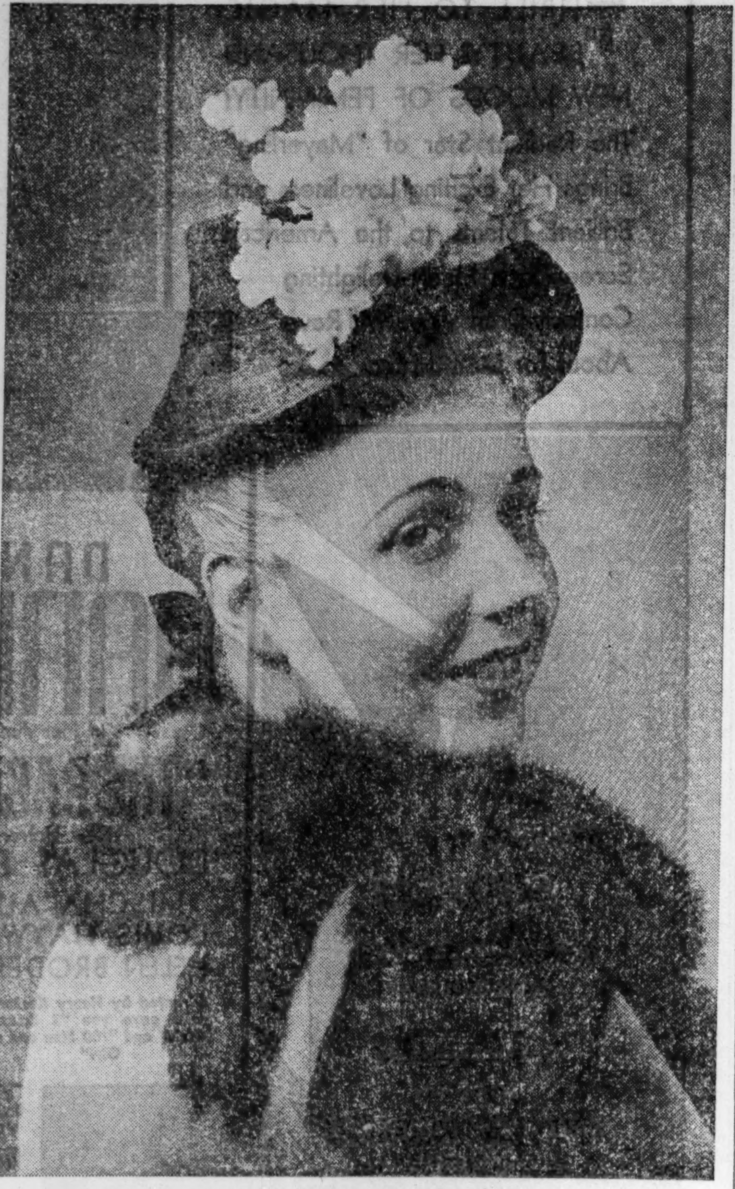
Like a Bit of Whimsey?



[Marshall Field Photo.]

Present 3 New Shades to Trim White Outfits

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Three grand new shades have just joined the summer fashion parade to help maintain interest in white as a basic color. The shades are real magenta, a color that has held records for elusiveness for months; a flattering gold yellow christened "chrome yellow," and a dark green, dull in tone but slick for the cooling down of a summer costume in any basic shade.

Other new items to go with white include two new blouse designs. Both have very short sleeves, and both are designed to wear outside a skirt if you wish. The odds favor the blouse jacket type with the fat rolled cord edge around the front closing and sleeves.

Belts and bags of the smoothest summer weight kidskin you've ever spent your money to own come in exact colors to match the blouses. There are two styles of hats. One rakish, high crowned affair has the swank that is especially good with suits or dresses made like suits. The second hat is of semi-rough straw, just like the big broad brimmed hats of your childhood, complete to the twin long streamers down the back. See them, buy them, and feel like a youngster again. These straw charmers come in all the three colors and are perfect summer sunshades.

The general idea is to use these three summer colors to spike up all white clothes, but an imaginative color mixer can manage other telling combines that will be different from the usual "white and" get togethers. One especially good idea for spectator sports costumes starts with a skimpy tailored white skirt with a couple of action plaits in the front section. With this skirt get a trim little shirt blouse top in any of the three colors, add one of the hats and a belt, bag, and gloves and you have a distinctive outfit for a small price.

Fashion photograph. . . . Trust Schiaparelli to launch something different. . . . This microscopic creation, whimsically called a "doll's hat," is made of shiny black straw, boasts a small crown and a coquettish bouquet of white flowers to accent the pinched dent in the brim. Another hat of black has leaf trim with a realistic bug on one of the leaves. All in the name of fun and summer fancy!

Many Inspect New Home at Exchange Sale

The two story, oak paneled living room of the Conway Olmsteds' new home just at the southern edge of Lake Bluff was a perfect place in which to display the attractive wares of the Chicago Woman's exchange yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. Olmsted have not gotten around to furnishing the room, so there was plenty of space for display tables.

Many women visited the house between the hours of 10 and 5, anxious not only to see and to purchase the lovely things for which the exchange is famed, but to see the house.

Mrs. Olmsted was there in the morning, but she slipped away after luncheon to see a baseball game, leaving Mrs. William M. Spencer, president of the exchange, and most of the board of directors to act as hostesses.

The house, Norman in style, is on the lake, and it is reached from Sheridan road via a long, new driveway, bordered on the left at this time of year by quantities of field daisies. The great expanse on the right probably will be lawn after the workmen who are busy there, and in the space between the house and the lake, are finished, but at present the grounds are just brown, fertile looking fields.

The whitewashed brick house is interestingly shaped so that the lake is visible from almost every room. From an oval entrance hall with an oval tufted rug so thick and green it is just like a bit of heavy turf, one enters the Chinese papered dining room with Chinese red lether seats in the Chippendale chairs and draperies of the same rich color. Or one can go into a charming small living room and then on to an equally charming library, each with a gorgeous view of the water. Chinese paper in silver and Ming yellow is in an octagonal shaped powder room, and the fittings are silver and the draperies a darker red than Chinese, almost a Pompeiian.

A narrow hall from which the stairway rises to the second floor leads into the big living room. A clothesline across the stairs yesterday served to keep too inquisitive visitors from wandering into forbidden realms and also made a good place upon which to hang some of the entrancing toddlers' clothes that were on sale.

The negligees and maids' attire were displayed to good advantage by Mrs. Charles S. Dewey Jr., her sister, Miss Kay Goodman; Miss Betty Armour, Miss Mary Gardner, Miss Mary Adams, Mrs. Press Hodgkins, Mrs. Louis C. Sudler, and Mrs. John D. Ames.

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

There's a quaint little "musical" on the charming Esquire's screen.

Never had one a more naïve and incredible story, and the effort made to ape Hollywood style and to work in American slang makes you think of the little girl in her mamma's clothes who really thinks she's making you believe she's mamma. But everybody, excepting Roland Young, who, I fear WAS a bit bored—is so in earnest, and so happy about the whole thing, that I feel quite sure you'll take "Sailing Along" to your hearts, so to speak.

Jessie Matthews plays a barge waif. An orphan who's been adopted by a kindly barge captain, with a stalwart sailor son who loves young Kay. One day she is discovered singing and dancing on the boat . . . the while attending to the family washing . . . by Mr. Gulliver, an eccentric soup king whose hobby is discovering genius.

To make a long story short, he gives the little lady a chance. She makes good—but discovers, just as she's about to become famous, that, after all, there's nothing she wants quite so much as her sailor boy and a home with him on the rolling waves.

Miss Matthews sings and dances charmingly and she has quite a whiz of a dance partner in Jack Whiting—who resembles Nelson Eddy and acts considerably like Gene Raymond. [That ought to bring the girls to the box office.]

Backgrounds of the River Thames are fascinating, and there are snatches of exquisite photography. Tunes are hummable.

Looking at Hollywood by Ed Sullivan

A Columnist's Clock.

Hollywood, Cal., June 9.

9:30 a. m.—Up early, and the birds chirping on the lawn, a far cry from Times square. A letter from Rochelle Hudson. A cablegram from Darryl Zanuck, inviting me in for tea and muffins in London. Letters from Chris Dunphy, Martin de Alzaga Unzue, Marvin Schenck, Photoplay's Hazel Berge, Arthur Boran, Bill Demarest, Joe Moore.

Martin de Alzaga Unzue is better known at El Morocco and "21" as Macoco, and he tells me that he's going to take twenty American midget auto racers back to Buenos Aires in November. Mr. Schenck's letter rebukes me for not writing more often, which is a sure sign of a guilty conscience, as he owed me a letter.

A letter from Chicago's Capt. Dan Gilbert. An invitation from Capt. A. T. Sewell to take a ride in the blimp Volunteer, that waddles daily over Los Angeles. A letter from Red Kann, editor of widely read Boxoffice, in which the red headed one takes an editorial poke at me for the column entitled "It's a Fake." Kann feels that the movie audiences shouldn't be disillusioned by taking them behind the scenes.

10:30 a. m.—On the stage of the El Capitan theater, in Hollywood, where M.-G.-M.'s "Good News" program is rehersing. Meredith Wilson, Ed Gardiner, Robert Taylor, Robert Young, Fannie Brice, Rita Johnson are sitting around in a semicircle running over the script. L. K. Sidney is in the control room. Eight months ago, when I came west, the thought struck home that the Chief, crack train of the Santa Fe, was worth a story. It had carried hundreds of ambitious kids to Hollywood, each one nursing the same dream of success in the movies.

So Walter Samuels has done the music for this story, and this morning Meredith Wilson's band is rehersing what we have called "Hollywood." You'll hear it next week, and until then Samuels and your correspondent will keep their fingers crossed, just as the kids do who travel west on the Chief.

12 noon—Luncheon with Arthur Hornblow at Lucey's, near the RKO and Paramount studios. The luncheon discussion covers the latest book on Napoleon, Gilbert Miller, Myrna Loy, the Mayo clinic, and the expected arrival of Alfred Hitchcock, British director who produced "39 Steps."

Hornblow recalls the last time he saw Hitchcock in London at a farewell cocktail party. With five martinis under his belt Hornblow confided to Hitchcock that he would like to take back to America on the morrow a Great Dane.

No love being so profound as that of one imbiber for another, Hitchcock, with tears streaming down his face, vowed that Arthur's request touched him to the deepest recess of his soul. This appreciation started Hornblow and he started blubbering, martini tears wetting his cheeks.

The next morning he was awakened by the room clerk at the Dorchester: "Sir, there are some persons here with dogs, large dogs." Hornblow opened the door and was almost knocked down by fourteen Great Danes that came bounding into the room, sent by Hitchcock. Yes, indeed, Hornblow's anxious to see Alfie again.

1:30 p. m.—Watching the Shriners parade past. But it is not the band or the chanters or the floats that are most impressive, but rather the gay costumes and the shoes that curl up in front. I'd like to have shoes like that. That's the trouble with shoes, no imagination.

3 p. m.—Vine street crowded with New Yorkers—Nick the Greek, Lou Cooper, Lou Cohen, Patsy Flick, Dave Vine's daughter; Actor Charlie Brown, Bert Frohman, Henry King. Jackie Fields and some others discussing the Baby Arizmendi-Lew Ambers fight that ended in a draw. Fields said he believed Ambers won off by himself.

4. p. m.—Knocking off a column. The composing room back east says the copy is coming through too late. For eighteen years they've been telling me that. Wonder if it could be my fault?

7 p. m.—Dinner at the House of Murphy, where former Vaudeville Actor Bob Murphy is celebrating his first anniversary as a boniface. W. C. Fields, Bill Frawley, the Harry Rapfs, the Jack Cummingses, the Al Ritzes, the Groucho Marxes, the Jack Haleys and everybody else on hand who made reservations weeks ago because only seventy-five are seated on the great occasion. Murphy plucks a woman's hat off, puts it on his head and sings, "In My Easter Bonnet," etc. It's a gay evening and you've never tasted such a dinner as he composed.

8:30 p. m.—Fighting your way through downtown Los Angeles, its streets choked with the parading Shriners. The line of cars ahead of us halts to permit a westbound auto to cut through the traffic, and as the car takes advantage of the opening a trolley car hits it and crumples the running board and fenders as though made of tissue paper.

At long last we reach the Biltmore theater where Helen Hayes is playing in "Victoria Regina," and we have to wait 20 minutes to be seated as the first scene is in progress. Miss Hayes turns in a magnificent performance that is extraordinary, because from the streets outside come the dull explosions of giant firecrackers, the shrill of whistles, and the din of parading bands. Yet not one of the performers goes up in his lines, and not once does the audience jar loose from the spell cast upon them. It is to be doubted that Helen Hayes ever will forget this experience, for actors and actresses never worked at a greater disadvantage—and never worked better.

Drink Plenty of Water for Beauty's Sake

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

Can we sell you women a drink today, if we'll guarantee it has a health and beauty kick in it that none of your fancy party concoctions can claim? Can we sell you two of these health drinks an afternoon, two for the morning, six or eight for the entire day?

Yes, it's water we're offering you. Sorry we haven't a different name by which to sell it. If we could call it Superb Tonique, or Aqua Cleansing Lotion, or Rejuvenating Elixir we'd have you asking where to purchase the article. But here you've got your tonique superb, your cleansing item, and your elixir, and we have to call it water because it hasn't any other name.

Yet, try and sell that beauty product to the average woman by its own name and you'll have her turning up her nose at you for your naïveté.

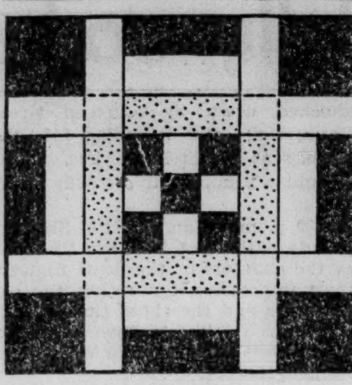
I bring this water wagon into the beauty picture today because I have just been conversing with hospital attendants. One told me of an almost superhuman struggle to get a patient to take a few glasses of water daily. And, mind you, she wasn't a woman reared on stronger stuff, except tea and coffee! But water was anathema. She hated it and wouldn't take it willingly. As the attendant said: "That's exactly why the dame is here!"

Spas, for instance, are preaching the drinking of water. Doctors are urging it on patients and the women who have thus gained their water education are broadcasting the good that it has done to their skins, to say nothing of problems less pleasant to talk about, and still more unpleasant to be victim of, such as body odor.

Let's put it this way to you cosmetic-minded women—I mean those women who expect cosmetics to do more for them than should be expected. And I'm not panning the use of cosmetics, understand. But there's this other problem of cleansing and flushing the internal system. So, suppose every time you cleanse your face with a cream you take a long drink of water. Every time you wash your hands take a drink. Ever time you apply lipstick during the day have a drink.

Do this until you get the taste, and then develop that taste into a habit. And then see what you will see about water as a purifier and beautifier.

National Symbol Commemorated in Quilt Block



Independence Square.

Patterns of this design are 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street or Tribune Tower.

BY NANCY CABOT.

Independence square in Philadelphia has been permanently commemorated in a pieced block under the same title. This simple nine patch design is created in the colors of our national emblem, and set together to form an all-over pattern. The simplicity of the pattern may be easily recognized in studying the block, since all the patches are rectangular and may be set together with neatness and dispatch. The finished square measures 13½ inches, and only 30 blocks are required for an entire coverlet. An 11½ inch border and a one-half inch bias binding finish the quilt, which measures 90 by 104 inches.

SYNOPSIS.

Elizabeth Sandal is shocked to find her children, Dorothea and Oliver, resent their father's will that unexpectedly left a fortune to her and did not mention them. She goes off to Switzerland for a change and rest, and meets Andrew Leicester, who was a groom at her wedding. Andrew, a widower, is returning after years of absence in the east to meet his children. William, his son, lives with a bachelor relative; his daughter, Shirley, with his wife's relatives. Shirley was in an airplane accident with a young pilot, Tony Voisin, after which Tony's engagement to another girl was broken. Her mother's people blame Shirley. Andrew hopes to have it out with Shirley before seeing his in-laws. Shirley believes he is aligned with her hated relatives and treats him coolly. Andrew turns to Elizabeth for sympathy. She tries to make friends with the boy and girl. Oliver visits his mother and lingers to fall in love with Shirley. After William flies back to school Shirley enlists Oliver's aid and summons Tony Voisin to explain to her father that he—not Shirley's actions—broke his engagement.

INSTALMENT XXXV.

A MATTER OF LIBEL.

Tony took a letter from his pocket and passed it to Shirley. She recognized her grandmother's writing and breathed a sigh of relief.

Now at last she would know what had been said to him.

> "Sir:
>
> "Your scandalous behavior with regard to my granddaughter, Miss Leicester, is fully known to her family. Do not imagine because you young people can deceive an elderly and ailing lady that Miss Leicester is without guardians or that you will not be called upon to pay for your folly. Her father has been informed of the disgraceful circumstances and on his return to England will deal with you as you deserve.
>
> "In the meantime, as his representative, I warn you that if you presume to approach her or communicate with her in any way whatsoever, I shall put the matter in the hands of my solicitors immediately.
>
> M. MORTIMER."

This was so mild in comparison with what Shirley had feared that she laughed.

"Funny, I know," agreed Tony, "but the devil of it is my father doesn't think so. This dear old soul addressed her little effort to the firm, and as I had gone to America, it was naturally opened as a business communication. Being fed to the teeth with me over the Glayde affair, the family were pretty cold in their correspondence anyway and I didn't dream they were holding this over my head, until I got home."

"But you did break off the engagement yourself, didn't you, Tony?" exclaimed Shirley in some anxiety.

"O yes, I broke it all right. . . . I was on the way to have it out with her that day I took you up, but my people had been against it from the start. They got my back up and were so jolly smug when they found they had been right that I couldn't stick it, and cleared off to America."

Tony was indignant, for on his return home he had immediately been confronted with Mrs. Mortimer's letter and a new set of suspicions by his father, and was determined to make that gentleman eat his words. He had only been able to imagine that, in spite of her grandmother's exaggerated language, Shirley had been injured after all in the Tea-Tray's landing, and the relatives were hinting at compensation. He had driven down to Sussex on Wednesday last to find out the worst, in a great old state of mind, he said, but the Mortimers' maid had informed him Miss Leicester was abroad. Then suddenly a stoutish female had appeared and, hearing his name, more or less slammed the door in his face.

"Go away you naughty man," grinned Tony. "That was the sort of look I got from her."

"You would," said his accomplice with disgust.

"You may guess I was bucked to hear your voice on the phone, Shirley. My father is livid because he says the dam' letter is probably all over the firm by now, and I am supposed to be a director later on. Bad example for the underlings, and all that. And the point is, this letter says your father has been informed of the disgraceful circs. Well! I want to know what they are, don't you? If I didn't break your bones, what did I break? Dear old granny talks very glibly about her solicitors, but ought to learn there's a law of slander. People's tongues have been cut out for less, and I'm all for it."

Tony in fact was exuberant in his lust for revenge, a prospect pleasing to his fellow victim, in theory, at least, and for a little they exchanged suggestions on the fruitful topic and enjoyed themselves immensely. But Tony's time was short and it was necessary to get off to Evian.

Andrew had left his daughter in Geneva with some misgivings, and when, from the hotel windows where he was standing with Elizabeth, he saw her sauntering up the terrace, not with one young man but two, he was torn between relief, amusement and vexation.

"Tony Voisin would like to see you if you can spare a moment."

"What's that?"

"What do you mean by bringing the fellow here before condescending to say a word to me about this affair of yours?" he exclaimed.

"He has come from England to see you on business of his own, not mine," she returned.

"Very well!"

He excused himself to Elizabeth and in no very happy frame of mind walked out of the room, followed by his daughter. He was, however, civil in his greeting to Tony and took him to the smoking room, Shirley accompanying them uninvited.

"So you have some concern in Mr. Voisin's business after all, have you?" he asked her dryly.

The girl faced him indignantly, but to quarrel with him before Tony was not her intention and she replied:

"I am a witness for him."

"Yes, rather, sir, and I need one," exclaimed the young man. "I am a stranger to you, but Shirley can tell you what I say is true. I understand you have been told some fairly libelous stories about me."

"May I ask who said so?" asked Andrew, looking him over, and suspecting Shirley.

Young Voisin took out Mrs. Mortimer's letter and asked him to read it. He recognized the writing with disquiet, but complied, conscious of the eyes that watched him, two eager and two cold.

"I had never heard of this old lady in my life," declared Tony as he came to the end of it. "She sent that to my father's firm and as I was abroad it was opened in the course of business. Naturally my father wants an explanation of my scandalous behavior and so do I. Mrs. Mortimer's door was shut in my face when I went to ask for it. Neither Shirley nor I know what it is, but the letter says you do, Mr. Leicester."

"You don't know what it is?" repeated Andrew incredulously.

"We can guess," said Tony, grinning.

"It was a lie, whatever it was," added Shirley fiercely.

"We've met at most half a dozen times and only once alone, eh, Shirley?"

"Five times at the Glaydes," she agreed, "and that day on the road by chance, when you offered to take me for a hop in your plane, because Doris had slipped you up. I've never seen you since and I didn't even know where you lived."

"Absolutely!"

"And yet this Miss Glayde broke off her engagement to you through my daughter. Isn't that so?" inquired Andrew, frowning.

"Never in this world. I broke it myself and my people can prove it. Anyway that is no excuse for this old lady's libeling us both out of a clear sky and without a shadow of evidence. She's not going to get away with it, Mr. Leicester. . . . Well, naturally, as Shirley's father, you'll agree with me."

"Quite! I agree that her letter to you is unfortunately phrased and that mischief has been done to you. . . . Shirley, you had better leave me to discuss this matter with Voisin. If you are needed again I shall send for you."

"He has been libeled for doing a kindness to me," she cried. "Something has got to be done if I do it myself."

"There will be no occasion."

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

The flower pot guest soaps are something to see if you're the sort of woman who likes dainty and decorative bathroom touches. Arranged in a miniature plant stand of wire there are eight white flower pots, each topped with tiny artificial flowers. The little, blooming flower pots are cakes of snowy castile soap.

These stands are irresistible in their charm. When you see them you'll want them terribly. We did. We must admit the thought occurred to us that the average guest would be a bit timid about using one of those very pretty little pots as he would a garden variety cake of soap but in any case the hostess can't lose.

These flower and soap laden frames stand about ten inches high and are really much more attractive than we can make you picture them. They're inexpensive, too, and we can imagine there will be a stampede for them as gifts or bridge prizes. The whole charming idea is the brain child of a soap company which is always doing amusing things to take soap out of the ordinary class.

Another tip for women who cherish daintiness is the perfumed hair net. It's a sleeping net, really, and the kind that fits snugly but looks decorative too. It has longish loose bands that can be worked into a turban effect that is actually fetching.

However, it isn't its looks but the fact that it is scented that appeals to us. We took ours out of the drawer recently to find that its pretty, fresh fragrance has clung through the months since we mislaid it. We don't know how you feel about it but to us there is something extremely pleasant in perfume while you go about the dreamy business of drifting off to sleep.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1938: By Ely Culbertson.]

There is one conventional bid that is not generally known and yet which is extremely valuable, especially against opponents who indulge in shut-out bidding. I refer to the four no trump overcall, which is just another form of take-out double. In the following deal South used this convention correctly, and it was only North's stubborn refusal to coöperate that spoiled the result.

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
4 spades	Pass	Pass	4 no trump
Pass	Pass	Pass

North, an experienced player, knew very well what South's four no trump bid demanded but, with a spade stopper of his own and a king and queen on the side, arbitrarily decided that no trump would be as good as any other contract. He was soon to regret his autocratic decision. Not that the contract was not made. It was. But North-South still found themselves with very nearly a bottom score, because almost every other team in the room reached the laydown contract of six hearts.

South's bid had been conventional and forcing. The four no trump overcall is a valuable bidding device invented for just such hands as South held. Very often, when a player has great strength in three suits, the bidding will be opened preëmptively against him, and it then is his task to find his own best contract within the limited bidding space left him by the preëmpt. Thus, without the conventional four no trump as an aid, South would have had to be satisfied with either doubling the opponents and defeating them one measly trick, or making a pure "stab" at a suit bid of his own. If he happened to hit hearts, all well and good, but he might just as well have chosen to bid five clubs or five diamonds, and had he done so North would have been unable to correct the contract. The four no trump overcall solves this dilemma. It says to partner: "I have tremendous strength outside the opponents' suit, and merely have to know which suit you can support. Please advise." Usually the four no trump bid contains no stopper in the adversely bid suit, although, of course, if it is present this is no defect. But the mere fact that the responder holds a stopper in the opponents' suit is not sufficient reason for failing to follow orders. In this case North should have jumped at the chance to bid five hearts. Even six hearts would not have been any great stretch, since North held two heart tricks upon which South could not be counting. Even a five heart contract, however, would have been superior to the four no trump, and only a small amount of care would have been required to fulfill a slam contract.

The spade ace would win the first trick and declarer should immediately ruff a spade, cash the heart ace, then overtake the heart queen. He should ruff the last spade with his own last trump, then reënter dummy with the club queen, draw trumps with the 10 and 9, discarding his own low diamonds and, finally, concede a club.

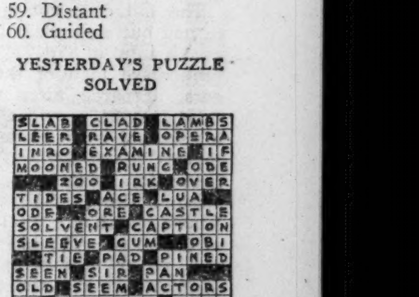
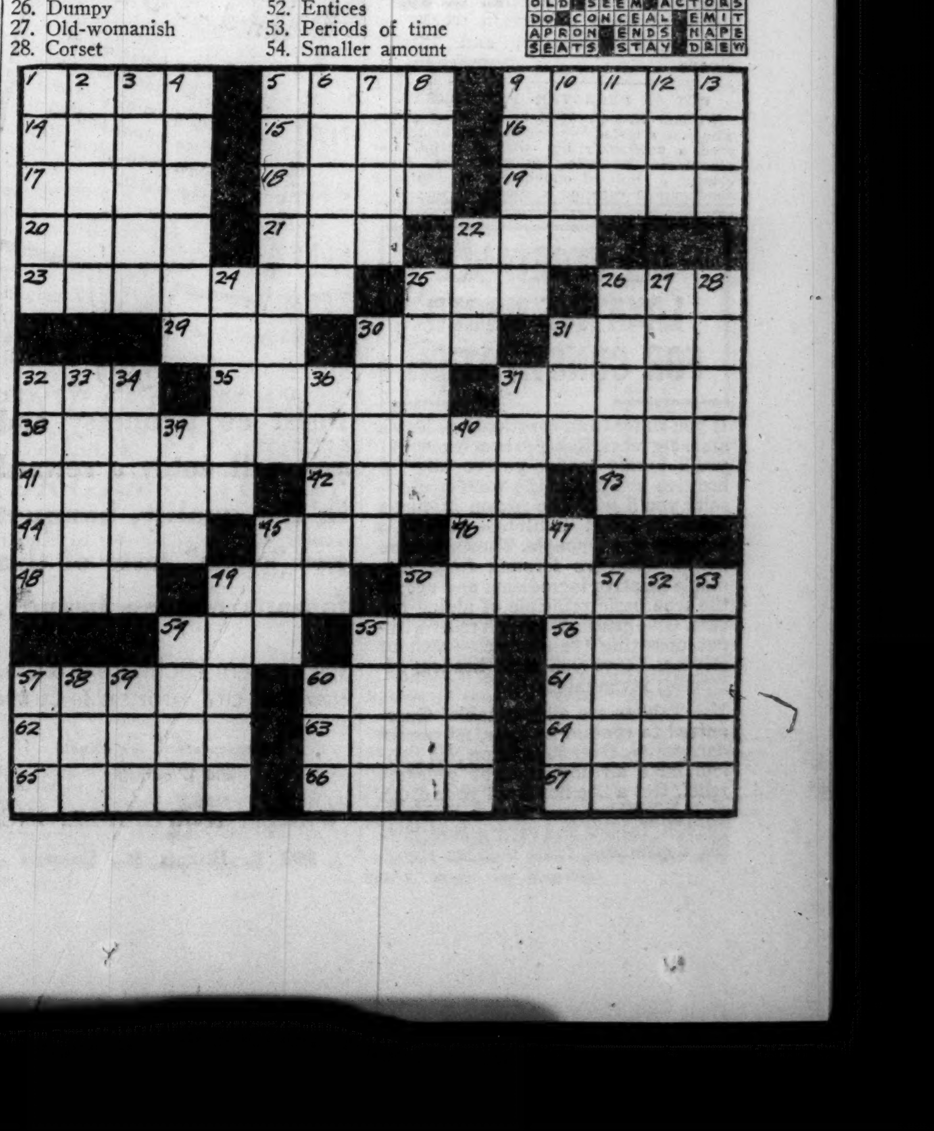
YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE SOLVED





SENATE VOTES POWER SCHEME IN FLOOD BILL

Act Is Amended on Plea of President.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 9.—[Special.]—A $376,700,000 omnibus flood control bill was passed by the senate without a record vote today after it had been converted into a water power scheme by two amendments sponsored by Senator George W. Norris [Rad., Neb.] and Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky.

As passed by the house and reported by the senate commerce committee, the bill carried out recommendations of the corps of engineers of the United States army for a comprehensive flood prevention and control program in the major river basins of the country.

As amended by the senate, at the request of President Roosevelt, the bill gives primary emphasis to water power and vests control in the federal power commission. Furthermore, it vests title to lands, easements, and rights of way for all the projects authorized in the United States, rather than in the local communities, which are required to put up 30 per cent of the cost of the lands, easements, and rights of way.

Mississippi Flood Control Act.

The $320,000,000 omnibus flood control act of 1936 and the $275,000,000 lower Mississippi flood control act of 1936 required states and political subdivisions to put up the entire cost of the land, rights of way, and easements for the federal projects. The bill passed today, however, authorizes the reimbursement of 70 per cent of the funds advanced by the local communities under the previous acts.

Norris offered the amendment vesting title in the federal government and supported the Barkley amendment, which provides that "pen stocks or other similar facilities adapted to possible future use in the development of hydro-electric power shall be installed in any dam heretofore or herein authorized upon recommendation of the federal power commission in accordance with the plans approved by the chief of engineers and secretary of war."

Another Barkley amendment removed from the bill a provision that "hereafter federal investigation, planning, and prosecution of improvements of rivers and harbors for flood control and allied purposes shall be a function of and under the jurisdiction of the corps of engineers of the United States army under the direction of the secretary of war . . ."

Power Board Supreme.

The effect of these amendments was to make the federal power commission supreme respecting water power development and even with respect to flood control, for before a dam can be constructed for flood control purposes the federal power commission must be satisfied that it is adapted for the fullest development of power.

Norris threatened the senate with a presidential veto in denouncing the provisions of the bill, which, he said, "would make it impossible in the future for us to carry out the principles established by law in the Tennessee Valley authority act."

Senator Royal S. Copeland [D., N. Y.], chairman of the commerce committee and manager of the bill, said he hoped the measure would be vetoed if the senate should adopt the Norris-Barkley amendments. For this he was rebuked by Majority Leader Barkley, who said it was "strange to hear a prospective member of the conference committee that will consider this bill say before hand that he is prejudiced against the amendments adopted by his own body." Barkley said Copeland left the impression that he would not insist upon the senate amendments in conference, but Copeland denied this.

Title Vests in Government.

Senator Copeland, in opposing the Norris-Barkley amendments, explained that every dam authorized by the bill with any possibility of power development was to be provided with a pen stock for the future installation of power facilities.

The bill does not appropriate any money but authorizes to be appropriated a total of $376,700,000. The comprehensive plan of the army engineers, prepared after the disastrous flood in 1937, provides, for the upper Mississippi basin alone, 10 reservoirs to cost $82,000,000 and 20 local flood protection projects on the upper Mississippi, Illinois, Sangamon, and Kaskaskia rivers at a total estimated cost of $5,500,000. The bill authorizes, for the upper Mississippi basin, only $6,600,000 for reservoirs and $2,700,000 for local flood protection works on the upper Mississippi and Illinois rivers.

PUT ON PROBATION FOR THREAT.

William Kroner, 5626 South Wells street, who was arrested Wednesday after he threatened a newspaper boy with a pistol, was placed on probation yesterday by Judge Eugene J. Holland on charges of disorderly conduct and carrying a concealed weapon.

PICARD AND HINES TIE FOR NATIONAL OPEN GOLF LEAD

SHOOT SUB-PAR 70; METZ'S 73 IS CHICAGO'S BEST

Only Six Beat 74 for First Round.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
[SCORES ON PAGE 27.]

Henry Picard.

Denver, Colo., June 9.—Henry Picard and James Hines, two young men who are held in high respect throughout the golfing profession, tonight were the only members of a starting field of 165 players who could say that they knew a thing or two about the Cherry Hills club course, scene of the forty-second National Open tournament.

Messrs. Hines and Picard revealed their practical knowledge of the layout by shooting 70, one under par, for a one stroke advantage over their competitors in this, golf's most important party of the season. Henry shot a 36—34—70 this morning and dusk was brushing the mountain tops when James reported with 34—36—70.

The suspicion that Cherry Hills would prove itself a right ornery puzzle in competition, as advanced in the practice rounds, was borne out by today's scoring. Only six in the regiment of swingers could break 74. From there figures opposite the names of bright lads wont to puncture par day in and day out mounted beyond the high 70s and into the 80s.

Rogers One Stroke Behind.

One shot back of Picard and Hines as the lads prepared for tomorrow's second eighteen holes was a local citizen named John Rogers. Mr. Rogers has been professional at the Denver Country club, a piece down the pike from Cherry Hills, since 1926. Today, despite the fact that he missed a half dozen putts of seven and eight feet, John came home with a par 71.

Emery tonight held a one shot edge on Richard Metz of Chicago's Mill Road farm course and Will Hunter, the one time British amateur champion from Pacific Palisades, Cal. The big batch of 74s included, among others, Gene Sarazen, champion in 1922 and 1932; Olin Dutra of Los Angeles, winner in 1934; John Revolta of Evanston, and Ralph Guldahl of Madison, N. J., the defending champion. Bracketed with them at 74 were the amateur leaders, Wilfred Wehrle, Racine's Western amateur titleholder; Ted Adams of Overland, Mo., and Ricard Chapman of Greenwich, Conn.

Snead and Smith Suffer.

While these gents were compiling their scores, many another favorite was making a painful acquaintance with Cherry Hills' skinny fairways, small greens and stubborn rough. Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., who finished runnerup in his open debut last year, had to fight for a 77, while his partner, Horton Smith, who led the Chicago district qualifying rounds, was taking an 80. Byron Nelson of Reading, Pa., carded a 77. Jimmy Thomson of Shawnee-on-Delaware, Pa., and Victor Ghezzi of Deal, N. J., two other highly rated players settled for 79. What tomorrow's eighteen and Saturday's strenuous round of thirty-six holes will bring remains a puzzle. Picard and Hines are better attuned to Cherry Hills than others present, for each has been on the grounds for more than a week, practicing steadily.

Picard has been a choice to win the open for four years, and Hines earned pre-tournament support when he won his second straight Metropolitan open recently. Picard, born in Plymouth, Mass., is 30 years old. Hines, 32, is a genuine New Yorker. Picard is now stationed at Hershey, Pa., while Jim is pro at the Lakeville club in Great Neck, N. Y.

Chicago's Still In It.

Led by Metz, the Chicago district was still within reaching distance. Revolta and Jimmy Foulis of Ruth Lake, whose uncle and namesake won the second national open in 1895, got 74. Other Chicagoans' scores included the following: Arthur Doering, 38—37—75; Harry Cooper, 39—37—76; Al Huske, De Kalb, 38—38—76; Bob Stupple, Skokie, 36—42—78; Sam Bernardi, Old Elm, 40—38—78; Tommy Armour, Medinah, 37—41—78; Horton Smith, Oak Park, 41—39—80; Gene Battistoni, Big Oaks, 39—41—80; Ky Laffoon, Northmoor, 40—41—81; John Lehman, Olympia Fields, 36—46—82; By Harcke, 44—40—84; George Victor,

In the Wake of the News

BY ARCH WARD.

CHICAGO rapidly is coming to the front as the home of saps and suckers. . . . There was a time when New York was running us a close race, but old Pop Dearborn has lost Father Knickerbocker somewhere on the back stretch. . . . A year ago last winter we challenged New York's supremacy with that professional tennis match at the Stadium when Ellsworth Vines, running a fever of 102, almost collapsed at the nets before succumbing to Fred Perry. . . . It was something like a $21,000 swindle. . . . A few months ago a capacity crowd at the International Amphitheater saw Everett Rightmire hammered to the mat in a few rounds by Henry Armstrong in a match that never should have been permitted in the first place. . . . Rightmire, it was reported, was ill in his dressing room before he was marched to his execution. . . . Then came the affair at Mills stadium Wednesday night in which Jack Trammell suffered a sudden fainting spell a few seconds after he had floored his opponent and was counted out after catching a glancing blow from Jimmy Adamick, who steadily is being maneuvered into a position of prominence among heavyweight title contenders. . . .

The important point about these strange sports events is that in no case was the admission price refunded to the customers. . . . This may be attributable to Chicagoans' custom of looking at such affairs with a fine sense of humor. . . . There was considerable yelping when the commission failed to declare the Trammell-Adamick bout no contest then and there, but few went into purple faced hysteria. . . . Sometime popular outcries against such injustices would be more effective. . . . This department holds that the paying customer has a constitutional right to get up on his hind legs and yammer like all fury when he feels that the old girl with the scales is getting a bouncing around. . . . We couldn't have blamed the suckers if they had picked up the chairs and ring posts and walked home with them. . . . They paid to see a boxing match. . . . What they actually saw was a big gorilla giving a crude demonstration of Sonja Henie's dying swan. . . . Expert judges agree it was a rank travesty, and it had the approval of the Illinois athletic commission. . . . The fighters may be set down for a few weeks, but what about the guys who shelled out their dough when they could have saved it for a much more finished performance at next winter's ice show? . . . We may be wrong [come, come now, Ward, how can you be], but we'll wager modestly, they'll be packed around the ringside the next time the boys come back to complete the haul.

My home's a little country place
As quiet as can be;
No noisy street car, train, or bus
Ever bothers me.

I like my little country spot
Especially at night,
When all is silent save the breeze,
And moon's a-shining bright.

But each day I come into town
And in an office toil,
And am I razzed about the "farm"!
"A simple country goil!"

They ask how many cows I've milked
And did I feed the chicks;
Or how the plowing's coming on
Out there among the sticks.

I'm told it must be awf'ly hard
Each and every day
Through the "forest" wild and dark
To have to cut my way.

But then I guess it's all in fun
[At least I think it is!];
They know I don't live on a farm,
Though I'm a country miss.

I've noticed, too, they don't refuse
Whenever they are asked
To come out to my country home
As often in the past.

But still, to them a country girl
I guess I'll always be;

Their favorite name for me!

FIVE SOX ERRORS HELP YANKEES TO 5-3 VICTORY

Dickey Crashes Homer with Gehrig On.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 9.—The first three White Sox batters in today's final with the Yankees scored and it appeared that the Sox heroics which had seen them victors in a single game against the champions Tuesday and in a double-header yesterday would go on endlessly. Unfortunately, however, laurel leaves thereafter drooped into the eyes of the Chicagoans and they wound up with just those three early runs, against five scored by the Yankees.

The Sox committed five errors that got in the books and several not technically tabulated, to show that they couldn't believe their own recent success. They hit occasionally, but never could follow up after that opening splurge. The fact that Gehrig had nineteen putouts at first base gives some indication of the way the Sox batters were damaging the infield grass with their gentle bounces.

Dickey's Homer Hurts.

Three of the Yankees' runs were due to Sox stagefright. Two, which tied the score in the fourth, were the result of Bill Dickey's homer after Gehrig had walked. The Sox rarely win a close game from the Yankees with Dickey in the lineup. Yesterday and the day before he was on the bench with a charley horse.

Johnny Whitehead, who went the route for the Hose, was as good a pitcher as his young rival, Joe Beggs, except for the Dickey home run ball. John held the slugging champions to ten hits and could have won with good support.

The defeat dropped the White Sox back into seventh place in the American league behind the victorious Philadelphia Athletics.

Sox Take to Beggs.

The Sox never had seen Beggs pitch before today and they started out as if it was a case of love at first sight. Berger opened with a single to left and stopped at third on Owen's double to the same terrain. Steinbacher scored the two of 'em with a single to center. Steiny got to third on outs by Kreevich and Radcliff, after which Walker walked. Walker broke for second while Beggs was standing on the mound with the ball in his hand, whereupon Beggs whirled and threw to Crosetti. Walker went into

Eleven Records Threatened in Central Track Meet Today

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Thirty-five universities and colleges are ready for the greatest assault on the Central Collegiate conference track and field records in the 13 years of this competition. Eleven of the 16 all-time marks can be broken if the stars of the track world who will compete this afternoon and evening in the Marquette university stadium in Milwaukee are granted fair weather.

The preliminaries will start at 2:30 p. m., central time. The first of the championship events, the one mile run, will be held tonight at 8:15 after the ceremonies and parade of contestants.

Strongest Field in History.

From Texas to Minnesota and from Pittsburgh to the western plains, the strongest field of stars in the history of the Central Collegiate meet has been brought together. While it is true that many of these teams are marking time until the national collegiate games in Minneapolis next week, and that the stars of the Big Ten also are eyeing the dual meet competition with the place winners of the recent Pacific Coast conference meet, which will be held in Dyche stadium, June 25, it does not alter the fact that today's meet should be the greatest in history of the Central association.

Indeed, the support of these games has been so consistent that the track coaches of the teams assembled yesterday in Milwaukee have planned to expand the annual meet.

Meet First Held in 1926.

The Central meet was started in 1926 by the late Knute Rockne, Con Jennings of Marquette, and Ralph Young of Michigan State. Their purpose was to provide climactic competition for those universities barred from the Western conference track meet by the Big Ten decision to limit these games to member universities.

The Rockne memorial trophy now is emblematic of the team championship. This year Wisconsin, which finished second in the Big Ten games; Notre Dame, with a splendidly balanced squad; Pittsburgh, led by Johnny Woodruff, its 800 meter champion, and Michigan State, which boasts of a great hurdler in Harvey Woodstra, winner of both hurdle races in the recent eastern intercollegiates, are leading contenders for the Rockne trophy. Indiana university, 1937 title holder, will not defend its honor because of a dual meet contract with Ohio State tomorrow. The date of the Central collegiate meet originally had been set for last Friday.

The Central records which are beyond the abilities of this year's stars are Ralph Metcalfe's marks for the 100 yard and 220 yard sprints; Bert Nelson's high jump mark; Jesse Owens' broad jump record of 25 feet 9 inches, which he established three years ago, and the shot put mark of Don Elser of Notre Dame.

Woodruff After Two Medals.

The table of best records this year by stars entered today indicates that all other records can be broken. Leading contender for two championship medals is Woodruff. He virtually is assured of victory in the quarter mile and if he is near peak form none should whip him in the half mile.

The mile and two mile records, established last year by Indiana's Don Lash, are within the scope of Wisconsin's great miler, Chuck Fenske, and Walter Mehl, the Badgers' two mile Big Ten champion, who erased Lash's Western conference record from the books last month at Ohio State. Fenske quite likely is the mile winner, but it remains to be seen if he can better Lash's time of 4:13.4. He did in the Big Ten meet.

Mehl is the best of the two milers by comparison of this year's marks and if he runs as fast as he did at Ohio State he will wipe out Lash's mark of 9:13.3. However, Greg Rice of Notre Dame, 1937 national collegiate two mile champion, and Dick Frey and Ken Waite of Michigan State will furnish serious competition.

Wolcott Favorite in Hurdles.

Woodstra, Jack Robinson of Illinois, Bush Lamb of Iowa, and several others can beat the high hurdle mark. Greatest in the field is Fred Wolcott of Rice institute, who won the Texas relays high hurdles in :13.9 and who is the only collegian to break 14 seconds this year. Wolcott is the favorite today.

Bob Lemen, Purdue's undefeated low hurdler and the Big Ten champion, tops the field of stars in this event. Woodstra also will seek this championship.

Befus Bryan of Texas, who vaulted 13 feet 11¾ inches to win in the Kansas relays, and Milton Padway of Wisconsin will meet in the pole vault duel. Either can break the record. William Faymonville of Notre Dame, record holder for the Pennsylvania relays by his mark of 157 feet 1½ inches, is after the discus record. William Graham of Texas, with a best mark of more than 218 feet, is the only one of the javelin men who has a chance to better the meet record of 213 feet 8 inches which Mark Panther of Iowa established in 1935.

Crisler Ordered to Cancel Speaking Engagements

Ann Arbor, Mich., June 9.—[Special.]—H. O. [Fritz] Crisler, University of Michigan football coach, today was ordered to cancel all speaking engagements for at least a month by his physician, Dr. A. C. Furstenberg. Crisler is suffering from laryngitis caused by strain and overwork.

DEAN SHELVED AGAIN BY OLD ARM TROUBLE

Dizzy Dean is on the shelf again. The five weeks of leisure which was figured to be sufficient to cure the trouble in the deltoid muscle of Dean's right arm failed of its purpose. Diz warmed up strenuously on Tuesday in expectation of a relief rôle. He did the same the next day and the pain reappeared in his $185,000 arm. The ache still was present yesterday, so Diz was ordered to resume resting, but some time next week Manager Grimm probably will blow up over the problem and give Dean a pitching job, sore arm or no sore arm. Diz hasn't been in a game since May 3 when he was withdrawn because of his trick shoulder, which he claims prevents him from throwing his old time fire ball.

Gabby Hartnett and Augie Galan still are on the Cubs' hospital list, the former with a bad left wrist which was hit by a pitched ball last Saturday and the latter with an injured knee which resulted from a collision with Pinky Whitney in Monday's game. Both probably will be out of action until next week.

Luke Appling, the White Sox shortstop, who suffered a broken ankle in an exhibition game with the Cubs in Los Angeles late in March, came out for a visit with the north side athletes yesterday. Luke worked out in Comiskey park the last few days and, while his ankle is weak, he thinks he may be back in circulation in another week.

The Brooklyn Dodgers, who still are in the National league, will be at Wrigley field today for the first of a three game series. The Cubs will start Charley Root. William Posedel will pitch for Brooklyn.

SCORE 3 RUNS IN 9TH; TIGHTEN 1ST PLACE GRIP

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Bill Terry's champion Giants, apparently refreshed by their double triumph on Wednesday, trampled on the Cubs again yesterday in the final of what was supposed to be one of those crucial series. It was crucial only for the Cubs. For the title holders, at least after the first game, it was just a breeze. The league leaders captured the concluding battle, 8 to 5, on the strength of a ninth inning splurge, thus dropping the Cubs a game and a half behind.

The finishing touch came suddenly, even unexpectedly, after the Cubs had been completely blocked off for five innings by a portly 265 pound American league discard by the name of Walter Brown. He was dropped into the argument after the Cubs had slapped Clydel Castleman and Bill Lohrman for enough runs to balance the scoring done by the Giants against Tex Carleton. But after three runless innings Tex grew weary in the ninth and the champions promptly made a rout of the affair by lathering Rescuer Bob Logan.

Carleton Fades Out.

Carleton's fadeout before a crowd of 14,317 began after two were out in the ninth, and the decisive maneuver was started by Brown, who bounced a single over Jurges' head. Carleton unintentionally committed a balk, his foot catching on the rubber as he was about to make a throw to first. Tex argued so long about the umpires' judgment that he disturbed his calm, and when he resumed work he couldn't get the ball over the plate. The wabbliness gave Bartell a pass, and this was where Logan came into the picture.

It was the old case of southpaw pitching against left handed hitting, and it didn't work. Moore crashed a single to right, but Brown was so long getting his 265 pounds under way that he was satisfied to stop at third. Four pitches, all wide, were enough to walk Ripple and force Brown to score. The rest of the damage was the work of Mel Ott, home run artist of the day before. He singled to right to score Bartell and Moore. Jack Russell then came in and ended the grief.

Scoring Starts in Third.

The Giants didn't see first base during the two opening innings, but as soon as they started hitting they scored. The first hit off Carleton was a looping single to short center by Kampouris with one out in the third. Too many Cubs tried to make the catch, the result being that none was successful. Castleman struck out, but Bartell spanked the ball into the field bleacher, Kampouris preceding him across the plate. Moore then doubled over third, but Ripple followed with a fly to Demaree.

Castleman, whose only defect in the first two innings was one pass, went wild in a big way in the third. This gave the Cubs three runs and brought his dismissal. Collins and Jurges led off with passes. They advanced one base on Carleton's long fly, and the bases were jammed on a pass to Hack. Herman's single to deep short scored Collins. Reynolds singled to right center on the first pitch, Jurges and Hack sprinting over the plate. Rescuer Lohrman broke up the party in a hurry. He threw

Boston, Mass., June 9.—(AP)— Lefty Grove of the Red Sox had 14 hit support today, but he didn't need it, for he blanked the Cleveland Indians, 8 to 0, to become the year's first 10 game pitching winner in the major leagues.

Only four Indians got as far as third base off Grove. He fanned eight and allowed only nine hits as the Red Sox took the series from the league leaders, two games to one. Two home runs—Jimmy Foxx's 18th and Ben Chapman's third—and six doubles and a triple went into the Boston assault on Mel Harder.

ATHLETICS BEAT KENNEDY.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 9.—(AP)—The Athletics spoiled Vernon Kennedy's bid for his tenth straight victory today. They handed the Detroit star right-hander his first defeat of the season, 8 to 5.

Kennedy was lifted for a pinch batter at the start of the seventh after Dario Lodigiani's sixth inning home run with the bases full had wiped out a 4 to 3 Detroit lead. Rudy York smashed his thirteenth home run off Chubby Dean in the eighth.

5 Sox Errors Help Yankees Triumph, 5-3

The Yanks got an unearned run in the first. With one down, Radcliff fumbled Rolfe's grounder. Di Maggio tripled to left center, scoring Rolfe. Then Gehrig popped to Hayes and Radcliff made a fine stop and toss to Whitehead to retire Dickey.

Exceedingly snappy double plays started by Berger slowed down the Yanks in the second and third, but in the fourth the score was tied through processes intimately familiar to Whitehead. Gehrig walked and then Dickey drove his seventh homer of the year into the right field grand stand, trotting around behind Gehrig to tie the score at 3-all. Henrich popped to Berger and Powell singled to center. Gordon and Beggs supplied easy outs.

Steinbacher Hits Again.

The Sox offensive in the fifth and sixth innings consisted of Steinbacher's third straight hit with two out in the fifth, but the Yankees went ahead in the sixth. Dickey opened with a single to center and was forced by Henrich. Berger threw out Powell. Gordon sent a long fly to left center and, after shooing the more reliable Kreevich away, Walker let the ball drop for a triple, Henrich scoring. Berger threw out Beggs.

Yankees Receive a Gift.

The Yankees got a run in the course of a Sox panic in the eighth. Henrich singled and after Powell had fanned, was forced by Gordon. Beggs tapped to Whitehead, who threw the ball to right field, Gordon scoring and Beggs going to second. Hayes recovered the ball and threw to the screen for his second and the Sox's fifth error, Beggs reaching third. Crosetti flied to Steinbacher.

Sox Will Start Stratton Today Against Boston

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 9.—Monty Stratton will pitch for the White Sox in the Boston opener tomorrow. He will be opposed by Rookie Charles Wagner.

The pre-game information on today's pitchers didn't help much. It was widely publicized that Ted Lyons and Lefty Gomez would pitch the final of the Yankees-Sox series. John Whitehead and Joe Beggs drew the assignment.

The Sox ran for a nearby way-station after today's game to catch an early train for Boston. They like the downy couches provided in Boston better than the four hour berth naps the night trip entails.

WEST CATHOLIC DEFENDS TITLE AT NOTRE DAME

Notre Dame, Ind., June 9.—[Special.]—West Catholic High school of Philadelphia was the first to arrive today for the fifth Notre Dame national Catholic interscholastic track meet which opens with preliminaries tomorrow.

The squad of twenty-five took a light workout on Cartier field this afternoon preparatory to defending the title it has won each of the preceding four years of the national competition.

St. George High school of Evanston is rated the outstanding contender for West Catholic's championship. St. George won the Chicago city title last Sunday. A field of 211 boys from sixteen schools will compete in tomorrow's trials and Saturday's finals.

Giants Defeat Cubs, 8-5, for Third in Row

Giants Caught at Third.

Carleton's 3 to 2 lead lasted only until the Giants could take a shot at him in the fourth. They altered it into a 4 to 3 lead for themselves. A pass to Ott invited this outburst. Leiber singled to left and McCarthy singled to the same spot, Ott scoring. Leiber's ambition to get to third on the latter hit was shattered by Reynolds' throw to Hack. After Danning had popped out, Kampouris doubled into the right center field shrubbery, McCarthy counting. The Greek athlete thought his hit was worth three bases, but he was cut down, Marty to Herman to Hack.

The Cubs' fourth seethed with the action of eight batters, but only two of them scored. Collins walked and Jurges survived on a fumble by Kampouris. Carleton's bunt forced Collins at third. Hack whacked a two bagger to left center, Jurges scoring. A pass to Herman loaded the bases. A hard drive by Reynolds handcuffed Lohrman, and Carleton counted. Then Hack was forced at the plate on Demaree's grounder to Bartell and O'Dea rolled to McCarthy.

Giants Tie Score.

The champions got back into a tie with a run in the fifth, and if Jurges hadn't contributed one of his specialties they'd have gone into the lead. Chiozza batted for Lohrman and slipped a single to right and went to second when Carleton uncorked a wild pitch. Bartell bunted him to third. Moore doubled to right center and Chiozza scored. Ripple struck out and Carleton eluded the home run menace of Ott by giving a pass. Leiber then walloped a legitimate single toward center, but Jurges sprinted to his left, reached the ball with one hand, and tossed to Herman for the third out.

Brown Saves Pirates Again; Halts Bees, 5-3

Pittsburgh, Pa., June 9.—(AP)—Relief Pitcher Mace Brown held the Boston Bees to two hits in seven innings and he hit a single with the score tied and the bases loaded in the sixth to give the Pirates a 5 to 3 victory today.

Brown's hit was off Jim Turner, who walked Pep Young intentionally, filling the bases. Brown hit a grounder that took a bad hop and rolled away from Rabbit Warstler. Two runs scored. The victory was Brown's seventh as a relief pitcher.

The Pirates entered the first division by one-thousandth of a point—and that because Cincinnati still was charged with a defeat in a protested game with the Cardinals which Ford Frick, National league president, has ruled must be replayed. Frick ruled at the same time, however, that the defeat must remain in the standings until after the replay.

Dean Accepts Stanford Job; Awaits O. K.

Bloomington, Ind., June 9.—[Special.]—Everett S. Dean, for fourteen years basketball and baseball coach at Indiana university, returned today from Palo Alto, Cal., and said he had accepted an offer to become basketball coach at Stanford university. His appointment is expected to be confirmed soon by President Ray Lyman Wilbur and the board of trustees.

It is understood that Dean will receive a five year contract, with a salary increase over that paid by Indiana. Dean will succeed John Bunn, who resigned to become dean of men at Stanford.

Athletic Director Z. G. Clevenger said he will discuss applicants for the Indiana vacancy with members of the athletic board before recommending Dean's successor to President Herman B. Wells and the board of trustees.

Dean plans to work in the Hoosiers' summer coaching school before moving to Palo Alto to assume his new duties on Sept. 1.

ADAMICK THINKS HE HIT TRAMMELL A HARD WALLOP

His Manager Says Foe Quit Cold.

Detroit, Mich., June 9.—[Special.]—"I hit him a hard punch. It was a left hook to the chin. But whether it was hard enough to knock him out, I won't say. Only he knows that."

That was Jimmy Adamick's answer tonight to the charge that Jack Trammell, his colored opponent Wednesday night in Chicago, took a dive in the second round.

"I had just got up from the floor after being knocked down," Adamick explained, "and still was a bit excited. You know, none of my seconds or me expected that I'd be knocked down. But a couple of seconds after I got to my feet I was all right. I wasn't groggy or nothing. And I started throwing punches.

Hard to Land.

"It was hard for me to land. You know, Trammell has a small head. But one of the hooks caught him and he went down. That's all I know."

Asked if he thought Trammell could have regained his feet, Adamick answered, "I don't know. I was still pretty much excited. But I know I hit him a hard punch. And that's what I told the secretary of the boxing commission over there when he asked me."

"Well, sometimes," he said, "you don't feel it when you hit a fellow. You know your fist is covered with bandages and a glove. But the one I hit Trammell I felt all the way up to my elbow. That's how hard it was. But whether it was hard enough to knock him out I don't know."

Says Trammell Quit.

Later Jimmy Brady, Adamick's manager, who worked in Jimmy's corner, said Trammell "quit like a dog." Brady also said he didn't wait to try to collect any of Adamick's purse.

"We were guaranteed $2,500 with a privilege," he said. "After the bout the promoter told me the commission was holding up the purses. That's all I know. We hurried right back to Detroit and were told that the Illinois commission was meeting a week from next Monday. I guess we'll have to wait until then to find out what's what."

ANGLER LANDS GAMEY LAKE MICHIGAN TROUT

You May Hook Them by Trolling Spoon Lure.

BY BOB BECKER.

While trolling yesterday in the deep water of Lake Michigan between Fort Sheridan and Waukegan we located the elusive but gamey lake trout we have been trying to find for several weeks. Two fish struck our trolling lures, which were traveling at a speed of about 3 miles an hour. One of the fish was landed—a small one weighing about two pounds.

This contact with lake trout, which throughout most of the year spend their days down deep in 20, 25, or even 35 fathoms of water, was our first with these fish in the southern end of Lake Michigan. Our experience yesterday in finding a few lakers about 10 miles out from the shore and in fairly shallow water is a tip to boating enthusiasts who plan on doing a little cruising this week-end. By trolling a spoon lure they may be able to hook some of these lake trout which range in weight from 2 pounds up.

Troll North From Fort Sheridan.

We trolled the water from Fort Sheridan north toward Waukegan and Zion in the commercial fishing boat owned by Henry W. Smith of Waukegan, who has been catching lake trout for the market for 11 years. We headed out into the lake, south by east, in order first to troll a reef which is about 5 or 6 miles straight out from Fort Sheridan.

As soon as we reached the reef we rigged up three lines for trolling. Number one had a live smelt for bait and was weighted with a four ounce dipsey sinker. Number two was rigged with a whirling spoon lure and went down quite deep with 18 ounces of lead sinker. Number three [light wire] ran out from our five and half foot tubular steel trolling rod, carried a medium size [number 4] spoon lure and was weighted with two four ounce dipsey sinkers.

Hooked 20 Feet Below Surface.

We got the first strike at 1:57 o'clock when we were trolling over about 25 fathoms of water approximately 10 miles out from Waukegan. This fish was hooked securely about 20 feet below the surface. About 40 minutes later another trout hit the largest spoon lure, which was traveling considerably deeper. This one was hooked only through the gill cover and finally freed itself from the hook.

If boat owners want to take along a light lake trout fishing outfit and try for fish while they are cruising around off the Illinois shore this week-end we suggest the following accessories:

Rod . . . any heavy muskie, light salt water rod, or regular lake trout steel rod which costs about $7.50. The best line is the braided wire type [costing about $2 for 100 yards]. A single action lake trout reel [about seven inches in diameter] costs from 2 to 4 dollars.

You had better take along two or three long wire leaders with swivels which keep the line from twisting. There is a wide choice of spoons.

The high spot of Metz's round was an eagle three at the long eleventh, where he holed a 15 footer after reaching the green with a driver and a spoon. Prior to that Dick drove the ditch at the first, holed a 20 foot birdie putt at the sixth, and was over the green and in the rough at the sixth and ninth, respectively. He missed a short putt at the fifteenth and found a bunker at the sixteenth, finishing with a pair of pars.

Picard drove the ditch off the first tee and, after putting his second in the rough, settled for a five. From there on he shot eight pars to the turn, missing birdie chances of from six to ten feet at the sixth, seventh, and eighth greens. He was on the 560 yard eleventh in two for a birdie, and, after missing the next green, holed a six footer for his par. He got a birdie at the thirteenth with a five footer and on the fourteenth from twenty feet. He hit a fine midiron shot to the eighteenth, but the ball after landing squarely in the center of the green hopped back into the fringe. After regaining the green he missed a fifteen foot try for his par.

Hines Bears Down.

Hines' out nine included four birdies, bringing him to the turn in 34. He was a foot from the first pin for his opening birdie, dropped a 12 footer at the third and one from eight feet at the fifth. He three putted the sixth, missed the seventh green, and overshot the eighth, after which he sank another good putt for a birdie at the ninth. He chipped in for a birdie at the eleventh and holed a ten foot try at the fourteenth. He came to the eighteenth tee, needing a four for a 68, but his second hopped to the fringe, and after putting cautiously down the slope of the green, he needed three more to hole out for a 36.

American Meets Equitable in Softball League

The American Automobile team will play the Equitable Life Assurance society tonight in Grant park in the Insurance Softball league. Other games are:

London and Lancashire vs. Western Adjustment and Inspection; Providence Washington vs. Insurance Exchange; General Accident vs. Hanover, and Bituminous Casualty vs. W. A. Alexander.

DRIVERS TEST FAIR GROUNDS RACING SURFACE

Several drivers had their cars on the Fair Grounds track yesterday tuning up for Sunday's automobile races at River road and North avenue. All said the racing surface was the best it has been since Promoter Carl Stockholm introduced the sport there.

With twenty-five entries filed, special events have been added to a program that originally called for seven.

One of them will be a trial against time by Floyd Roberts, winner of the Indianapolis Memorial day 500 mile race, in the car that he drove to victory.

Another special event will be the match race between Jimmy Snyder, holder of the one lap record at Indianapolis, and Ronnie Householder, who set this year's qualifying record at Indianapolis.

The entry list shows that seven out of the first ten men in the money at Indianapolis will face the starter Sunday afternoon. Wilbur Shaw, who finished second in the Hoosier race, will not be in the starting lineup because his car is not yet ready for the dirt track season, but he will do the announcing over the public address system.

Scientists use a sensitive osmoscope to measure odor . . . to record its intensity and lasting power. Ten popular brands of 5¢ cigars were tested by this machine. Smokers' Test showed Vintage Tobacco was EASIER ON YOUR BREATH

WHITE OWLS are definitely easier on your breath—scientific tests proved it. And there's a good reason why, too. Every White Owl always has a Vintage-tobacco filler. Nature—not artificial factory processing—made this tobacco exceptionally mild, mellow.

We maintain a vast crop-inspection system—the only known organization of its kind—to locate Vintage tobacco. Even in Vintage years, we classify all filler tobacco into seven grades—and buy only tobacco of the quality of the top three for use in White Owls.

OWNERS DODGE NAMING WINNER OF JOLIET STAKE

Fast Field of Juveniles Is Entered for Race.

BY FRENCH LANE.

In the event you want to find out who will win the $5,000 Joliet stakes for 2 year olds at Lincoln Fields tomorrow afternoon do not ask any of the owners or trainers. They'll come right back at you and say, "Now you tell one."

Warren Wright.

No doubt there are some fast 2 year olds in the collection of eligibles for the race. There has to be, for the best blood lines in the country are represented. But the truth about the whole situation is that hardly any one can separate the good ones from the bad ones.

Warren Wright will go no deeper into the situation than to remark: "Well, I think I've got a pretty good colt in Beau James."

Taggart More Enthusiastic.

Tom Taggart is a bit more enthusiastic. "I've got a good colt in Yale o' Nine, but you know his old daddy, Peter Hastings, was kinda 'teched' when he got to a starting barrier. Well, Yale o' Nine is showing the same symptoms. But he can run and don't forget that."

Charley Cleary, whose Wiskover was beaten by Yale O'Nine last Saturday, will tell you it was all an accident. "Somebody hit our rider, Porter Roberts, across the face with his whip during the battle," says Mr. Cleary. "Maybe that won't happen in the Joliet."

Mrs. Clarence Dale's trainer-husband thinks Maetown is the fastest thing on four legs in the country, but won't go on record until he matches him up with the kind of stars he will meet in the Joliet.

Bob McGarvey, trainer for Mrs. Ethel V. Mars, says, "I'm training some fast 2 year olds and I expect to start one or two of the best in our barn, but I might even make a mistake."

Heel In and On Location are the two he has in mind for the race.

Beau James Likely Choice.

A flock of others will start and a champion may be hiding himself away in this group, which includes Perimetric, owned by Dr. Eslie Asbury of Cincinnati; Tack Point, a Kentucky colt; Hello Cap, owned by Graham Brown of Louisville; Steady Don, the property of A. L. Ferguson of Lexington, and Rude Awakening, from the stable of Charles E. Hagyard of Lexington.

There will be others that never have faced the starter.

Beau James more than likely will be the favorite, Hello Cap the second choice, and Yale o' Nine the third choice.

Motor Yachts Start River Cruise Today

The Lake Michigan Yachting association's power squadron will start its fifth waterway cruise for motor yachts this morning at 8 o'clock from the Michigan avenue bridge. Nearly thirty cruisers will participate, Commodore Anthony J. Caliendo, regatta committee chairman, said last night.

Madray II., owned and piloted by Rear Commodore Raymond T. Greist, will lead the fleet as flagship. It is a 46 foot double cabin cruiser. Skipper Greist also is commander of the Chicago Yacht club's motor yacht fleet. Madray II. will run at 10 miles per hour on the 80 mile river trip.

Largest yacht in the cruise is the Aprentis, the 75 foot Diesel craft which was Commodore Caliendo's flagship of the Diversey Yacht club last year. It will be second in line.

Approximately 250 men, women, and children will make the cruise. The fleet will reach Ballard's island, a few miles upriver from Ottawa, Ill., this afternoon. Tomorrow there will be side runs by yachts, as well as shore trips by their crews. Sunday morning the fleet will line up for the return trip.

OLYMPIC BOARD REGRETS LOSING BINGHAM'S HELP

Avery Brundage, chairman of the American Olympic committee, last night said that the "relations of the United States with the Japanese government are quite outside the province of the American Olympic committee and in the hands of the state department in Washington."

In a statement replying to William J. Bingham, Harvard athletic director and chairman of the 1936 United States Olympic track and field committee, Brundage said the committee regrets it will not have the support of Bingham, who yesterday severed his connection with the 1940 games, awarded to Japan.

"Members of the American Olympic committee, like all civilized persons, abhor war," Brundage said, "but fortunately the American Olympic committee can do nothing to stop the present conflict in the orient. The committee is concerned solely with amateur sport. This is the only field where it has authority."

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

The sharpest break in prices since May, 1929, swept the nation's lamb markets yesterday. The severe decline was attributed to the heavy movement of southern lambs, mostly from Kentucky and Tennessee, to the principal distributing points in the east, which had been buying mostly on the Chicago market until recent shipments from the south began filling this demand.

The top for new crop lambs tumbled from $11.25 on the preceding session to $10.00 yesterday. General declines amounted to 50 to 75 cents. Eastern demand here was at low ebb, practically nothing being shipped out during the day.

Another rise of 5 to 10 cents brought the top for hogs to $9.10 yesterday, the highest sale since April 7. The average for the session at $8.70 showed a gain of 5 cents. It was the highest daily average since March 31. Weakness prevailed in the trade for many classes of cattle yesterday.

U. S. TO SETTLE TAX DISPUTES IN CHICAGO OFFICE

Will Decentralize Revenue Bureau.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 9.—Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr. today announced that as part of the program to decentralize the bureau of internal revenue from Washington a regional office for final adjudication of cases will be established at Chicago on Sept. 1.

The Chicago office will be set up as the exclusive representative of Commissioner of Internal Revenue Guy Helvering for the final determination of tax liabilities on income, profits, estate, and gift taxes for Illinois, Indiana, and Wisconsin. Branch offices will be set up at Indianapolis and Milwaukee, and possibly at Springfield, it was said.

Branches in New York State.

At the same time Morgenthau announced that an office will be set up at New York City with a branch office at Buffalo for New York state. He disclosed that the Pacific coast office, which was the first opened in connection with the decentralization plan, is to be transferred on July 1 from Los Angeles to San Francisco, but a coördinating office is to remain at Los Angeles.

"Because they can discuss their cases nearer home with accountants, engineers, and other specialists of the same caliber as were available in Washington, the tax payers have responded readily to the elimination of the inconvenience and expense of bringing their disputes to the capital, as was formerly the case," Morgenthau said. "Moreover, there are already indications of a decline in the number of cases carried to the board of tax appeals from the area where the field division of the technical staf has been operating."

Other Divisions Planned.

Commissioner Helvering, in a circular to officers and employés of the bureau of internal revenue today said that "if waranted by the results in the areas mentioned, additional divisions of the technical staf will ultimately be established in the remaining sections of the country."

The commissioner pointed out, however, that development of other divisions will not result in any large scale transfer of employés from the bureau to the field.

"Under any plan of decentralizing the settlement of cases involving contested tax liability," he said, "it will remain necessary for the bureau in Washington, in the interest of securing substantial uniformity of action in the field, to conduct a thorough post review of all field settlements, whether made by the technical staf or by the revenue agents in charge.

Bureau Will Supervise.

"Under such a plan the bureau will continue its supervision and control of certain limited types of cases. It will provide information and expert advice and service to the field, particularly in cases involving such questions as valuation and exemption from liability. The bulk of the personnel now assigned to the bureau in Washington will still be required here in the performance of these and other necessary functions."

The number of employés in the bureau at the present time, exclusive of those on the processing tax roll, is about 4,550. The best estimate which can now be made of the total number of employés whom it will be necessary or advisable to transfer from the bureau to the field in the event of the final complete decentralization of settlement work under the plan above outlined, is approximately 650.

ANNOUNCE RULES FOR NEW HIDE FUTURES TRADE

September, December, and March contracts will be posted for the initial trades in the raw hides futures market to be opened by the Chicago Mercantile exchange Monday morning, Lloyd S. Tenny, business manager, announced yesterday.

The basis of the Chicago contracts is standard No. 1, light native cows, July, August, and September take-off, with premiums or discounts, ranging to 1¼ cents a pound, for other varieties and grades. The trading unit is 40,000 pounds. Price changes will be registered in cents and hundreds of a cent per pound. The minimum fluctuation of one one-hundredth of a cent [a point] will equal $4.00 on a contract.

The exchange has set no limits between which prices of hide futures may fluctuate in any one day. The minimum margin required of customers is $400. Nonmember commissions will be $30 a contract.

STORES' SALES DIP 17 PER CENT BELOW YEAR AGO

Sales of 549 department stores in 261 cities last month were 17 per cent less than in May, 1937, the federal reserve board reported yesterday. Sales of the group for the first five months of the year were 10 per cent below a year ago.

Based on reports of ninety-two stores in thirty-six cities, sales in the Chicago federal reserve district fell 22 per cent in May and 15 per cent for the year to date. The showing for the year is poorest of any of the twelve reserve districts. Only the Philadelphia and Cleveland districts with 27 per cent and 24 per cent declines made poorer May showings.

Streamlined Century on Test Run

Train Makes Good in Test—No Jolt or Jar

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

In a test run to South Bend, Ind., yesterday, the New York Central railroad's Twentieth Century Limited upheld the claims of the builders—that there isn't a jolt or a jar in a ride. The Twentieth Century was assembled as a complete train, with all classes of equipment carried, for the first time.

No attempt was made for speed records. The train ran the 82 miles in 85 minutes and touching a speed of 92 miles an hour.

The easy riding qualities of this new train, which will go into 16 hour service between Chicago and New York on June 15, were attributed to specially designed trucks containing extra springs. Large couplers that lock tightly and twin cushioned draft gears eliminated the jolts and jars.

No Jerk at Start or Stop.

The train started yesterday so easily that its departure was not noticed, and as it glided to a stop, the final jerk of many conventional standard trains was lacking.

In motion, the train rode smoothly. Riding qualities were enhanced by the liberal use of rubber and cork in floors and by live rubber cushions on the seats. The easy riding was especially noticeable in the diners where the absence of jolts helped to avoid "slips between the cup and the lips."

The train was hauled by one of the new New York Central semi-streamlined locomotives which develop 4,700 horsepower at 75 miles an hour. The engines were said to be able to pull a Twentieth Century Limited with its full complement of thirteen cars at 120 miles an hour.

Both the de luxe passenger cars and the locomotives that will make up the Twentieth Century were built to cut down weight as much as possible. The cars are of high tensile steels and they weigh about two-thirds as much as present standard Pullman cars of equal size. Alloy steels are used in many parts of the locomotives to reduce weight. Cabs and runnings boards are made of aluminum.

Built by Pullman.

The Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing company built the equipment of the new Century and of its competitor on the 16 hour service to New York—the Pennsylvania railroad's new Broadway Limited.

Sleepers on these two trains are of bedroom type, with no open sections. The main differences between the two trains are in the arrangement of the public cars—the diners, observation cars, and club cars—and in the color. The New York Central and the Pennsylvania each employed its own designer to style the interiors of the club cars.

The Century on the exterior is painted gray, with trim of blue and silver, and the Broadway retains the Pennsylvania railroad's Tuscan red in two shades.

Tribute to New Service.

Mayor Kelly will pay official tribute to the new streamlined train service linking Chicago with New York at 11 o'clock on Monday morning in the city hall when he will present commemorative placques to H. E. Newcomet, vice president of the Pennsylvania railroad; W. F. Schaff, vice president of the New York Central; Charles A. Liddle, president of the Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing company, and D. A. Crawford, president of the Pullman company.

When the two new trains go into service Chicago for the first time will be linked with both the Atlantic and Pacific coasts with streamliners.

ILLINOIS SIXTH IN MAN-DAYS LOST BY STRIKES

With 99,355 workers involved in 272 labor disturbances last year Illinois stood sixth among principal industrial states in the total number of man-days idle during 1937 because of strikes, the Illinois Manufacturers' association reported yesterday.

The total for the state was 1,434,863 man-days idle. Most seriously affected by labor trouble, Ohio was first with 3,938,424 man-days lost. Michigan was second with 3,924,752 man-days idle. During 1937 354,399 workers were involved in 306 strikes in the latter state, or more than the total involved in any other state.

Chicago had 110 strikes with 31,749 workers involved and 452,803 man-days idle during the year, the association reported. Following are the records of the first six states:

State—	Number of strikes.	Workers involved.	Man-days idle.

JONES SAYS NO RAIL AID LIKELY AT THIS SESSION

Washington, D. C., June 9.—[Special.]—Jesse H. Jones, chairman of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, told reporters today after a visit at the White House that there is little likelihood of any legislation to help railroads being enacted at this session of congress.

He said the roads which are now having financial difficulties would be "left just where they are," and would have "to keep scratching, hoping for an upturn in trafic."

"It is pretty difficult for congress to agree on legislation affecting reorganization and other things," Jones said, "because hearings are required and there is no time left for that."

Representative Crosser [D., O.] said that representatives of the railroad brotherhoods had asked him to introduce a bill which would empower the President to operate the roads in the event of an emergency, such as a strike, threatening to disrupt the service.

U. S. May Drop Suits If Auto Firms Be Good

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 9.—Speaking before a convention of automotive trade association managers, Wendell Berge, special assistant attorney general in the anti-trust division, today offered to drop anti-trust charges against auto finance companies in return for promises to discontinue objectionable practices.

In the audience were several auto finance executives, who were named in the criminal indictments returned by a federal grand jury at South Bend, Ind., as a result of the investigation conducted by Berge. Attorneys for the executives and companies indicted for unfair trade practices have been working toward an agreement under which the federal action might be dropped.

Calls for Consent Decree.

Berge said the government would not press the charges if those named would give in return a consent decree embodying substantial public benefits and an agreement to stop practices protested by the government.

"The question is whether the department is waranted in dismissing criminal proceedings upon the agreement of the defendants to consent to an injunction which merely requires that they comply with the law," Berge said.

"The department takes the position that as a general rule a decree merely enjoining unlawful conduct cannot be recommended as the ground for dismissal of a criminal case. It is not enough merely to promise never to do it again.

Seeks Public Benefits.

"On the other hand, if a decree is tendered, which in addition to enjoining conduct unlawful anyway, confers substantial public benefits connected with the policy of maintaining free competition, then such a decree might justify either nolle prosse of the indictment or a suspended sentence after conviction.

"Criminal proceedings should not and will not be used to coerce the submission of consent decrees. When we embark on a criminal prosecution it is with the intention of going through with it. However, the department of justice is a public office. Its doors ought always to be open to persons with bonafide proposals which they believe are in the public interest."

TREASURY NOTE EXCHANGE PLAN 97 PCT. ACCEPTED

More than 97 per cent of the holders of $1,214,000,000 of treasury notes maturing on June 15 and Sept. 15 accepted the refunding securities offered them last Monday, Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau announced yesterday.

He said that the treasury department received acceptances for $912,000,000 of the new 2¾ per cent twenty to twenty-five year bonds and $263,000,000 of the new 1⅛ per cent five year notes. The treasury gave holders of both maturing issues the choice of exchanging the securities they held for either of the new securities. Holders of the old securities who do not choose to take the new ones will be paid off in cash.

AM. TELEPHONE HAS BIG DROP IN APRIL PROFITS

Other Firms' Net Incomes Lower.

American Telephone and Telegraph company yesterday reported a heavy drop in April net income, compared with that of April, 1937. The statement covered only activities of the parent company. Two units in the Bell system, Southwestern Bell Telephone company and the Bell Telephone company of Pennsylvania, showed moderate declines from last year in net earnings for April and the first four months of the year.

A net loss for the six months to April 30, against a profit in the corresponding period of the preceding year, was reported by the Hat Corporation of America.

Net income of American Telephone for April, according to figures filed with the Federal Communications commission, amounted to only $82,355, compared with $979,594 in April of last year.

Operating Income Lower.

Net operating income for the month amounted to $626,440, compared with $1,731,006 in April, 1937. These figures include operating activities only and are after taxes, but exclude interest, dividends, and other revenues received. Gross operating revenues declined to $8,394,304 in April from $9,014,403 in the corresponding month last year.

Bell Telephone of Pennsylvania's net income in April was down slightly, amounting to $978,758, compared with $987,516 in April, 1937. The four months' profit slipped to $3,589,878 from $3,902,215 last year.

Southwestern Bell's net income for April totaled $1,440,082 and for the four months $5,679,759 this year. These results were somewhat lower than those for 1937, when April net was $1,632,992, and the four months' profit amounted to $6,009,775.

Hat Corporation Loses.

The Hat corporation of America's net loss of $129,961 for the six months ended April 30 included a charge of $137,007, against earnings for reduction in inventory values. The total charge for this adjustment was $243,658, of which $106,461 was written off against reserves previously established. In the six months ended April 30, 1937, the company had net profit of $247,492.

Net loss of $11,444 for Pleasant Valley Wine company in the quarter to April 30, compared with a loss of $11,533 in the corresponding 1937 quarter. The company still had a profit for the six months ended April, 30, however, of $10,323, against a $36,063 profit in the corresponding six months of the preceding year.

An increase in net income of the theater operating companies of the Radio-Keith-Orpheum corporation for the first quarter of this year over the same period in 1937 was reported at a New York hearing on the amended reorganization plan. In the first thirteen weeks earnings were $507,154, against $328,000 a year ago.

Gasoline Price War Declared Serious Threat to Retailers

A gasoline price war among the retail dealers in the Chicago area which assumed large proportions during the last week has threatened to wipe out hundreds of dealers and throw many employès out of work, C. E. Ragan, president of the Gasoline Retailers of Metropolitan Chicago, asserted yesterday. The individual motorist, however, will gain by the price slashing, it was agreed.

Ragan said that an investigation indicated that nearly 90 per cent of the filling stations in the city and suburbs are selling at reduced rates or making a reduction in the way of premiums or discounts. Only a few, he said, are selling gasoline at 19½ cents a gallon, a price which has been in effect in most stations for about three months.

One Charges Only 15½ Cents.

The association head said that investigators who visited 78 dealers in one area on the north side reported that 37 sold regular gas at 17½ cents a gallon, 37 others sold gas at 16½ cents, three sold gas at 16 cents, and one dealer charged only 15½ cents. Ethyl gas was sold at corresponding reduction in prices, it was reported.

The price struggle started when many dealers reported a drop in gross sales in the last six weeks, compared with the same period last year, it was said. The cool weather was given as one of the causes. However, one of the large gasoline refiners reported gross sales during the first four months of this year showed an increase of approximately 3½ per cent over the same period last year. The figures of sales for May had not been compiled.

How Price Is Set.

The retail price of 19½ cents per gallon of gasoline appears to have been arrived at simultaneously by the city's retail dealers three months ago. Agreements to fix prices in most cases are illegal. Ragan said that the 19½ cent price was fixed by the individual dealers on data and information supplied by the association.

The tank wagon price of gasoline, including state and federal taxes, is 13.6 cents adding to this the state sales tax brings the total price paid by the dealer to approximately 14 cents. Ragan said that the average dealer must add 5½ cents a gallon to this price in order to make a profit.

Seeks to Correct Abuses.

Ragan said, there is no uniform retail price and that it is misleading to advertise gasoline at 2 or 3 cents off on a gallon. He asserted that the city and state authorities and the Chicago Better Business bureau will be appealed to correct such abuses. Dealers will be asked to post merely the retail price, he said.

The association will also go before the next regular session of the legislature and try to have the fair trade act amended to permit wholesalers or refiners to fix the retail price. Similar laws are in effect in California and New Jersey, Ragan said.

BANK CLEARINGS MAKE GAIN OVER PRECEDING YEAR

New York, June 9.—[Special.]—Bank clearings in the week ended yesterday exceeded last year's comparative figure for the first time in thirty weeks. The rise was due mainly—if not solely—to the unusually large amount of new issues floated.

Transactions for twenty-two leading cities, according to Dun & Bradstreet, amounted to $5,887,185,000, against $5,552,249,000 for the same 1937 week, a gain of 6 per cent. This contrasted with a drop of 23.1 per cent in the similar comparison for the June 1 week.

Philadelphia and Chicago also reported larger clearings this week than a year ago. Chicago's increase to $329,200,000 represented a gain of 6 per cent over $310,700,000 last year.

The biggest factor in the New York City rise, which resulted in lifting the nation's total above last year's, was the total of $225,000,000 issues placed on the market.

OLD INSULL UNIT NOTEHOLDERS TO GET $918,365

Equals 4¾ Per Cent of Claims.

Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson yesterday ordered the distribution of $918,365 to the noteholders of the Corporation Securities company of Chicago, bankrupt Insull investment company. The payment will be the first since the company was placed in receivership in April, 1932, and represents 4¾ per cent of claims of the noteholders which amount to approximately $19,000,000.

A further small distribution may be made to the noteholders after administration expenses and fees of the bankruptcy and receivership are paid. The only funds available for payment of the noteholders' claims consists of $1,200,000 recovered by Trustee Sam Howard from the New York and Chicago bank creditors who had possession of virtually all the company's assets when it was placed in receivership. The funds were turned over by the banks in full settlement of the claims of other creditors to the bank collateral.

Judge Wilkerson set Dec. 31, 1942, as the last date for filing of noteholders' claims and designated the Chicago Title and Trust company as depository for the funds to be distributed. He approved a fee of $12,500 and expenses of $727 to the depository company.

He also allowed certain other fees and expenses in connection with the bankruptcy including $13,500 to Ashman, Reedy & Currier, accountants for the trustee, $5,000 fee and $4,441 expenses to George J. McGhie Jr., secretary of the noteholders' committee, and $3,227 to Trustee Howard for expenses incurred as trustee and $102 for expenses incurred as receiver of the company before bankruptcy action was begun.

Standing Firm in the Crisis of 1873

PRESS COMMENT

Chicago Tribune, September 27, 1873—

"At ten o'clock yesterday morning it was announced from the Clearing-House that, on account of the extraordinary situation, no deposits would for the present be received and no checks would be paid by the following banks: Union National Bank, Cook County National Bank, Second National Bank, Manufacturers' National Bank, National Bank of Commerce.

"At the First National Bank the business was quietly conducted, as during the past week. Mr. L. J. Gage, the courtsous Cashier, was serene, and dispatching business with an unruffled temper. To the ubiquitous Tribune reporter, Mr. Gage said he saw no more real occasion for alarm and panic than had been safely bridged over during the week, and, indeed, the bridge so bravely built had crossed them over to the land of promise. The temporary suspension of the banks in the city he considered ill-advised, and the effect had doubtless been damaging, but not disastrous. The action taken by the 'suspenders' would not jerk other banks off solid footing, and Chicago business would be maintained by the solidity of her institutions. The First National was prepared to meet all obligations."

Chicago Tribune, September 28, 1873—

"Immediately after the confirmed report of the suspension of the Third National, which somewhat startled the public, there was a rumor of a heavy intended run on the First National, and some apprehension was realized as to the ability of this bank to stem the tide. True enough, the demand at the counter of the First National grew strong, but there was nothing like the semblance of a panicky run. After banking hours, a reporter of The Tribune conversed with the accomplished and cool-headed cashier, Mr. L J. Gage, and the substance of the information derived from this Gentleman may thus be briefly summarized: The so-called 'run' on the bank had not amounted to anything serious, and was not precipitated by resident depositors or country correspondents. Checks have been promptly paid on presentation, and such payments had to a small extent exceeded the amounts of deposits during the day. The result was that the amount of actual currency on hand had been somewhat reduced since the opening of the bank in the morning, but they had closed business with a large surplus, and were abundantly able to meet all legitimate demands they could foresee."

New York Stocks.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 9.—Breaking out of its recent lethargy, the stock market staged a good recovery this afternoon, with the leaders advancing 1 point or so and volatile issues climbing as much as 4 points. The late advance followed a narrowly irregular forenoon trend.

A buying flurry in the fourth hour was mainly responsible for the day's gains, with traders adopting a cautious tone in the final hour so that the advance did not get out of hand. The list broadened considerably, with 442 issues closing higher, 99 lower, and 134 unchanged from preceding finals.

Chief reasons for the improvement, according to observers, were the likelihood of the adjournment of congress early next week, as intimated by Majority Leader Barkley, and the persistent strength in commodity prices.

Another factor, it was suggested in some circles, was the possibility that inflation psychology was beginning to exert itself, having received an impetus with President Roosevelt's signing of the road building bill. The better attention accorded gold mining stocks was regarded as giving weight to the latter suggestion. Dome Mines and Homestake were favored, each gaining well over 1 point, and Alaska Juneau and others ruled firm.

Aviation issues profited most in the fourth hour buying splurge. Douglas, Boeing, and Glenn Martin each contributed gains of around 1½ points.

Steel shares displayed difficulty in getting started but gained momentum later and made substantial gains. United States Steel common and Bethlehem were leaders, advancing 1 and 1½ points respectively.

Motors turned active on intimations that there would not be a complete shutdown at the plants this summer.

Interest in the public utility group expanded on the rise and leaders made moderate gains.

New York Bonds.

New York, June 9.—(AP)—Bonds advanced with other leading markets today and finished with a considerable number of moderate gains.

Progress was slow until near the close because rails were backward. As the result of last minute demand, however, many of the carriers not only canceled sizable losses but finished a little ahead. Some inactive rails remained in the rut for losses of 1 to around 5 points.

A few United States governments pushed ahead to new highs for the year and low yield corporate bonds gained fractions. Treasury issues recorded several gains ranging from 1-32d to 13-32ds.

Chicago Stocks.

Higher prices prevailed yesterday on the Chicago Stock exchange, although trading interest, except in Commonwealth Edison rights, continued light. Thirty of the sixty-three issues traded closed higher, fourteen were lower, and nineteen unchanged. Volume totaled 60,000 shares, of which 49,300 were Edison rights, compared with Wednesday's volume of 55,000 shares, including 49,000 rights.

The Tribune average of twenty stocks finished yesterday at 8.25, the highest close since May 19, when it was 8.36 at the close.

Edison rights ranged from 24 to 32 cents and finished at 31, up 6 cents for the day. Middle West capital stock, the trading favorite with sales of 1,400 shares, advanced ¼ to 6, and Commonwealth Edison stock was up ⅜ at 25⅜. Marshall Field gained ⅛, closing at 7⅝.

Bank Stocks.

Continental Illinois National bank stock advanced $1 a share and First National was up $2 a share yesterday, but Harris Trust and Savings shares were quoted $8 lower. Other principal Chicago bank stocks were unchanged.

Commodities

Commodity prices in many lines moved higher yesterday in a surge of speculative buying. The upswing appeared to be influenced by inflationary prospects which traders found in the federal government's spending and lending recovery program. Expectations of increased spending for relief and public works and the expansion in the supply of bank credit were regarded as inflationary factors which may bring a new climb in commodity prices.

Rubber futures made one of the largest gains of the day, closing 0.30 to 0.33 cent a pound higher. Spot rubber gained 0.34 cent. Cocoa and hides gained ⅛ to ¼ cent a pound each. Cotton, after rising 0.19 to 0.21 cent a pound, reacted but closed 0.12 to 0.13 cent higher.

Copper futures finished 0.07 to 0.13 cent a pound higher, lead contracts gained 0.03 to 0.07 cent and tin moved up 0.05 cent. Export copper ranged between 8.67 and 8.73 cents a pound, selling in about the same range as Wednesday. Spot tin moved up ⅛ cent a pound to 38.75 cents, and domestic copper, lead and zinc were unchanged.

Cocoa futures gained 0.18 to 0.22 cent a pound. The July closing price was 4.41 cents. Cottonseed oil contracts rose 0.07 to 0.19 cent a pound. The July contract finished at 7.97 cents.

Domestic sugar futures gained 0.01 to 0.03 cent a pound on heavy buying by the trade and commission houses promoted by an expectation of improved demand for refined sugar.

Raw hides futures closed 0.14 to 0.22 cent higher on sales of 4,440,000 pounds.

Trading in coffee contracts was confined largely to switches between future months. Santos opened 0.03 cent a pound lower and closed 0.01 cent higher to 0.01 cent lower.

FORMER JUDGE TELLS HOW HE SCOUTED TRUSTS

Mancuso Testifies at 'Looting' Hearing.

Francis X. Mancuso.

New York, June 9.—(AP)—Francis X. Mancuso, who resigned a judgeship here while under investigation in the failure of a bank of which he was chairman, testified at a securities and exchange commission hearing here today of his part in arranging sales of investment trusts to men now accused of looting them.

Mancuso told how he and a broker friend, Lorimer A. Davidson, split many thousands in commissions in the sales of three of the trusts, Insurance Shares corporation of Delaware, Bond and Share Trading corporation, and Burco, Inc.

Didn't Know Source of Cash.

Although the purchasers, three Boston lawyers, Thomas H. Morris, Ralph H. Robb, and S. Leo Solomont, now under indictment, put up cash payments totaling more than $800,000 within a few months last winter, Mancuso believed the money came from their personal fortunes and not from the portfolios of the purchased trusts, he said.

He first testified he became interested when he was told Vincent E. Ferretti, New York lawyer, also indicted, represented a group of wealthy men who wished to buy investment trusts, he testified. Mancuso said he was told the Dodge Brothers and the Fisher Brothers, figures in the automobile world, were interested, but never had any evidence it was true.

Scouted for Trusts.

Davidson also testified that while he had scouted around looking for investment trusts that could be sold to the Boston trio he had found several they did not buy.

One of these, he said, was Investors' syndicate of Minneapolis, a large trust with assets Schenker estimated at around $130,000,000 currently. Schenker painstakingly said for the record that none of his questions nor Davidson's replied were to be construed as reflecting upon the condition of Investors' Syndicate.

A Cleveland broker, Davidson testified, told him that the "control block" of stock in Investors' Syndicate could not be purchased for $4,000,000 from the late John R. Ridgway, organizer of the trust, who recently died. The three Bostonians, however, told Davidson they could not provide that amount, he said.

R. R. YOUNG LOSES INJUNCTION SUIT IN C. & O. FIGHT

New York, June 9.—(AP)—The United States Circuit Court of Appeals tonight handed down a unanimous decision denying a temporary injunction to Robert R. Young, chairman of Alleghany corporation, against Guaranty Trust company. The action was brought many weeks ago in a fight for control of Chesapeake and Ohio railway, later settled by a truce.

By virtue of the denial of the injunction, Guaranty, in control, as trustee of a majority of Chesapeake corporation stock, will be enabled if it chooses, to enlarge the Chesapeake directorate to such an extent that Young's control, exercised through Alleghany corporation, will be nullified.

Carl E. Newton, attorney for Young, and Theodore Kiendl, counsel for the bank, agreed that a postponed special meeting of Chesapeake corporation, at which Young had said Guaranty would try to oust him, will be held next Tuesday at Baltimore.

Elevator Men to Confer with Federal Officials

A group of grain elevator men from wheat producing states, including several from the Chicago area, left for Washington last night to confer with department of agricultural officials on plans for storing wheat under the proposed wheat loan program. The opinion was expressed among elevator men in Chicago that the proposed lower storage rates announced last Tuesday by public elevators that are members of the Chicago Board of Trade would make elevators here more attractive to wheat producers who store grain under the loan program.

Everyday Economics

[Registered U. S. Patent Office.]

Slightly Over $25,000.

The new federal tax law permits a corporation with net income of slightly more than $25,000 to compute its tax by either of two methods, paying whichever figure is lower. The income is divided into two parts, the first being $25,000, and the second the excess over that figure. To the first $25,000 is allocated, first, any income from certain government obligations, then domestic dividend income, and finally, other net income. Any excess over $25,000 in total income is allocated to the second division.

The tax rate applicable to corporations having net income of less than $25,000 is applied to the first division of profits—a tax of $3,525. On net in excess of $25,000 a rate of 12 per cent is then applied to income from dividends received, and a rate of 32 per cent is applied to all other income in the second division.

When these three tax computations are added, the total is the tax payable if it is less than would be paid under the ordinary rates applicable to corporations with net income in excess of $25,000.

WHEAT MOUNTS ON REPORTS OF LIGHTER YIELDS

Messages Also Tell of Rust Damage.

CHICAGO GRAIN FUTURES

	Yesterday.	Tuesday.	Yr. ago.
Wheat	$ .74⅞	$ .72½	$1.10¼
Corn	.57⅞	.56⅝	1.13⅞
Oats	.26¼	.26¼	.39⅝
Rye	.53⅜	.51⅜	.86⅝
Soy beans	.86¼	.85¾	1.47

Pessimistic crop reports from widely scattered sections of the domestic wheat belt boosted wheat futures about 2 cents a bushel on the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday. The unfavorable crop news induced a fairly large amount of speculative buying, traders said.

After opening a little higher as the result of strength in the Liverpool market, prices turned sharply upward before midmorning as reports of poor yields and rust damage were received. A scramble by short sellers to cover commitments forced prices up about 1½ cents a bushel in a few minutes at one stage of trading.

Speculative Buying Increases.

The brisk rise brought in a fairly good volume of buying both by outside speculators and local traders. Despite minor setbacks on profit taking the advance was fairly well maintained. Closing prices, although moderately under the best levels of the session, were 1⅞ to 2¼ cents a bushel above the preceding close. December wheat, oats, and rye made new highs for the season.

Better demand from cash houses and millers for wheat futures also was reported. Some traders believed this indicated a revival of interest in grain by large consumers. Offerings of wheat were very light at some periods during the day, thereby enabling prices to rise easily.

Much Adverse Crop News.

Corn closed ⅜ to ⅝ cent a bushel higher. Trading was generally light and the moderate advance was attributed mostly to short covering, induced by strength in wheat. A little buying was done by a house which handles some export business.

Oats closed ¼ cent a bushel higher to ⅛ cent lower. Rye climbed 1 to 2 cents a bushel and soy beans closed ½ to 2 cents a bushel higher.

AGREE ON BASIS OF POWER CHANGE FOR BIG USERS

The Commonwealth Edison company and large users of electrical power in the loop have arrived at a satisfactory agreement on the changeover from direct to alternating current, it was announced yesterday by James M. Slattery, chairman of the Illinois commerce commission. Since 1920 the Edison company has been gradually making the shift to alternating current, leaving the big loop users until last because the scrapping of their direct current equipment would be too costly.

A controversy arose when the company directed some of these users to make the switch in a 90 day period. Under the new agreement, six months' notice of the change must be given the users and the Edison company will pay a larger share of the cost of the change than heretofore.

Consolidated Cigar.

Investors' Guide: Kindly send me information on the Consolidated Cigar corporation.—M. D. B.

Answer: The Consolidated Cigar corporation manufactures a line of cigars sufficiently diversified to include the preferences of most smokers. Sales are largely concentrated, however, in the low priced brands, particularly during depression periods.

Five-cent brands sold by the company include "New Bachelor", "44", "Henry George", and "Harvester". In the medium priced field the company markets "El Producto", "Dutch Masters", "El Sidelo", "Mozart" and "Adlon" brands.

Consolidated Cigar has 12 factories, about half of them owned and the remainder leased. The bulk of manufacturing operations, however, are concentrated in eight factories. Production costs have been reduced by substitution of machinery for hand labor in all factories.

The company raises most of its own cigar wrappers and also produces part of its own binder requirements. The remainder of tobaccos used are purchased in the open market.

Net income for the first quarter of this year rose to $136,732, equal to $1.79 a 6½ per cent prior preferred share, or 58 cents a 7 per cent preferred share, from $126,442, or $1.59 a prior preferred share, in the corresponding period a year ago.

For all of 1937, net income was $892,574, or 93 cents a common share, compared with net income of $813,038, or 54 cents a common share, in 1936; $545,153, or 36 cents a preferred share, in 1935; $485,788, or $5.72 a prior preferred share, in 1933, and $3,601,793, or $10.60 a common share, in 1928.

Consolidated Cigar has outstanding 76,224 shares of $100 par 6½ per cent prior preferred stock, 22,159 shares of $100 par 7 per cent preferred, and 250,000 shares of no par common. A 75 cent payment was made on the common in January. This was the first common dividend since 1932. No dividends have since been declared.

Total assets were $16,041,277 at the end of 1937. Current assets were $14,335,297 and current liabilities were $765,392.

Despite the strong financial position and the higher earnings in the first quarter of this year, the preferred shares must be regarded as somewhat speculative and the common stock as more so until general business conditions improve. Demand for higher priced cigars, on which profit margins are larger, usually dwindles during a depression.

CALL MEETINGS FOR ALLEGHANY, LUDLUM MERGER

Stockholders Given Details of Plan.

New York, June 9.—(AP)—Details of the proposed merger of the Alleghany Steel company and the Ludlum Steel company were set forth in letters mailed tonight to stockholders, and special meetings were called by both companies for Aug. 10 for ratification of the plan.

There is no financing involved in the merger and, when it becomes effective, the authorized common stock capitalization of the new company—which will be known as the Alleghany Ludlum Steel company—will be 1,350,000 shares of common stock, made up of the present authorized 850,000 shares of capital stock of Alleghany and the present capital stock of Ludlum amounting to 500,000 shares.

Preferred Stock Retained.

The 33,426 issued shares of preferred stock of Alleghany Steel will continue as part of the capitalization of the new company.

Upon the effective date of the merger the holders of shares of the capital stock of Ludlum and Alleghany will be entitled to receive one share of common stock of the new company for each share already held in either or both companies.

W. F. Detwiler, president of Alleghany, is slated to be chairman of the new company, and Hiland G. Batcheller, president of Ludlum, is slated to be president. The board will consist of nineteen members, of whom twelve will represent Alleghany interests and the balance those of Ludlum.

Assets Near 32 Millions.

Based on consolidated balance sheets of both companies as of Dec. 31, 1937, the merger will result in a company with fixed assets, after depreciation, of $17,790,519, and with total assets of $31,815,060. Combined current assets of -13,218,516 would be compared with combined current liabilities of $3,186,506, indicating working capital of about $10,032,010.

The letters to stockholders pointed out that while both companies are producers of stainless alloys, there is little duplication of equipment or of finished products.

STOCK EXCHANGE STUDIES WIDER TRADE IN BONDS

New York, June 9.—(AP)—An extensive study of bond trading, particularly proposals for broadening the bond market on the stock exchange, was launched today in the second of the newly started "round table" conferences between representatives of the federal Securities and Exchange commission and the stock exchange.

After the conference it was announced committees would be organized to represent institutional investors—mainly banks, insurance companies and trust institutions—investment bankers and the exchange. These committees, it was said, would undertake inquiry into various aspects of bond trading with the aim of making recommendations to the commission.

The objective was described as a "bond market that will be most serviceable to the investing interests of the country." Banking interests pledged coöperation after brief addresses by SEC and stock exchange leaders.

MARSHALL FIELD OMITS DIVIDENDS ON PREFERREDS

Seek to Conserve Cash Due to Uncertainty.

Marshall Field & Co. announced omission of dividends on its preferred and prior preferred stocks yesterday, and the Schenley Distillers corporation and three other companies passed common dividends. In the long list of usual dividends declared were those of several banks, but the Bank of Manhattan company announced a reduction in its July 1 payment.

Officials of Marshall Field said directors believed the interests of stockholders would be served best by conserving cash resources, in the light of present unsettled business conditions and general uncertainties as to the future. This, it was said, will permit the company to take advantage of any improvemen that may occur in business conditions.

Operates at Profit.

The company also announced that it operated at a profit in April and May and showed an operating profit of $381,815 for the first quarter of the year, as previously reported.

Most recent dividends on the two issues were the regular $1.75 and $1.50 quarterly payments on the prior preferred and preferred, respectively.

Schenley's passing of the second quarter dividend comes after the March 31 payment was cut to 50 cents, from 75 cents on Dec. 24. The company declared its regular preferred dividend.

J. Stewart Baker, chairman of the Bank of Manhattan said regarding the cut in its 37½ cents quarterly rate, "Everyone knows that not only have interest rates declined steadily since Jan. 1 but also the volume of loans has decreased materially. In view of the uncertain existing conditions, the directors felt the conservative course was to pay only 20 cents per share for the quarter."

Three other common dividend omissions were by American Stove company, Indiana Steel Products, and General Paint corporation.

OLD INSULL UNIT NOTEHOLDERS TO GET $918,365

Equal to 4¾ Per Cent of Aggregate Claims.

in receivership with Corporation Securities, have received no payment so far. The trustee is holding approximately $4,500,000 recovered from the bank creditors of which about $4,000,000 is expected to be paid in settlement of debenture holders' claims aggregating $57,000,000. The remaining $500,000 is expected to be eaten up by administrative expenses and other costs in connection with the bankruptcy.

Earlier yesterday Judge Wilkerson set June 20 for a hearing on a motion by Samuel Insull, Samuel Insull Jr. and four officials of Halsey, Stuart & Co. asking that certain parts of a report recently submitted to the court be stricken from the record. The report was filed by Garfield Charles, special referee in bankruptcy, who has been holding hearings on claims filed in connection with bankruptcy cases of the Insull companies.

Protest Attorney's Charges.

The parts of the report protested by Insull and the others consisted of testimony given before Charles by Attorney Carroll J. Lord, who condemned the Insull management of the companies, charging that false statements had been issued and stock prices artificially inflated. Attorneys Floyd E. Thompson and Charles Lounsbury, counsel respectivel[illegible] the Insull and Halsey-Stuart [illegible] asserted that Charles' rep[illegible] "slanderous."

Attorney Russel Locke, a[illegible]ate of Lord, who was not in [illegible] told Judge Wilkerson that when hearing on the motion to expunge comes up for hearing, he will show "that everything testified to by Attorney Lord was necessary and germaine to the issue."

May Question Settlement.

Judge Wilkerson intimated that if charges made by Attorney Lord are true the court may find it necessary to "question whether the settlement with the banks was sufficient."

Judge Wilkerson said he would withhold final ruling on fees in the bankruptcy cases because a conflict has developed between Attorney Lord, Charles H. Hamill, counsel for the trustee of Insull Utility, and Attorney Lewis F. Jacobson, counsel for certain complainants in the suits against the bank creditors. The conflict is on the question of who deserves chief credit for forcing the settlement with the banks and who should get the principal remuneration.

BROKERS' LOANS ARE BOOSTED BY NEW YORK BANKS

An increase of 242 million dollars in loans to brokers and dealers in the week ended Wednesday was reported yesterday by New York banks. The increase, the largest reported in several months, was believed to be chiefly borrowings made in connection with the new financing.

Commercial bank loans declined both in New York and Chicago last week, the New York banks reporting a decrease of 16 millions and Chicago banks showing a drop of 6 millions. New York banks added 146 millions to their holdings of government bonds and guaranteed obligations, but Chicago banks showed no change in such holdings.

Surplus reserve funds of all member banks of the federal system increased another 70 millions last week to 2 billion 640 millions as a result of the treasury's pursuance of its easy money policy. Gold imports of 22 millions were reported.
